Kindergarten Class Enjoys Field Trip

Last Tuesday morning, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Evelyn Lockard brought the Walton Kindergarten Class to the Advertiser office to see just how a weekly newspaper is set up and printed.

Following the visit to the Advertiser, the children were taken next door to Darl-Delitte, where Mr. Dixon showed them how he makes the ice cream they all like so much. Each child was given a treat of ice cream.

One young man had ice cream on his mind when the class was touring the newspaper plant, and after looking everything over, he asked, "Where do you make the ice cream?"

Henry Sleet, custodian at First Baptist Church, where the Kindergarten classes are held, transported the children in the church bus.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

For a time now I shall continue a question and answer type of column. The School Board Journal and the Department of Education News has opinions from the Attorney General's office, as well as the State Board of Education regulations and rulings presented in this manner. Many of these are very vital and will answer many important questions that the lay public might have relative to teacher contracts, school finance, bids on supplies, transportation, school discipline, etc. In doing this I shall attempt to gather questions and answers dealing with the items that may be the most frequently discussed topics at the time. At the present teacher tenure contracts, position, etc. are being discussed in many districts and the following Attorney General rulings may clarify some questions—

QUESTION: (OAG65-724) — A teacher who has taught 18 years in the middle and upper elementary grades has been notified that she will be assigned to a teaching position in the program grades. This teacher holds a Master's Degree and is an elementary education major.

ANSWER: The issue presented is whether this teacher may be reassigned to a teaching position in the primary grades. KRS 161.760 (2) provides that the superintendent, with the approval of the board, shall employ, assign, and transfer teachers within the school district. Since the teacher in question is qualified to teach in the primary grades she may be assigned to this teaching position without reference to the teaching positions she has held in prior years.

QUESTION: (OAG65-573)—What are the statutory provisions which govern the reduction of a teacher's salary following a decrease in her official duties and responsibilities?

ANSWER: It was the opinion of this office in OAG65-454 that KRS 161.760 (2) provides that a teacher may be reassigned to any position for which she is qualified without reference to the teaching position she has held in prior years. Furthermore, we advised that KRS 161.760 (1) has been revised to permit the reduction of a teacher's salary where there has been "a reduction or elimination of extra services, administrative and/or supervisory duties and responsibilities...." However, it should be noted that if a corresponding reduction in salary is to accompany such a reduction in duties and responsibilities, a written notification setting forth the reasons for such reduction must be furnished the teacher not later than May 15, KRS 161.760(2).

QUESTION: (OAG65-616) — I taught one year in a county school system and I have been notified that my services will not be needed for the coming school year. What are my rights under the teacher tenure law?

ANSWER: Under the provisions of KRS 161.740 (1) (b) a teacher cannot acquire tenure in a school system unless she has taught a minimum of four years in the same district. Therefore, a board of education would have discretion as to whether they wish to issue her further contracts, regardless of her educational background and number of years previous experience under limited contracts.

However, it should be noted that KRS 161.750 (2) provides: "Any teacher employed under a limited contract and ineligible for a continuing contract shall at the expiration of such contract be deemed reemployed under the provisions of KRS 161.720 to 161.810 for the succeeding school year at the same salary plus any increase or decrease as provided by the salary schedule, unless the employing board shall give such teacher 'written notice on or before the 15th day of May' of the intention not to reemploy him. Such teacher shall be presumed to have accepted such employment, unless he shall notify the board of education in writing to the contrary on or before the 15th day of June, or a written contract for the succeeding year shall be executed accordingly." (Emphasis added).

John J. Moloney For Congress

Post Editorial

In Washington

John J. Moloney has served Covington intelligently and articulately as a mayor.

He has served Kenton County with those same qualities in the State Senate.

And he performed with equal skill in his appearance in behalf of northern Kentucky in urging appropriation of funds for Falmouth Dam.

He spoke with a grasp of history, knowledge of present conditions and a sense of the future in stressing need for the dam.

Topsoil washed away from flooding streams can't be replaced, and the importance of water conservation and control can't be overemphasized.

As Mr. Moloney so aptly pointed out, the unchecked and recurrent floods already are taking their toll. Nature is extracting her penalty.

We've endorsed Mr. Moloney's candidacy for Democratic nomination for Congress, in part for just such a grasp of reality and such ability to express it as he showed in this Washington appearance.

We also endorse his position in urging an end to the years of procrastination on this vital project.

Serving as Senator from Kenton County in the 1966 assembly of the Kentucky Legislature, John J. Moloney was selected by newspapermen as the "Most Valuable Senator in the Public's Interest."

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I understand that in order for a veteran to use VA hospital facilities for a non-service-connected disability he must signify that he is unable to pay for the service required. Is this right?

A—For a veteran to be treated in a Veterans Administration hospital for a non-service-connected disability, first it must be determined by a doctor that the veteran needs hospitalization, secondly a bed must be available and third the veteran must state that he could not afford to pay for this treatment in a private hospital.

Q—Is it true that a veteran who has received a service-connected disability payment for more than 20 years cannot have it taken away from him? My husband received a service-connected disability of 20 per cent in 1945. He was told that after 20 years he could not have his disability taken away from him and also that it could not be reduced. Is this correct?

A—If a veteran has had a service-connected disability for 20 years, the service-connection will not be taken away from him unless it was obtained through fraud and his compensation cannot be reduced below the lowest per cent that he held during that 20-year period.

Q—Are compensation or pension payments for a veteran's child discontinued at age 18?

A—Payments for the benefit of a child may be continued to age

- 1—EDUCATION: Encourage a strong, effective educational system at the local level and grant tax credits to families with college students.
- 2—HEALTH: Federal assistance to hospitals to ease the rush which Medicare will cause.
- 3—POVERTY: Re-evaluate the poverty program as it now exists demanding effective administration, insuring that funds actually reach and help the needy, while eliminating waste.

What foods from the freezer will your family need this coming year? How much of each will they need? How much freezer space will you have available?

An inventory of the foods in your home freezer, will answer these questions and help you plan to make the best use of freezer space for fruits, vegetables, meats and prepared foods. Planning ahead enables you to freeze the right amount of the different foods when they are in season or when stores offer money-saving specials. Keeping a good record of what, when and how much food you freeze is the first rule of good home freezer management, and the first step toward making your freezer "pay." An accurate, up-to-date inventory of all foods in your freezer is usually much more reliable than your memory.

Right now, before you start freezing fruits and vegetables, is a good time to make sure just what's in your freezer. If you've been keeping a perpetual inventory of your frozen foods, check it for accuracy. If you haven't kept such a list, make one now before the freezing season begins, and then keep it up to date. The list of "what" is in your freezer can remind you just what you have on hand and help you plan more interesting meals for your family.

The how much record tells you the approximate amount of each food to freeze this year...whether to freeze more, less or about the same. For example, if you have 12 quarts of beans left over from last year, when it's time to freeze beans again this summer, you'll know to freeze about 12 quarts fewer this year. However, if all the beans were gone from your freezer long before winter ended, you'll need to freeze more this year than you did last summer. Freeze the foods you need and use often for the best use of your freezer. If your family doesn't like a certain food, freezing a lot of it is a waste of time. Your freezer inventory will show what foods were most popular, that is, most used, for family meals during the past year.

When you need peaches from the freezer, check your inventory for the oldest peaches. Then you will know what date to look for on the packages of peaches in the freezer. Remember that every freezer container should be labeled with "what's in it" and the date frozen. Write down everything you put in and marking off everything you take out of the freezer is the secret to keeping the inventory up to date.

This is also a good time to check your freezing supplies. Make a list of what you need and buy these items now...don't wait until the day you plan to start freezing summer fruits and vegetables.

The 1966-68 State budget allots $20,000 to the TB Hospital Commission to expand tuberculosis testing programs in 1966-67 and also $60,000 for the program's continuation in 1967-68. The funds will provide for almost one-half million skin tests in Kentucky during the two-year period.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Clason

Do you know how to tell termites from ants? The two are often confused, for they look somewhat similar. Since spring is the time that termites swarm and thus warn homemakers of their presence, here are four pointers for recognizing these pests.

You can tell the difference between winged adult termites and ants by checking their wings. Termites have two pair of wings of equal length. Ants also have two pair of wings, but one pair is longer than the other.

Three other ways to tell the difference can be used either for the winged adults or the wingless less workers. The termite has a thick waist, while the ant's waistline is thin. You can spot an ant's eyes easily, but no eyes are visible on a termite. The antennae also should be noticed. The ant's antennae have "elbows" in them while the termite's do not.

If you see termites swarming in or around your home in future weeks, take advantage of the warning. The swarms mean there are termites in the neighborhood. What you see are some of the reproductive members of a colony looking for a new place to settle down, and they may pick your home as a likely spot.

When you see swarms of insects that you think are termites, check a few of them by the guides given above to make sure. If they are termites, not ants, find immediately if your home has a termite infestation. If so, start control measures as soon as possible.

Locating any termite colony and getting rid of it is a difficult job, requiring the help of a trained, well-equipped pest control operator. Be sure to select an established firm to check your house for termites and do necessary control work.

SKIN ITCH DON'T SCRATCH IT!

Scratching spreads infection. Apply quick-drying ITCH-ME-NOT instead. Antiseptic action helps speed healing. No time for eczema, insect bites, foot itch, other surface rashes. If drug store. TODAY at Brakfield's Drug Store, Walton

Why put agricultural limestone on farm land? It makes nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium more available to growing crops. It also speeds decay of organic matter, and supplies calcium and magnesium needed by all growing plants. Liming acid soils should be the first step in a soil fertility program. It gives farmers larger benefits from plant nutrients already in the soil, as well as larger returns for fertilizers applied.

A more finely ground limestone should be available to Kentucky farmers this spring for quicker and bigger results and liming land that doesn't need it is expensive and will make nutrients unavailable to crops just as a lack of limestone will do.

Soil tests to determine plant needs, buying higher analysis grades, and applying the right amounts of limestone to your land is highly recommended.

PINER CLEVER CLOVERS

A recent meeting of the Piner Clever Clovers 4-H Club was held in the meeting room at the Piner-Fiskburg Fire House.

The meeting was called to order by the president who asked all to stand and give the pledge to the 4-H and American flags, which was followed by two songs.

Roll call and minutes of the previous meeting were taken care of and the treasurer gave her report.

In old business, the president asked for a report on the skating party, which several members attended. All reported having a good time. A discussion was held again on Rally Day.

Mr. Morgan, assistant agent, presented the club with the "Club of the Month" award for February and we were very glad to accept it.

We discussed the Dress Revue, which was held May 13 at Taylor Mill School.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess, Brenda Smith, after which the electric project was worked on with the assistance of Mr. Morgan. Leaders had a round-table discussion with the girls on Teen-Time Grooming and the Clothing Project.

Members present were Mike Daniels, Brenda Smith, Cindy Stone, Rhonda LaFollette, Sue Fisk and Beverly Martin; leaders Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. LaFollette, and Assistant Agent Morgan.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Sue Fisk.

Buyer, Be Wise,

BEWARE!

By Robert Matthews, Attorney General

On request of your Attorney General, the 1966 Legislature passed an act to prohibit chain-referral sales schemes in Kentucky.

Kentucky is one of the first states to protect the buyer from this vicious sales entrapment, which ranks among the top three consumer "gyps" in the United States today.

Earmarks of these schemes usually are:

1. Door to door sales.
2. Prices higher than standard brands.
3. Commissions for recommending your friends.
4. Hints that you can make extra money.
5. High pressure tactics to "sign the paper."

The paper you sign is an installment sales contract which commits you to "pay" whether you earn any commissions or not. All chain-referral schemes end somewhere. If you buy, it may end with you.

Promptly report any schemes to your Attorney General, Frankfort, Kentucky.

Hold those dreams high, young man. And stay South to see them come true. For the South is a great and fast-growing opportunity-land where your ambitious dreams can become reality.

U. S. Government reports show that since World War II, the South has outpaced the nation in 34 of 37 economic activities. Along Southern Railway lines alone from 1950 through 1965, businessmen invested nearly $8 billion in more than 5,000 major industrial developments, providing more than 285,000 new job opportunities.

Look ahead — stay South, young man. Stay South and grow with America's fast-growing opportunity-land!

Affluent Society

Lesson for May 22, 1966

Background Scriptures: Kings 14:23-29, Amos 4:1-13, 24, 6:1-7, 7:1-17, 8:1-17, 9:1-17.

The United States as a nation is like a man who has worked hard and saved money carefully all his life, and suddenly one morning wakes up to find himself rich. He has so much money that he doesn't have to be thrifty any more. He belongs to the "Haves," not the "Have-nots." It is a bewildering experience for which he has had no preparation. Someone will even have to invent a Dr. Foreman word to describe the kind of society that is, what kind of country it is, what lives in. Indeed someone has invented or dug up from the less-used pages of the dictionary, just the word to describe the kind of society we are: an affluent society. That means, put in less fancy words, a society that has more money than it knows what to do with.

NOBODY LOVES POVERTY

The emergence of a nation as rich as ours is a rare thing in human history. Nations tend to take all the credit for their own affluence, but this is pure conceit. It was conceit when the nation of Israel through a combination of circumstances found herself wealthy. It is conceit for us to forget the factors (oil and copper, for two) that have contributed so much to our wealth, factors we enjoyed and used but did not create. But that is another story. The point here is that nobody and no nation wants to be poor. Indeed, don't most of us feel that if we only had money all our troubles would vanish away? Yet newspaper readers know that crimes such as drug taking, sex-crimes, theft and murder, are committed often by the young people from the community's "best" homes. Instead of doing away with troubles, families are finding out every day that money, so far from solving our problems, often only adds one more problem to those we have. And still we are foolish enough to want to be rich. Even we who read and claim to believe the Bible forget the many warnings against affluence.

DANGER FOR "HAVES"

For the fact is that in the Bible there are many more warnings against wealth than against poverty. The prophets were always condemning the rich, as Amos did. Jesus warned against riches in his Sermon on the Mount and in many parables. The only character in Jesus' stories who ended in hell was a rich man. James utters a special warning to those who contribute to the poverty of the poor by overcharging them or otherwise swinging the scales of justice in favor of the affluent. Prophets in the nation of Israel, at a time when that little nation thought it had "arrived" kept warning more insistently than ever that what makes a nation great is not wealth but character.

CHARACTER CALLED FOR

When a society becomes affluent, it is on the brink of becoming soft and rotten. Solid Christian character is just as needed in an affluent society as in a poverty-stricken one. But what traits of character are especially called for? What kinds of men, in short, are needed to stop the process of decay? One kind of man certainly is needed, in prosperity and poverty no less, a man of reliable character, men who will not forsake the hard for the easy way. But remember: wealth is one of the severest tests of human character. For example, a man may be known for his self-discipline. He does not indulge in social drinking. He takes no alcoholic drinks in public or in private. But why is he a total abstainer? Perhaps only because he can't afford liquor at present prices. But if being poor is your only reason for being good, then you aren't very good after all!

GOD'S WORD for a NEW AGE

An old man in Australia holds his Bible with shaking hands. Painstakingly his pointing finger follows along a well-loved passage. In a village in Guatemala an Indian lad reads joyfully from a New Testament written in elementary Spanish. In a rural area of Japan a lively youth group discusses the Scriptures using Bibles printed in their mother tongue.

People like these, and thousands more in every corner of the earth, read Bibles today because of the work of the American Bible Society. Founded on May 8, 1816, the Society's sole object is the widespread circulation of the Scriptures. Now, faced with a worldwide population explosion and mounting literacy, the Society sees an exciting challenge in rededicating itself to its goal: that no matter what his language, whether rich or poor, or where he lives — no man, woman, or literate child should be without the Scriptures.

In our space age of confusion and change, the Bible remains constant. Read and study the Bible faithfully, and attend your church regularly. Hear the word of God — His greatest gift, so freely given.

THIS CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THIS CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a repository of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and financial support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

HOT TIP

Here's a tip on how you dairymen can stop stable flies, hornflies and even lice from bothering your cows. In fact, it's even effective against insects that have developed resistance to most other insecticides. Purina Dairy Spray is the ready-to-use insect killer that's safe to spray on dairy cows. It's the only residual-type spray that's approved to be used on milking cows. Ask us for Dairy Spray or Dairy Spray Concentrate to help keep your cows free from insect pests this year. We also carry Dairy Cattle Disinfectant.

CHECKERBOARD KNIVES

During the month of May we are offering a special three bladed Purina Checkerboard Knife that sells for $2.50 for only 75c with the purchase of one of Purina's 140 different Health Aid Products. These products include fly control items for farm and home use, livestock wormers, disinfectants for prevention of disease and special pet items like dog shampoo. Ask us how easy it is to own one of these famous knives.

CALF SCOURS

With dampness all around the barn this spring, calf scours have been bad. We recommend Purina Check-R-Mycin 2X for treating this problem. It can be added to the drinking water or milk replacer or used as a drench.

UNDERFED & LOW PROFITS

George Werner, University of Wisconsin dairy specialist, says more good cows are underfed during their first three months of production than over fed. He also states that dairy cattle with the inherited ability of producing large quantities of milk can be fed profitably more pounds of grain ration than is recommended by the old thumb rule of one pound of grain for every four pounds of milk. High producers use feed more economically and are capable of reaching higher levels of production. To find the right level will require some trail feeding on the part of dairymen. Why not stop by or call for an appointment so we can discuss "Challenge Feeding" with you. One good cow may do the work of two. Most dairymen could use the extra income from extra milk production.

GOOD NEWS

Here's good news from Purina Research. One spraying with new Cygon 2E Insecticide stops houseflies for eight weeks or more. That's right! Just spray Cygon on walls and posts in your dairy barn, poultry house, Pig Parlor or loafing shed to stop flies for up to two months! Cygon 2E Insecticide kills flies that are resistant to most other sprays. Best of all, Cygon 2E Insecticide is safe to use around dairies and poultry houses when you mix it as directed. See us today for Cygon 2E in either pints or gallons.

SIX BIG BUSHELS PER 100 LBS.

That's right! Purina Golden Bulky has six big heaping bushels in every 100 lbs. See it...Smell it...Try it. Watch milking buckets get heavier and feed costs lighter.

A Look At Education

QUESTION: (OAG 64-22) — Does a high school principal possess the authority to discipline pupils who have violated regulations during a ball game or other extracurricular activities after school hours?

ANSWER: KRS 161.180 requires each teacher in common schools to hold "...pupils to a strict account for their conduct in school, on the way to and from school, on the playgrounds, and during intermission or recess."

KRS 158.150 provides in part, "All pupils admitted to common schools shall comply with the lawful regulations for the government of the schools."

The courts are in general agreement that the control of school authorities over pupils does not cease absolutely when they leave the school premises. The authority of school officials to discipline refractory pupils for misconduct in extracurricular activities after school hours is very broad. For example, the courts have upheld the punishment of pupils because of misconduct in the following instances, to-wit: fighting with other pupils while enroute from school; use of profane and abusive language while enroute from school; drinking and smoking on the public streets; riding around the streets of a city in an automobile while seated upon the lap of a member of the opposite sex; and other improper conduct during non-school hours. See At A.L.R. 1312 and 147 Am. Jur., Schools, Section 186.

In the case of Byrd vs. Befley, 262 Ky. 422 908, W-24-37 (1936), the Court of Appeals upheld the action of a superintendent in suspending a high school pupil who refused to retire to his room when so ordered, but instead went to the sleeping porch. Likewise, the court approved the action of the principal of the Middleburg Public School in Casey County in suspending two children from school when they refused to obey a school regulation which prohibited school children from patronizing a cafe, which was adjacent to school grounds, during school hours.

QUESTION: (OAG 64-82) — May pupils smoke on school premises?

ANSWER: KRS 438.020 prohibits any person 18 years of age from smoking or having on his person or premises any cigarette or cigarette papers or any other form prepared to be filled with smoking tobacco for cigarette use.

KRS 438.030 forbids the selling, offering or giving of any cigarette or cigarette papers or any other paper prepared to be filled with smoking tobacco for cigarette use to any person under 18 years of age.

As you will note, the two statutes noted heretofore apply only to persons under 18 years of age. However, KRS 438.030, which is more inclusive, reads as follows: "Any person who smokes a cigarette in any school building or any part of any building used for school purposes, or upon school grounds, while children are assembled there for lawful purposes shall be fined not less than one dollar nor more than five dollars."

In view of the foregoing statutory provisions, it is the opinion of this office that not only are pupils forbidden to smoke on school premises, regardless of age, but also no other person may smoke in school building or on school premises while children are assembled there for lawful purposes.

For the foregoing reasons no pupil may smoke on school premises.

The June 21 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Homer Kitts.

TRIBUTE TO TEACHERS

As the school year comes to a close the poem below is appropriate to show the appreciation of parents to teachers.

The poem was written by a parent of a child in the Walton-Verona School and was directed to teachers in the local school system at the annual Teachers Appreciation dinner, May 8, which is given annually by the Parent-Teachers Association.

To Our Teachers...
Teacher Appreciation is something that isn't shown enough.

They're taken too much for granted and that is really "rough."

As parents, we trust them with our most prized possessions, and when there's disagreement, they're expected to make concessions.

They're no doubt the most underpaid "baby-sitters" around here. They have our children about 275 days a year.

Our children are not perfect, we know that as a rule, so why should we expect them to be above reproach at school?

Our teachers should be respected and appreciated more.

What would we do without them? We'd have the teaching chore. I'm sure we could not do it, even if we wanted to.

So here's a hearty "Thanks, Teachers" from parents to you.

A pretty bad collision of two cars took place near Dr. Bleher's residence near here in which one car was turned over on its side, but luckily no one was injured, which seems almost a miracle as one car held seven children. We did not learn the names of these folks as we just noticed it in passing by at the time.

Glad to report Mr. Matthews much better, and my neighbors, Duke Belw and wife have returned from the winter in Florida.

It seems as though this rainy spell is going on indefinitely, so that most of the gardens look just as they did in January. An epidemic of "watitis" has struck us and old "Doctor Sunshine" has his job cut out for him as soon as he is able to be up and about, which we hope will be soon.

In spreading the Gospel to the whole world.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Losey enjoyed having her sister, Mrs. Ora Stone, of Covington, as a guest for several days. She returned home Wednesday when her daughter, Mrs. Hazel Pickett, came for her.

Our sympathy goes out to the family of Linder Hoffman, who passed away May 15. Though reared in this community, he had lived in Newport for many years. Survivors are Mrs. Leontine Stephens of Independence, and Nelson Hoffman of this neighborhood, as well as a host of nephews, nieces and cousins.

Mrs. Stella Richardson enjoyed the company of several callers recently. Among them were Mrs. C. Riegler and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Baines, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cummins, Mrs. Dawson Losey and Mr. and Mrs. Omer Lucas.

Quite a number of the friends and neighbors of Mrs. Janet Shearer and Robert E. Rich attended their wedding on May 14, at First Methodist Church, Covington. It was beautiful and impressive. Everyone enjoyed the reception which followed at the YMCA. The very best wishes for a long, useful and happy life followed them as they departed on a short trip.

Mrs. Robert Bach, who has been taking treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital, seems to be improving. Let us pray that she makes a complete recovery.

A letter received this week from Mrs. Albert Gilligan, reports that both she and her husband are feeling better. That is good news. Mr. and Mrs. Omer Lucas re-concluded a very inspiring and successful revival meeting. Sorry to hear that Mrs. Delilah Winford, bother of Mrs. John W. Shaw, is not at all well at this writing.

A statement was made in this column several weeks ago that one of our prominent citizens was retiring and planning a trip to Germany. It seems that this was only partly correct... the trip to Germany is being planned, but the retiring part was in error... very sorry... excuse please!

PINER P. T. A. MEETS

The Piner P. T. A. held its last regular meeting of the school year on Thursday, May 19 in the Piner School.

Mrs. Raymond LaFollette, president, presided at the business session. She announced that she had attended the Kenton County Council luncheon and that Piner had received the Twin Oaks Honor Award for 100% PTA membership. Also presented to Piner P. T. A. were the Gold Seal, Gold Leaf and Oak Tree membership awards.

Mrs. LaFollette thanked officers and chairmen for their support during the year and gave a year-report.

Room count was won by Mrs. Steinhauser's room with Mrs.

Meckstrath in second and Mrs. Wolfe in third place.

Mrs. Richard Bachmeyer installed the new officers: President, Mrs. Raymond LaFollette, a second term; vice-president, Mrs. Robert Chapman; secretary, Mrs. Marshall Hills; treasurer, Mrs. James Readman.

Mrs. Robert Lancaster introduced the program, which was given by members of the 4-H. The devotion was presented by Maria Hyatt, reading the 100th Psalm, and Trudy Northcutt leading all in the Lord's Prayer. "Garden of Prayer" was sung by Ada Gail Spegal, Almee Collins, Mae Barnard and Paula Sue Spegal.

Mrs. Meckstrath's sixth grade presented a skit, "Dr. Dolittle, M. D." with Albert Denton playing the doctor. The 4-H song leaders sang "Witchcraft." Then Mrs. Steinhauser's fifth grade presented "The Tator Family," with Greg Aschcraft making the introductions. Everyone was then taken "Around the World in Song." This was climaxed with a trip to America and a flag drill to the tune of "American Patrol."

A style revue was announced by Sandy LaFollette, a member of the 4-H Teen Bees. Aprons, skirts, playclothes, and men and match outfits were modeled.

Mrs. Wolfe's fifth and sixth grade classes presented a very timely skit, "Project Moon-Go," with the help originating from Cape Busy Bee. They closed their part of the program by singing, "God Bless America."

Mr. Brown, principal, introduced 4-H leaders Mrs. Betty Vernon and Mrs. Ray Morgan, who attended the meeting.

Rev. Barnard adjourned with a prayer, and refreshments were then served.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

A very pleasant event this week was a visit with a very dear friend whom I had not seen for some ten years. She had come here from California, for the wedding of a niece, Miss Ellen Albers, of

Park Hills. We made arrangements for a get-together of old friends, consisting of Christine Weber of Kennedy Heights, Elma Vandylke of Covington, Faye Yelton of Ludlow, Alma Klopmeier of Wilmington, Ohio, Miss Clara Albers of San Fernando Valley, California, and this writer, Mrs. Ralph Howard, of the Tower. We dined at McClure's and then had our visit. She will return to California, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Burke and daughter and girl friend of the Tower, spent Thursday at the home of the Gripshovers, on Dudley Pike, fishing and picnicking. The event was Lucille's birthday. We wish her many more happy birthdays.

A very pretty event on Saturday evening was the wedding of Miss Judith Rapp and Mr. James Lancaster of Staufferburg at Trinity Methodist Church, Latonia. We wish this lovely couple many years of wedded bliss and good luck.

The St. Cecilia auction attracted a large crowd Saturday at Independence, and I am sure it was quite a success. Lunch was served and everyone had quite a day of bidding.

We were very sorry to hear of Andrew Lipscomb of the Tower, falling out of bed and breaking his hip. He has been making his home with his daughter in Covington, getting so crippled in his late years. He is now a patient in the hospital.

Tuesday was picnic day at Coney for the Parochial schools. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard, as usual, went with the grandchildren and in the afternoon they walked over to the Downs Race Track for a couple of hours racing. All had a very enjoyable day.

Coroner's Verdict

Lesson for May 29, 1966

Background Scripture: II Kings 17:18-19; 12:12; Hosea 3: Amos 8: Devotional Reading: II Kings 17:32-33.

When a person in our country dies, it becomes the immediate duty of some doctor or officer of the law to make out a statement showing the cause of death. If the death was by violence, usually a "coroner's jury" is formed to adjudge first of all, if possible, who struck the fatal blows. In our passage we have a strong statement by prophets (and hence representing the justice of God) on the causes of the death not of a person but of a nation. The reader may remember that remark: "Mortality among nations is 100%."

The victim in this case was the city and nation of Samaria or Israel. A few years (say six or ten) before it crashed, it was one of the strongest nations along the curve of what is known as the Fertile Crescent or the Middle East. But when it perished as a nation, though the city of Samaria was rebuilt at various times, the nation of Samaria or Israel never rose again. What killed Samaria?

IDOLATRY KILLED SAMARIA

Samaria died because of the nation's idolatry. This is quick to say, but it needs explaining. Idolatry as the Old Testament sees it is not mere wrong opinions, bad theology. Remember that these Samaritans were Jews at that time, and had known or could be supposed to have known the true, invisible yet almighty God, the God whom had delivered them from Egypt and had (through the prophet Ahijah) actually started the infant nation of Israel on its way with the blessing of God. Now the Samaritans wanted a god they could see. They wanted to be like neighboring nations whose temples were magnificent and beautiful. So the nation of Samaria or Israel tried to worship (at least) two gods, the true god and the gold-plated imitations, gilded bull calves shiny but ridiculous. Trying to be like other people — "keeping up with the Joneses" — has often literally killed those who have tried it. Living by the world's low standards, for a man or for a nation, is fatal.

PRIDE KILLED NATION

All the causes of a nation's death are tied together. There is usually more than one cause of death. So idolatry was combined with other sins, not least of which was pride. They were dead to the prophets, they saw no evil in themselves, though they could see the sins of other nations easily enough. They were like an American audience listening to (say) Billy Graham. Dr. Graham makes no impression on some in that audience. He can draw a very dark picture of life in America and the state of danger we are in (from God's hands and man's), but many listeners will say just what they must have said about Amos and Hosea and other preachers, "It's all exaggeration. That preacher just gets people stirred up for nothing." If asked to name the best nation in the world, wouldn't you maybe pick America? Well, Samaritans picked Samaria, but God didn't. A concealed nation is never as good as it thinks it is.

"GOD REMOVED THEM"

God's judgments on nations are not left to some time-beyond-time, some far-off judgement day. God uses such things as foreign armies, disease, arrogance, and much more, to weaken and destroy the nations he judges. It would be the "coroner's verdict" of God that Samaria died by her own hand, perhaps "while of unsound mind." So the prophet adds simply, God removed it. From that verdict and that sentence what attorney can appeal?

Garrett. The class night exercises will be held May 28 with the girls taking part in the program. The salutatorian is Georgia Collins, and Dorothy Campbell is valedictorian.

The Willing Workers Class met at the Walton Christian Church for their regular monthly meeting. Present were: Mrs. Fred Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Edens, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bush, Mrs. John Gault, Mrs. Florence Norman, Mrs. Wendell House, Mrs. Martha Jane Carpenter, Miss Louise Conrad, Mrs. Mary Humphrey, Miss Helen Ruth Gardiner, V. ## THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A YOUNG MAN'S FANCY...

...and a girl's too

Spring is taking its romantic toll once again! But there's more to be shared than a cup of cola. So who knows whether this new-born affection will last — or, indeed, whether it should?

Where character and conviction are formed, there the foundations of true love are fashioned.

Perhaps then the Church makes a more significant contribution to romance than the warm breeze of May.

For with the help of the home and the support of the community, the Church is training the brides and grooms of some later June to realize in a deep affection their responsibilities to themselves, to one another, and to God.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

QUESTION: (OAG63-500) May corporal punishment be administered to a refractory pupil from grades one through twelve in the public schools?

ANSWER: Although we are aware of no decisions by the Kentucky Court of Appeals, the general rule of law is that a teacher is clothed with discretionary authority to inflict corporal punishment on a refractory pupil subject to the limitation that the punishment must be reasonable, confined within bounds of moderation and does not place the life or limb of the pupil in jeopardy. No definite rule can be laid down as to what is excessive or unreasonable. Each case must rest on its own merits. The punishment should be proportioned to the gravity of the offense, the apparent motive and disposition of the offender and the influence of his example and conduct on others. Consideration should be given to the age, size, sex and physical strength of the pupil to be punished, and the instrument used should be suitable and proper for the occasion.

The purpose of chastisement is to inflict punishment by the pain which it causes, as well as the degradation which it implies. Hence, it does not follow, necessarily, because pain is produced that the punishment is either cruel or excessive. As far as we can determine, corporal punishment is limited to no pupil of a particular age group, class, sex, race or religion.

QUESTION: (OAG61-283) May a pupil who has failed to prepare his lessons be detained for a brief period of time after school hours?

ANSWER: An extensive examination of the case law in Kentucky indicates that this exact question has never been presented to the Court of Appeals. However, KRS 161.180 imposes a responsibility upon every teacher to hold his pupils to strict account for their actions not only during school hours, but on the way to and from school. This statute reads as follows: "Each teacher in the public schools shall hold pupils to strict account for their conduct in school, on the way to and from school, on the play grounds, and during intermission or recess."

The detention or keeping in of pupils for a short time after the rest of the class has been dismissed or the school has closed, as a penalty for misconduct, has been very generally adopted, especially in schools of a lower grade, and is now one of the recognized methods of enforcing discipline. If such a penalty is inflicted in good faith, and without wanton, willful or malicious motives, it does not constitute a false imprisonment, however mistaken a teacher may be in his judgment as to the justice or propriety of detaining a pupil.

It is the opinion of the Attorney General's office that a teacher may detain a student who has failed to prepare his lessons for a reasonable period of time after school hours.

QUESTION: (OAG63-282) Does a county judge have jurisdiction to try parents who fail to comply with the compulsory school attendance laws?

ANSWER: Yes.

QUESTION: (OAG62-208) May an unmarried mother be expelled or kept from returning to school?

ANSWER: KRS 160.280 (1) and (2) provides in part: (1) Each board of education shall have general control and management of the public schools in its district... (2) Each board shall make and adopt, and may amend or repeal rules, regulations and by-laws for its meetings and proceedings for the government, regulation and management of the public schools and school property of the district, for the transaction of its business, and for the qualification and employment of teachers and the conduct of pupils...

On the basis of the above quoted statute, it is the opinion of this office that a board of education may promulgate and adopt a regulation to the effect that unmarried pupils of high school age may not return to school.

KRS 158.150 reads as follows: "All pupils admitted to the common schools shall comply with the regulations for the government of the schools, with disobedience or defiance of the authority of the teachers, habitual profanity or vulgarity, or other gross violation of propriety of law constitutes cause for suspension or expulsion from school. The superintendent, principal or head teacher of any school may suspend a pupil for such misconduct, but shall report such action in writing immediately to the superintendent."

The board of education of any school district may expel any pupil for misconduct as defined in this section, but such action shall not be taken until the parent, guardian or other person having legal custody or control of the pupil has had an opportunity to have a hearing before the board.

The decision of the board shall be final.

It is the further opinion of the Attorney General's office that an unmarried mother may be expelled from school in the manner set forth in the above-quoted statutes.

Plan Large Park in the Piner Area

Action to establish a picnic and boating area on the Licking River and a 600-acre park near Piner is being completed by the Kenton County Parks, Playground and Recreation Board.

The board plans to apply for federal recreation and open space funds as soon as preliminary details are completed.

Fred DeBruhl, assistant area consultant from the Department of Housing and Urban Development, Atlanta, Ga., has inspected the sites.

Under the proposal, the county would pay half the cost and the federal government half.

Kenton County Judge James Dressman, Jr., said the county anticipates spending $75,000 to $100,000 as its share of land acquisition, which will be one of the main items of expense at first.

Cost of land for the park is estimated at $180,000.

The park area, off Route 17, near Piner, will have a 186-acre lake by construction of a 100-ft. dam on Paxton Branch.

Ted R. Richardson, civil engineer, is preparing plans for the projects and applications for the federal grant.

Home Agent's Party Line

—by—
Nancy White

If you've reached the retirement age or are where you can still look forward to a long, healthy life...that is, if you eat the right foods. A proper diet is needed at any age, but the right foods are especially important for you now.

May is "Senior Citizens Month" and a good time for senior citizens to review their food habits. Research shows that many older persons don't get the nutrients needed for good health. A recent U. S. Department of Agriculture study showed older persons' diets were most often lacking in the needed calcium and vitamin C.

Remember that you can never "retire" from eating the kinds and amounts of food you need. Unless the doctor recommends a special diet, don't limit your eating in fear of an upset stomach or some similar complaint. Such trouble usually means that better food habits are needed, a different diet, perhaps, but not more limited food selections.

True, you need fewer calories now than you did when you were younger, but your need for protein, minerals and vitamins hasn't changed. If you're putting on extra pounds, this is no sign you should stop eating the right foods. Perhaps you get less exercise now, yet still eat as you did when you were more active, if so, you may need less food. However, overweight often is the result of the wrong foods rather than too much food.

Overweight can be especially dangerous as you grow older, but don't try to make big changes in your weight without a doctor's advice. If you are only a few pounds overweight, try to lose them gradually...cut down on the high-calorie foods (fats, sweets) rather than the other foods needed for good health.

Here are the foods you need every day for healthy older years...one or more servings of green or yellow vegetables, one or more servings of citrus fruits (tomatoes) or other foods high in vitamin C, two or more servings of potatoes, other vegetables and fruit, 2 1/2 cups of milk or milk products that equal this amount, at least one serving of meat, poultry or fish, some enriched or whole grain cereal food, that is, baked goods or food containing flour or cereal products, and some butter or margarine.

In addition to these daily needs, you also should eat four or more eggs a week and at least one serving of dry beans, peas or nuts.

Which one of these senior citizens are you, the properly fed one or the poorly-nourished one? Check your diet and make sure you are getting the proper foods to insure a long, happy and healthy life.

The Division of Consumer Protection in the Attorney General's office recently was successful in recovering a deposit of $200 which a Paris, Kentucky, man made to an Ohio truck-driving school. Because of his age, he could not have obtained a job as represented, regardless of his knowledge.

Various private schools located in other states are trying to "cash in" on efforts of many Kentuckians to equip themselves with better educational skills. Glowing advertisements in many publications tell you of "rewards" available after only a few weeks or months of instruction. As in any other field, some of these schools are legitimate, some are not. They offer courses from Art to Zoology, but mostly in technical fields.

Investigate before you sign a contract or make any payment. The legitimate school will still be there next week or next month. The salesman for the school whose "campus" consists of a postoffice box will not be.

Be sure when you complete the course you not only will have the qualifications but also will be capable of getting a job in your new vocation. Knowledge can set you free; obtain it first about the school, and second, from it.

1st BABTIST VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL PARADE ON SATURDAY, JUNE 4

Preparation Day and the Vacation Bible School Parade will be held Saturday morning, June 4th, by First Baptist Church, Walton. The first two days of VBS will be June 6-7 in the afternoon from 1:30 to 4:30. The change in preparation day and the first two days of Bible school is due to failure of public schools to be concluding their activities before then.

Beginning Wednesday morning, June 8, at 8:30-11:30, the school will continue at the regular morning hours through Friday, June 17. A fine faculty has been selected and trained. The church bus will run its regular schedule. All children between the ages of 3 years through 16 years, not attending their own church school are welcome and urged to attend. Faculty and pupils will assemble each day in the parking lot. We ask parents to load and unload the children there for their safety. All will return there to be picked up after school.

Refreshments, Bible study, character stories, mission study and worship will be a part of each day's activities. Each department will have a picnic the last week at Big Bone State Park. The intermediates will take a field trip to Louisville, to visit the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and Spring Meadows Children's Home. We will conclude with Parent's Night on June 17 at 8:00 p. m. Parents are also welcome to stop by for a brief visit anytime during the school hours.—Pub. Chm.

WILLING WORKERS MEET

After a bountiful covered-dish supper was served, the regular business session followed, with the newly-elected president, Mrs. Walter Whitson, presiding. Miss Rachel Acree gave an interesting account of the Christian Women's Fellowship trip to Lexington, where they visited the Theological Seminary and heard some informed and interesting discussions on the work being done by the students there on their so-called Prall project, the purpose of which is to study the social and spiritual needs of their community. The devotional was given by Hugh Fulton, who discussed and stressed the problems of modern life by reading appropriate scripture. Those present: Mrs. Lillian Acree, Miss Rachel Acree, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Grubbs, Mrs. Jane Sleet, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Whitson, and Miss Mary West.

Pennsylvanian To Write 'Bible Speaks'

The Rev. Lawrence W. Althouse, minister of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church, Mohnton, Pennsylvania, has been selected to write the newspaper column, The Bible Speaks, starting July, 1966. He succeeds Dr. Kenneth J. Foreman who has retired after writing the column since 1948.

"The Bible Speaks is based on the International Uniform Lesson Outlines, produced by the Uniform Lesson Committee of the Division of Christian Education, National Council of Churches," according to Mrs. Helen Cantley, managing director of NATIONAL COUNCIL RELIGIOUS FEATURES. "It is for use of weekly newspapers and small dailies, and currently runs in nearly 800 newspapers. Syndication for The Bible Speaks is handled by Community Press Service, Frankfort, Kentucky."

A native of Reading, Pennsylvania, Mr. Althouse is a graduate of Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania, with a degree in economics. He is a graduate of United Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, and is working on his thesis for S. T. M. degree in religious education, having completed course requirements at Union Theological Seminary, N.Y.C.

Rev. Althouse

Mr. Althouse is author of Youth Guide on Affluence and Poverty, printed this spring (1966) by Friendship Press. For many years he has written the lesson quarterly materials for junior and senior high school youth, and also for the teachers' books, for the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

The International Uniform Lesson Outlines was the first major effort in which Protestant Sunday school forces of America united on April 18, 1872. It provided a series of uniform lessons which could be used in each department of the entire Sunday school, and in all Protestant Sunday schools, based on the same Scripture text.

Faith in Crisis

Lesson for June 5, 1966

Background Scripture: 8 Chronicles 29 through 32; Isaiah 37:35, 36; 2 Kings 19:14-19; Devotional Reading: 2 Kings 19:14-19.

When something happens that never happened before when a danger looms that is bigger than anything you have ever met, when something happens or threatens to happen which you did not start but cannot stop and don't like even a little bit, — brother, that's a crisis. A lion bursting from his cage just as the circus parade passes your house is a crisis. An epidemic of yellow

Dr. Foreman fever is a crisis, so is the death by accident of the wage-earner in a family. Rare is the person who in all his lifetime never met with a crisis.

King Hezekiah of Judah (a country older than Israel (Samaria) but one which lasted longer) went through a crisis which, among other lessons, taught him how to take a crisis. The terrible feature of such a combination of circumstances is that it gives sometimes very little room to maneuver, to do anything at all. The crisis comes and is past and the damage done before you are well awake.

ATTITUDE IN CRISIS

Now Hezekiah was a good king. One good feature he showed was a sense of responsibility for the welfare of his country. But he found his beloved Judah invaded by the mightiest monarch of that part of the world at the time, Sennacherib of Nineveh. What could he do? The situation was completely out of his control. The problem was, what to do? And the only answer seemed to be: Nothing. But Hezekiah learned (from God's prophets and specially from Isaiah) that in a time of crisis the best thing to do is all you can do, namely nothing. What is important, as the King found out, is one's attitude, not actions.

BE STILL, AND KNOW...

A word of the prophet that came to the King sounds, the first time we hear it, like nonsense, but it can be the highest wisdom: "Be still, and know that I am God." What does this mean? It can be illustrated by a true story. A mother and father had been sitting in a great forest, with their small son and a small friend of his. From some unaccountable impulse, they all moved down the stream a few yards. Suddenly like the crack of a rifle a sharp sound broke the stillness of the forest. But it was not a gun. It was the beginning of the breaking-apart of a tall and heavy tree. For centuries it had been growing there, then decaying, and on that windless afternoon its time had come. The frightening thing about it was the fact that with the forest cover it was impossible to see just where the breaking tree stood. Worse than that, both small boys had vanished. The grown people shouted but there was no answer from the children. So there were no more shouts. When the mother was asked afterwards how she felt at that dark moment, she always said that there came to her mind as if in letters of light, the words: Be still, and know that I am God. It was a call (she and he always believed) from God, a call to the attitude of faith. (And there were no deaths either, as there well could have been.)

FAITH IN MEN

Added to faith in God, there is need also in times of crisis some measure of faith in men, the right kind of men. We know that this same king led in a religious reformation, but not of the one-man kind. He undertook to lead in an important and wide-reaching reformation, but he summoned and challenged the Levites to help him in God's name. The attitude of faith not necessarily faith that the sun will shine and all will be well, for the shadows may never lift, but faith in men of God, servants of God, and faith in ourselves.

God is not going to let you down; don't you let others down! The time of darkness, of crisis, is the hour and the opportunity of faith. So the king found in days of old so may you again.

The percentage of Kentucky's population which is school age (5-17) is 26.7, or one percent over the national average.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claxon

The alfalfa weevil has continued to be a serious problem in the county. Tent caterpillars are out and running. With the above problems for farmers and homeowners, the freeze came, thus injuring strawberries and fruit. It was both a financial loss to the homeowners and commercial growers of the county.

Low organic content of the soil and a poor crop rotation plan cause many of the problems in home vegetable gardens. Rotating vegetables and adding enough organic matter won't correct all garden problems, but these practices will help prevent some of the more common ones.

The average home gardener throws away enough organic matter each year to build and maintain an excellent home garden soil. Grass clippings, leaves, crop residue and other such material placed in a compost pile in the corner of the garden will provide a continuous supply of organic matter.

If enough material is not available from these sources, an area of land can be planted to small grains, rye grass, Sudan or some other crop. This can be cut green, placed in a stack or bin to decay, and then used on the garden to supply organic matter.

As a general rule, a vegetable should be rotated...that is, moved to a new location in the garden...every year. In fact, the same vegetable should not be placed in the same area of the garden more often than every three years. Limited garden space makes following this rule difficult for some gardeners, but many who have plenty of space fail to practice vegetable rotation.

Often, a gardener moved a vegetable to a new location because he has not been satisfied with results where it has been before. Then, if the vegetable improves a good deal in the new location, he is sure he's found the place it does the best, and leaves it there. But a year or two later, he'll probably be having the same poor results. The vegetable should have been rotated, not left in the same spot because it first did well there.

IS YOUR SUBSCRIPTION PAID?

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I am a railroad employee who is 67 years old and I plan to retire in 1967. I am also a veteran of World War I. My railroad retirement benefits will be about $200 a month and the benefits for my wife will be about $75 for a total monthly income of $275. This will be my only source of income. Am I correct in assuming that this $275 will not be considered as income when applying for a WW I veteran's pension?

A—All income received during the year is counted by the V. A. when determining a veteran's eligibility for a non-service-connected pension. This includes wages, salaries, dividends, interest, profits, annuities, pensions, Social Security payments, etc.

Q—I lost my son in the service about five months ago. As a dependent parent receiving VA compensation, would I be eligible for the GI home loan or does the VA require that the veteran be alive to be eligible?

A—GI loans are available only to veterans or to unmarried widows of men who served in either World War II or the Korean Conflict and who died in service or after separation as a result of a service-connected disability. Parents are not eligible.

THE WORLD IS WAITING...

In ancient times the world waited breathlessly for every new king. It was always man's crying hope, man's fervent expectation — that under a new king the world would be different.

Today we no longer put our faith in kings — nor in any government that does not represent the people. We believe that tomorrow will be determined by the hopes and ideals of the young men and women who today prepare for their role in life.

There aren't any Christmas bells at graduation time. But it would be well for us to remember those learned men — the Wise Men — who came across the desert to Bethlehem. They came to pay homage to a new-born King... One who did change this world. And the sons and daughters upon whom we look with fond hopes today must find their foundation of faith in the same Lord.

With its ministry of teaching, its inspiration to service and sacrifice, the Church points their path to tomorrow — and ours!

TRY MILK FOR A CHANGE
Dr. J. P. Everett, Director of Purina Dairy Research, points out that, "If a farmer sells grain to a whiskey manufacturer, it goes through a still and comes out in water. The consumer pays $3.00 to $5.00 a quart, or even more. He drinks it and says 'Gimme an-other'. If the farmer puts his grain through a cow, it comes out milk. The consumer pays 25 cents a quart, sets his glass down and says, 'Go easy on this milk—the price is way up'. Milk at 15 cents for a 6-ounce glass amounts to $40.00 a hundred. Whiskey brings $96.00 a hundred." WANT A BARGAIN ...DRINK MILK EVERY DAY!

KILLS 98% OF MASTITIS CASES
New Purina Novo-Mast has really been accepted by leading dairymen throughout Kentucky. It contains Novobionin, Neomycin, Penicillin and Streptomycin as well as Chlorbutanol Anhydrous and Prednisolone Anhydrous. Purina Novo-Mast is effective against the five leading strains of mastitis and was effective in 98% of all cases in a recent survey. The next leading treatment was only effective against 21% of the cases in the survey. We now have a supply of Purina Novo-Mast in stock.

INTERESTED IN FEEDER PIG BUSINESS?

FOR SALE—Yearling Hereford bull, 3 ponies. Phone Stanley Collett, 356-7311. 2t-21*

NEW PURINA HORSE-PLUS IS SPECIAL
New Purina Horse-Plus contains the essential growth-promoting vitamins and minerals necessary to help keep horses in top condition with extra stamina, added energy, more vitality, alert appearance and glossy coats. Healthy horses with the get-up-and-go they need to perform to their full potential. Purina Horse-Plus contains eight essential vitamins and nine important minerals in the right amount and correct ratio needed by horses and ponies of all ages. It helps build rich red blood, aids development of muscle tone, firm hoofs, vigor and stamina— aids digestion, elimination and reproductive function. And Horse-Plus is "pelletized"...an exclusive manufacturing process separates the eight vitamins into green pellets and the nine minerals into brown pellets. This aids in maintaining greater vitamin potency and keeping the minerals and vitamins from sifting to bottom or being blown out of feed tub or manger. See us today for Purina Horse-Plus.

PRICES TO HOLD
We are happy to announce that we can freeze the price of Purina Checkerboard Dairy 14% and 16% Pelleted Dairy Chow for 90 days if you like. Let us talk to you about complete dairy chows in bulk or bag. More and more dairymen are switching to Purina's high energy rations in pelleted form...WHY...they get more milk per cow at less cost. Let us serve you.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

The Kentucky Department of Education recently issued a bulletin listing estimated amounts of money that could be raised in each county (not school system) from the three permissive local taxes authorized by the 1966 General Assembly.

The bulletin, based on data provided by the Kentucky Department of Revenue, also estimates money that would come to each school system from the 10 per cent permissive property-tax increase authorized for each of the next two years by the 1965 special session of the General Assembly.

So that patrons and taxpayers will be knowledgeable about these estimates, I have extracted information on Boone County and Walton-Vermont school systems from the bulletin to pass on to you.

Remember: Every school system can take advantage of the property-tax increase along with one of the three new local permissive taxes—occupational, utility or excise. But it is necessary for boards of education to agree to these taxes to secure an agreement between those boards of education representing 90% of the county inhabitants as to the special tax that will be levied.

First, I shall list the estimated money that may be received from all of these taxes and then I will list the procedures that must be followed by boards in order to level these taxes.

For Boone County an OCCUPATIONAL tax of 1/2 per cent on wages would raise $78,000 or $12 for each child in average daily attendance. Net profits of business also would be taxed but no estimates are available for that category. A 3 per cent excise tax on gross receipts of UTILITIES would bring in $100,000 or $17 for each child in average daily attendance. A 20 per cent excise (INCOME) tax would produce $135,000 or $22 for each child in average daily attendance. None of the figures for the three taxes make allowance for collection costs.

For the Boone County School System a 10 per cent PROPERTY TAX increase for the 1966-67 school year would raise $66,609.15 or $10.90 for each child in average daily attendance. Another 10 per cent increase for the 1967-68 school year would produce $72,170.07 or $12.33 for each child in average daily attendance.

For the Walton-Vermont School System a 10 per cent PROPERTY TAX increase for the 1966-67 school year would raise $6,689.30 or $9.99 for each child in average daily attendance. Another 10 per cent increase for the 1967-68 school year would produce $7,358.23 or $10.66 for each child in average daily attendance.

John Wood Home Looted, Thursday

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wood, U. S. 25, just North of Walton, was ransacked and a black and white television, a movie camera and equipment were stolen last Thursday evening between 6:15 and 10:00 p. m.

Upon arriving home, Mrs. Wood went into the house and discovered the kitchen littered with cancelled checks and personal papers. The intruders had used up about three boxes of matches while doing the ransacking. Besides the television and camera, cigarettes and a small amount of cash was taken, to total about $400.00.

According to Mrs. Wood, it took two days to clean up the mess and there may be other things missing that have not been noticed. The intruders overlooked or did not want some old pieces of jewelry they had taken from a drawer and then left on the dresser.

Entrance was gained from the front by breaking the lock on a sliding screen door and heavy sliding glass door. This door was secluded and the action could not be noticed by neighbors.

Publicity officer for the American Legion said, "The boys from the American Legion are really getting primed for this game. We have the most fearsome lineup of sluggers ever assembled in the City of Walton. Just to name a few: Homerun Baker (Marvin, that is), Big Bob Mee; Wimpy Lucas, who trains strictly on potato chips and... the Big 'O' Crombie, who has a different diet but can really hit the ball.

"For speed, we have Check, the Flash, Ryan at short, the Galloping Glens in the outfield, also Bud, Rifle-Arm, Robinson, and a host of others.

"Although, being very fine fire fighters and a credit to their community, we don't feel the fire fighters are in the same class as far as playing ball goes. Our finance officer told me he would wager a George Washington at 'cent worth' to the Vets. So if you know Roy Brown, you can draw your own conclusions. Commander Bob Mee told me that he would donate to the Fire Dept. all the linament they needed, also would make available our wheel chairs and crutches to any member of the Fire Dept. After the game, free crying towels will be furnished to all Fire Dept. rosters.

Both regiments of who wins both of these teams are rooting for a sellout and for members of both teams a social gathering at the Legion Hall after the game."

Device To Re-Set Miles On Speedometer Illegal

Probably most of us have purchased a used car or at sometime will. We listen to the motor, look at the body, inspect the tires and check the mileage. We inquire about other things, but low mileage is an important consideration.

The thought may occur to us that the odometer reading may have been tampered with. But

The Union Light, Heat and Power Company

Background Scripture: II Kings 21:1-18; II Chron. 33:1-7, 9, 10
Devotional Reading: Psalm 143:1-10.

Why do people go wrong? The fact is, nearly every one who disobeys God does so because of some one else.

One of the worse kings in history was named Manasseh. He is denounced in the Bible not only on his own account, but because he "made Judah to sin." How do you make a nation sin? How do you make any one sin?

The answer is in another historian-prophet uses: the king "seduced" his people into sin. He was a kind of "devil's disciple" who lured (not lashed) his people into sin, worse than those of his godless neighbors.

Let's see how this works today. We can easily imagine the lineup out by the devil's disciples. No doubt Manasseh used some form of these same old arguments.

'SWIM WITH THE TIDE'

"Everybody does it... Everybody thinks so... Who sees any harm in it? It's the New Thing, it is the wave of the future... Statistics show..." and so on. Now wait! You can't use statistics by themselves to show that anything is right or wrong. You can prove by the books that the consumption of heroin and marijuana and similar drugs is on the increase. But that is a long way from demonstrating that the use of heroin is growing less and less bad all the time. "All the kids in school cheat one way or another," it's only a kind of game. What does that prove? Suppose they did all cheat (which they don't), so what? It would not prove that dishonesty is getting nearer and nearer right all the time; all it would prove is that honesty is getting more and more scarce.

'THE BEST PEOPLE'

Another line put out by devil's disciples in all ages is: "Look at the best people; they wouldn't steer you wrong." In Manasseh's time, as we look back on it, this argument seems and is pretty dreadful. For the "best people" were the king and his court, and what they did was often cruel and wicked to the sickening point. This evil king burned his own child alive as a sacrifice to the dark gods Molech and Baal; that was wicked no matter who did it. Sin is sin when committed by gutter-snipe or aristocrat. But at the time, it is a little hard (to say the least) to live differently from the aristocrats. "This argument, by the way, is seldom honestly put. The "best people" to whose example the devil's disciple points us are not always actually best. What is meant is the notorious people, the rich people, the social-register people, the playboys and girls. Those who get their pictures offest in the papers are not necessarily the best nor the wisest!

MAKING IT HARD

"You don't want to make a martyr out of yourself, do you? If you stand against the crowd you will do yourself no good. People will think you are some kind of nut." For example, when a young man (perhaps against the advice of his family) decides to enter the Christian ministry, one of the tests he will be required to take is psychiatric. This is only right and fair, for a man may be as unfit for the ministry for reasons of mental illness or weakness as by physical defects. But what is not so right and fair is the fact that often these tests are set and graded by psychiatrists who are not Christians. Their settled opinion is that if a young man "feels a call" to the ministry in the first place, it is a sure sign he is mentally abnormal. It is a fact that ministers (and one might add, Christians in general) in these times need to be specially hard-headed, to swim against the tide of popularity, to refuse to follow the pace-setters of society, and to face the scorn and even contempt of those who regard all godliness as so much weakness of the mind. But better this than saying "Yes" to any devil's disciple!

The rate of parolees convicted for new offenses in Kentucky declined in 1965 from 9.51 per cent to 6.48 per cent.

Rural accidents in Kentucky will increase from the 17,419 in 1965 to an estimated 32,800 in 1975, according to the Ky. State Police.

CRITTENDEN

Mrs. Walter Cooke, Reporter

Mrs. Lydia Doud has purchased a house at Piner and will move there soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neil have bought a house at Dry Ridge, and are moving Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cooke were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Caldwell at Verona, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Elliott and baby have moved from Bracht to the house of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Riley.

Miss Geraldine Roberts is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Austin Vest, Jr. of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sturgeon of Latonia, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cleve McAllister, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. "Doc" Bowen have moved into their new house they bought on Shady Lane.

Mrs. Bessie Tugate is visiting her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Howard, of Latonia.

Staffordsburg

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

It is almost unbelievable when we consider the life and influence of one person. As we think of the passing of Miss Emma Yates and many ways and places where she will be missed. The daughter of the late A. J. and Ella Frabry Yates, she had been a member of Staffordsburg Methodist Church since childhood. First as a teacher and for the past several years as superintendent of the Sunday school, she had given her best in any service she was asked to undertake. We have the best Sunday school we have ever had and largely because of the efforts of Miss Yates. Since her retirement two years ago as a teacher at Holmes High School, she had been one of the busiest retired persons you could find. She has been a volunteer worker at Booth Hospital and also ready to take help or cheer to the ill among her family and friends. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Louella Smith, Crestwood, Ky., a large number of relatives and a host of friends. Encouraged by her devotion to her Lord and His church, let us all "So live that when our time comes to join the innumerable caravan—we go not as a quarry slave—but approach the grave as one who wraps the draperies of his couch around him and lies down to pleasant dreams."

Mrs. Lila Swinford seems to be recovering nicely from her recent operation. We hope she will be able to return home soon.

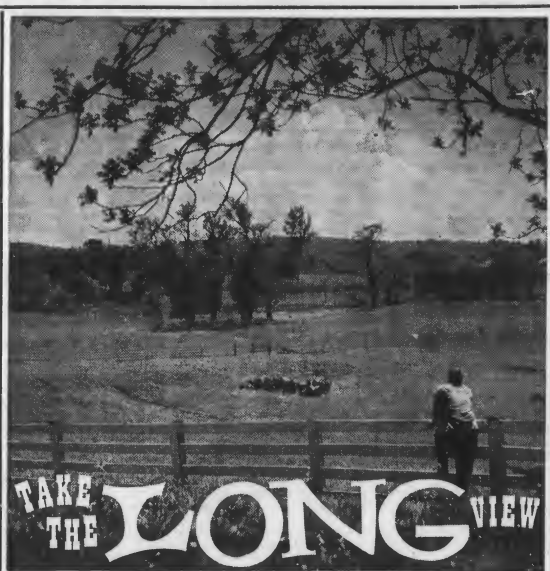

Mrs. Robert Casey, who has been in and out of the hospital several times, is now at home and so happy to be improving each day.

William Damon celebrated his 89th birthday last Wednesday. A number of his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren came with ice cream and cake to wish him many returns.

Several of the young folks from their neighborhood graduated from high school this year. We wish the best to one and all.

Mrs. Carsee Brinkley suffered a severe cut on the ankle while mowing the yard recently. We are glad to learn that it is healing satisfactorily.

FOOT ODOR—HOW TO KILL IT! CAUSED BY A GERM. Kill the germ, you kill the odor. You can't smell it. Your FRIENDS CAN. Ordinary antiseptics are no use. Apply T-4-L POWERFUL GERM KILLER for smelly, sweaty, itchy feet. If not pleased OVERNIGHT, your 48c back at any drug counter. NOW at Brakesfield Drug, Walton. 41-22c

Who doesn't dream, sometimes? Who doesn't stand gazing into the future, picturing that new house, that graduation day, that wedding ceremony, that deluxe-model car... the thousand and one dreams that man holds in his heart?

We realize that a worthwhile life must contain more than just material satisfactions. Without a confident frame of mind, our future will be nothing but tension and uncertainty. Where can we find this inner feeling of courage that will make things easier for us every hour of every day?

Millions of people find it in the Christian faith. The apostle Paul said that he was strengthened in everything he did by faith in Christ... and this truth is constantly being rediscovered by men and women urgently in need of something they can trust.

Faith is the key to peace of mind. With faith, you will be able to move mountains of frustration.

STOP HOUSEFLIES FOR 8 WEEKS

That's right...One spraying with new Purina's Cygon 2E Insecticide stops houseflies for eight weeks or more. Just spray this long-lasting insect killer on walls and posts in your dairy barn, poultry house, pig parlor or loafing shed to stop flies for up to two months! Purina Cygon 2E Insecticide kills flies that are resistant to most other sprays. Best of all, Cygon 2E Insecticide is SAFE to use around dairies and poultry when you mix it as directed. Call or drop in and ask for Purina's Cygon 2E Insecticide in pints or gallons right away. Kill flies early, before they start to breed. This spray is versatile. It can be used as RESIDUAL WALL SPRAY—inside dairy barns, poultry houses, hog pens and livestock shelters. SPOT SPRAY—around windows, doors, ways out on fences, around pens, corrals, feed lots—where flies gather. MAGGOT SPRAY—on fly breeding areas such as a manure pile and on poultry droppings in cage-layer houses to kill maggots before they become flies. REMEMBER—It kills all flies, for up to 8 weeks or more.

JUNE IS DAIRY MONTH

The nutritive value of a quart of milk is quite impressive, and something the dairyman can "sell" among his friends and acquaintances. Calvin B. Reeves, a Clemson University dairy scientist, says "Milk is still the most nearly perfect food despite improvements in other products." One quart of milk provides 52% of a teenager's daily calcium needs, 63% of the phosphorus, 40% of the protein, 83% of the riboflavin, 30% of vitamin A, 22% of thiamin and all the vitamin D needed. DRINK A QUART OF MILK DAILY.

LONG LASTING DAIRY COW SPRAY

Just one spray with Purina Dairy Spray Special can help you drymen stop stable flies and horn flies from bothering your cows for almost a week. Purina Dairy Spray Special contains Clodrin—a long-lasting fly killer that's safe to spray on dairy cows, and Vapona—a new kind of insecticide that seeks out and kills flies anywhere. In fact, it's the only type of long-lasting spray approved for use on milking cows—spray feeds them all week long on pasture or in the barn. Clodrin and Vapona are the two chemicals recommended by the University of Kentucky for dairy control on cows.

CINTI CATTLE DEMONSTRATION

The 40 head of steers at the Hopple-Long Ranch, Cincinnati Union Stockyards, gained 3.43 pounds per head per day for the first 70 days on feed. There will be one more weighing before the big windup meeting Tuesday, June 28 at the yards. Mark your calendar for June 28, 1:30 p. m. Outstanding cattle experts from several universities as well as local packers will be on the program.

WORMING PREGNANT COWS

It used to be that worming a pregnant cow could cause "drug stress" capable of causing an abortion. And even today, labels on most worming compounds warn against worming pregnant cows. But not PURINA WORM KILL CHECKERS! This wormer can be given to pregnant cows right up to calving without fear of side effects. In fact, PURINA WORM KILL CHECKERS can be fed to very young, very old and even heavily parasitized animals. Worm dairy cows during their dry period. Worm baby beef cows any time. A worm-free cow can produce up to 2,000 lbs. more milk the next lactation. Worm cattle now before the heavy pasture season. See us today for Purina Worm Kill Checkers.

A Look At Education

By Eugene Robinson

Procedure to be Followed by Those Districts that Plan to Take the 10% Permissive Tax Increase Made Possible by the 1965 Special Session of the Legislature—

(1) All districts will need to wait until they receive from the Department of Education a statement as to the amount of revenue that can be produced and the tax rate that will be required to produce such revenue. (This information has been furnished to second class cities.) They should receive this information sometime during the month of July.

(2) When the revenue data has been received from the Department of Education, the superintendent should develop his General Budget for the school year 1966-67 which would include the amount that could be produced by the 10% permissive tax increase.

(3) The board of education shall approve the request for the 10% increase and authorize by board action the necessary hearing as provided for in Chapter 2, Part 2, Section 3 of House Bill No. 1, which reads as follows: (4) Notwithstanding the limitations contained in subsection (2) of this section, any district board of education which in preparing its proposed budget deems that it will require an amount of revenue greater than that permitted in subsection (2) may submit to the levying authority for the school years 1966-67 and 1967-68 a budget which would require an increase in such revenue of not more than ten percent after compliance with the following: (a) The district board of education shall give notice of any proposed increase in revenue. Notwithstanding any statutory provisions to the contrary, notice shall be given by causing to be published, at least one time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or by posting at the courthouse door if there be no such newspaper, the fact that said increase is not exceeding ten percent is being proposed. Said advertisement shall state that the district board of education will meet at a place and on a day fixed in the advertisement, not earlier than one week and not later than two weeks from the date of the advertisement, for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal. (b) The district board of education shall conduct a public hearing at the place and on the date advertised for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal. (4) After the appropriate hearing has been conducted, the board of education shall finally approve the General Budget by board order and the General Budget shall be presented to the tax levying authority.

Remember the big softball game Saturday night, June 18, at 7:30 p. m., at the Walton-Verona High School field. The game is between the local American Post and the Walton Volunteer Fire Department for the benefit of the Knott-Hole Baseball teams. Come on out!

A release from the publicity department of the Legion says, "Since last week's article we have additional players from the Legion, who are so sure of winning this game that everyone wants to get into the line-up."

"We'll have more muscle power with Buck Cress, around 240 lbs., who can really hit a ball; Carl Hartman's 250 lbs. of pure muscle means a 'lawful' power behind a bat; Cliff Ryan and Pittering Dixon, while not carrying so much muscle power, have a lot on the ball; former Grant County star, Leroy Iseral, has signed to play, also Francis Kilgore, who runs bases like Ty Cobb; Junior Noe, a live wire for our outfield; Weary Arm Wethington will try for one more and probably his last winner; George Raybourne, a Knott-hole manager, has signed and will show us some of his winning tactics."

"(Seems like the Fire Dept. is equally determined to win and actually have big ideas about how they plan to do this—dreamers will dream."

"Remember these men are depending on you to come and 'root' for your team and make this a success for the Knott-Hole teams."

"The firemen gave us a 'story' Tuesday (too late to use in its entirety), but an excerpt said, 'We excel in fire-fighting and intend to show the 'old men' of the Legion just how the game of softball is played.'"

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY DR. KENNETH H. FOREMAN
God's Own People
Lesson for June 19, 1966

Background Scripture: II Kings 23:1 through 23:30.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 115:5-9.

"How odd of God to choose the Jews."

Who first wrote that bit of doggerel I have no idea, but the question must have occurred to a great many persons. Why are the Jews called the chosen people of God, his own special nation? Our official lesson for the week tells of one "renewal of the covenant." But maybe it will be better if we ask what sort of covenant this was, who made it and what it meant; because what the covenant was all about, we shall be on our way to an understanding of the meaning of the expression "God's people."

COVENANT ON SINAI

The Covenant of which we hear so much in the Bible was a two-sided agreement between God on the one hand and the people (nation, tribes) of Israel. There had been early-times covenants between God and individuals such as Abraham and Jacob; but there could be no covenant with the nation till there was a nation. This was first among the barren crags of Sinai Mountain. The Israelites had been rescued from Egypt, and the first thing God did for them was to make a covenant with them. "I will be your God and you will be my people."

BREAKING CHIEF TREASURE

Think what it would mean for a tribesman out there in the unfriendly wilderness where their national life began, convinced that his people, he included, were God's own people! You would have thought the Hebrews, wild as they were at that time, would keep that covenant and obey God to the best of their ability; but they didn't. At various times, under the leadership of various prophets, the Israelites (Hebrews) would gather through their elders, and ask God to forgive their disobedience and promise afresh to obey. But finally the prophet Jeremiah came to see that any covenant would always be broken until it was written not on papyrus or stone but on the hearts of men. But that is getting ahead of the question we asked. Why did God choose just that nation? There is really no answering that until we follow some hints some prophets give us.

SOME HINTS

The Covenant was not the private property of Israel; God intended his people to win numberless others into the same relation with God that the original Hebrews had. Even though the whole nation went to the bad, God would and did keep his covenant with any individual who held up his side of the covenant. While it was true that God looked after the Jewish people in ways that are amazing, this did not mean that he looked over and cared for Jews only. The prophets Amos and Jonah, for instance, made it quite clear that God had an equal care even for the enemies of his people, such as Assyria and the Philistines. Some of the greater prophets even proclaimed that God had "covenant people" in every nation of the world.

RELIGION TWO-WAY STREET

God is not an easy mark. He can choose and he can reject. Religion is not an affair in which we sit back and watch God do it all. Religion is a two-way street; God expects to meet us going to meet him. Another mistake is to suppose that God deals with men only in groups. On the contrary, the Bible makes it clear that there is no substitute for the single individual naked soul meeting God alone, one by one. Nobody rides to heaven on a group ticket. This talk about the covenant is not ancient history. Any one who today in humble obedience opens his heart to God like a little child, will find that he too is a child of the covenant, but God never spoils his children!

Kentucky's 33 State parks and shrines were visited by more than 15,000,000 persons in 1965—a new attendance record.

WHITES TOWER
Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

We were very sorry to hear of the death of Mrs. Della Swinford of the Tower. Although at a good age, we never like to give up those dear neighbors and we extend sympathy to the family.

Andrew Lipscomb of the Tower, is in a coma at St. Elizabeth Hospital after having broken a hip some three weeks ago.

Mrs. Stella Richardson of Staffordburg, is doing fairly well at this time.

Mrs. Grace Cooper of Inez Ave., Latonia, plans a trip. She will leave Monday morning with her daughter and family, the Wayne Cooks of Park Hills. They will tour to California for two weeks, then they will fly a Hawaii where Mr. Cook plans on starting a chain of beauty shops. Mrs. Cooper plans on staying six months before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Barrow of Latonia, entertained on Sunday afternoon with open house for some relatives and friends: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dietz, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Quigley, Mr. and Mrs. Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Downing, Mrs. Mary Pohlman, Mrs. Dorothy Bamberger, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Foltz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Binder, Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cunniff, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lamm, Jack Kelly. The occasion was the graduation of their two sons, Jeffrey and Ronnie Barrow. A lovely afternoon was spent with many good wishes for their future.

Jerry Binder of Roselawn Drive, is at present in St. Louis, Mo., and will go from there to St. Paul, Minn. This young fellow is really getting around.

Mrs. Howard Willoughby and children of Florida, are spending some time here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Binder, of Decourcy Road.

The congregation of St. Cecilia parish is having a farewell party in the cafeteria on Monday evening for Rev. Bamberger, who is leaving this church the 18th to take up services at St. Mary's church in Alexandria, Ky. He will sure be missed by all.

—Staffordburg Homemakers—
The club met on Tuesday, June 7 at the home of Mrs. Denver Binder of Decourcy Road, with 22 members answering roll call. The four missing would have enjoyed a very nice and interesting day with knitting and flower arranging as lessons. Mrs. Blush Rich gave the book report on Gene Dixon, and her predictions through life.

After a delicious lunch, served by the hostess, arrangements were made for a tour on July 9 to the Golden Lamb Inn, Lebanon, Ohio, for dinner and then to places of interest.

The next regular meeting will be in September, when we start a new and interesting year.

Unfinished Business

"I'm missing from this picture. I belong right between the subjects. For the old gentleman on the right is my father... and the young gentleman on the left is my son. But someone had to snap the picture."

It was taken on a Sunday afternoon. Earlier the three of us had walked to church. And Grandpa — (you know how you come to call your own father "Grandpa" after you have a son) — well, Grandpa put his hand on Jimmy's shoulder.

"You know, Jimmy," he said, "I've been walking to church down this street ever since it was a cowpath. And I used to think real proud-like, when I walked your father to church, that the Lord never gave me a bigger job to do than raise my son a Christian. But I feel just as proud walkin' by you — like all my important work 's done gettin'!"

Understand why I wanted this picture! And why I call it "Unfinished Business!"

Last Meeting Held By the Wa-Na Club

The Wa-Na Woman's Club closed the 1965-66 year with a buffet supper at the home of Mrs. Earl Courtland on Beechwood Road in South W. Mitchell, Monday evening, June 13.

The club was honored to have as its guest Mrs. Frank Dils, Governor of the Fifth District of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Dils gave a report of the club work in District 5 and gave other interesting facts concerning the State Federation project, "Jewel Manor," which is to be a home for younger delinquent girls in the state, who before have gone to Kentucky Village.

Following her talk, Mrs. Dils initiated the following officers who will serve for the new year starting in September: President, Mrs. Harry Henson; first vice-president, Mrs. Leo Flynn; second vice-president, Mrs. Jack Norris; treasurer, Mrs. Jack Rouse; kindergarten treasurer, Mrs. Mike Ryan; parliamentarian, Mrs. Lewis Webster; historian, Mrs. Robert E. Elenchmidt. The secretary-elect, Mrs. Gary Stephenson was also present.

The newly-elected president appointed her committees for the year. Mrs. John Taylor, president, presided during the business meeting and at the close thanked members for their support and cooperation during the year she served as president. Mrs. Taylor was presented a gift by club members as token of appreciation of her services. The spiritual guidance was given by the president.

Fifteen members and three guests enjoyed the hospitality of the hostess. Club members took a covered dish and the hostess furnished dessert and drinks for the lovely buffet supper.

Guests were Mrs. Frank Dils, Mrs. William Farney, and Mrs. David Webster. Members included Mrs. Gayle McElroy, Mrs. Leo Flynn, Mrs. Nelson Popham, Mrs. Jack Rouse, Mrs. Harry Henson, Mrs. Clayton Jones, Mrs. Malcolm Simpson, Mrs. Chester Sturgeon, Mrs. Jack Norris, Mrs. Robert E. Elenchmidt, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. David Peebles, Mrs. Wall Ryan, Mrs. Mike Ryan, and Mrs. Lewis Webster.

The Wa-Na Club will vacation the months of July and August and begin a new year in September.

Kunkel Receives Her State Degree

Jane Kunkel, president-elect of the Simon Kenton Future Homemakers Chapter, recently received the coveted State Home Economics Degree. She was one of 243 F.H.A.'ers in Kentucky who was awarded this degree at the State meeting of the F.H.A. at Murray State University. To be eligible for this degree, Jane participated actively in her home, her chapter, her school, community and district. She has served her chapter as recreation leader and social vice-president. Under her leadership, the degree program was doubled in strength. She was recreation leader in the district the past year.

Last November, Jane was responsible for organizing and displaying F.H.A. and Home Ec hobbies and projects at Simon Kenton's open house. These exhibits, together with refreshments and a combo group, enticed nearly 200 people to visit the Home Economics Dept.

Before the eighth grade girls at Twenhofel Junior High signed up for their course of studies at Simon Kenton next year, Jane and Dilema Sizemore encouraged them to be in Home Economics and F.H.A. Over 150 girls indicated their interest and asked questions about the program of the chapter and home economics. You may remember Miss Kunkel's article in a spring issue of the Advertiser, "What Is Home Economics?"

Jane and Patti Gibbs collected for the Wa-Na Heart Fund Drive in Walton, last February. She is an active member of her 4-H Club—the Keen Teens—and is on the Junior-Kenton in Kenton County. With all this, Jane finds time to be helpful at home. Two major projects carried the past year were "Caring for her own and her 7-year-old sister's clothing and health for three months."

Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kunkel of 902 Madison Pike, Independence. She has two sisters and three brothers, and each of them, except Gloria, have gone to college after high school. Brother Bob has just returned from Germany, where he served his country for two years, and Kathleen was in India for six months this year as an International Peace Corps volunteer.

1. In counties where there is more than one school district it will be necessary to secure agreement between those boards of education representing 90% of the county inhabitants as to the special tax that will be levied.

2. Each agreement has been reached as to the tax to be levied, each interested board of education should show in their board minutes the official approval action for said tax.

3. Each independent board of education should furnish the county board of education with a written agreement as to the tax that will be requested. The agreement should be signed by the secretary and chairman of the independent board of education.

4. The county board of education shall give notice of the proposed levy by causing to be published, at least one time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or by posting at the courthouse door if there be no such newspaper, the fact that such request is coming proposed.

Said advertisement shall state that the county district board of education will meet at a place and on a day fixed in the advertisement not earlier than one week and not later than two weeks from the date of the advertisement, for the purpose of hearing comments and complaints regarding the proposed increase and explaining the reasons for such proposal.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claxon

If you want a pleasant summer in your yard—be sure you've got poison ivy under control. Otherwise, you can spend miserable hours fighting the itchy rash that poison ivy produces.

Use either of the materials Ammate or Amtritol. Mix these as a spray and apply according to label directions. Make sure the poison ivy plants are thoroughly covered to runoff, particularly the leaves with the spray. Both materials can kill other vegetation with which they come in contact. Apply to avoid drift of vapors, or careless spraying. Both materials can be washed out of the sprayer with water when the spraying is finished.

The old standbys materials 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T also kill poison ivy. But we don't recommend their use in home yards because of the danger of damage to vegetable and ornamental plants from spray drift or careless application. Ammate and Amtritol are safe for use as far as pets or children are concerned.

If you place house plants outside during the summer, here are a few rules you should follow to obtain best results.

1. Don't put plants that have been grown under shady house conditions directly out in the sunlight. They must be accustomed gradually to the increased light, over a period of at least 2 weeks. Place plants in a very shady, protected location first, and then gradually move them out into the sun.
2. Don't depend on the rain for watering your plants. The increased wind and light will cause the plants to dry much more rapidly, so they will probably need about twice as much water as they did indoors.
3. Do fertilize plants more heavily than you did indoors. With the increase in light and water, much more plant food will be needed to keep up the accelerated growth. Feeding a half strength liquid plant food once a week is a good method.
4. Do establish a regular spray schedule for insects and diseases. It's much better to eliminate pests before their presence becomes critical. And it's harder to watch for pests outside.

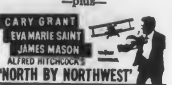

Saturday is the most dangerous day to drive. Nearly 222 per cent of all fatal traffic accidents occurred on that day in 1965.

Everybody benefits

A NEW INDUSTRY in town creates a chain-reaction of benefits that gives a big boost to the economy of the whole community. The U. S. Chamber of Commerce says that every 100 new factory workers means 100 more households...359 more people...$710,000 more total annual personal income...65 more people employed in non-manufacturing businesses.

Southern Railway benefits, too, when a new industry comes to the area it serves. That's why our Industrial Development Department, working with other community builders, aggressively seeks to help new industry locate an available plant site along our lines. That's why we have a national advertising program inviting business leaders to "Look Ahead—Look South" for greater opportunities for profitable long-range industrial growth.

For us, helping the South to grow is an important job. It's a rewarding job, too. Along our lines alone, in the past 15 years, businessmen with an eye for growth and profit put $8 billion in more than 5,000 major industrial developments, providing 285,000 new job opportunities for the people of the South.

Everybody benefits when industries accept our invitation to "Look Ahead—Look South."

Really Carefree

No one cares about Tina's and Mindy's cake crumbs or dirt tracked in from outdoors. They are about the only housecleaning problems in the Nolan Clift's electrically heated home.

Mrs. Clift tells us that her draperies and everything stay clean so much longer too!

Electric heating's amazing uniformity impresses Mr. Clift. "The temperature never varies over three degrees throughout the house," he says.

"And our reasonable electric heating averages only $16.40 a month, spread over a year," Mr. Clift adds. (The Clift's home has 1236 sq. ft.)

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY DR. KENNETH J. FOREMAN

The Crash
Lesson for June 26, 1966

Background Scriptures: II Kings 24 through 25; II Chronicles 36; Jeremiah 38 through 39, 52. Devotional Reading: Jeremiah 18:18 through 19:1.

A few once wrote a letter to the question-and-answer column of the Bible with monthly asking: What was the most important event in Jewish history? The editor replied that it would be hard to select just one, but in his opinion the two most important were the Exodus from Egypt and the Exile. By Exile he meant the scattering of the Jewish people among all nations, as we see them today.

Dr. Foreman, beginning of that was the crash of a city, Jerusalem, and the date was 587 B. C. The army, or part of the army of Babylon, came into Palestine and just took over the country. The famous golden city of King Solomon was reduced to rubble. With the crash of their capital (which is not wholly under Israel's control even today) went the crash of the nation, the royal dynasty, the hopes and dreams they had cherished for centuries. Thousands of good people asked themselves: "How can this be? This was God's city, we are God's people." That was a theological question and rates a theological answer (as many of our problems do).

WAY THEY THOUGHT IT WAS

What the citizen could not understand was how or why God had let them down. He had promised, by various prophets, that the royal dynasty would endure forever; he had said (by Isaiah) that no weapon formed against Jerusalem should prosper. They had made a covenant long ago with God. The Lord had delivered them out of many past calamities, he was strong enough to save them always no matter what. They could draw only one of two conclusions: Either the Lord was a god who did not keep his word, or else he was a weak God, one who meant to do well by his people but lacked the intelligence or the power (or both) to do what he honestly tried to do. Could it even be (they wondered) that their "god" was not god at all? Perhaps they had been worshipping an idol all this time!

WAY IT REALLY WAS

The way it really was, was this: God is not weak or changeable, not boastful, nor forgetful. The crash of the golden city was indeed his doing, or done by his permission. But it was not a case of letting his covenant people down. It was a case of punishment. The army of an invader, even a cruel invader, may be, and at that time was an instrument of punishment in the hand of God. That God does not change, is quite true. God is a Savior but also a judge; and sometimes (not always, be sure) his judgments are not handed down on a distant Judgment Day. Judgment Day can be NOW, and a nation may be on trial and the verdict Guilty. It was all the prophets could do to pound this into the peoples' heads, and most of the people never did open their eyes to the inside truth.

ARE YOU PART OF THE PROBLEM?

"What has all this got to do with me?" is a fair question. "I'm no nation, I'm only plain John (or Mary) Smith." Well, you are a part of a nation. There is such a thing as national character, good or bad. But national character is just the summing-up and interaction of private characters. And what creates character? The choices the individual makes every day. Acts of choice become habits of choice, and man's habits of choice are his character. If there were more people like you, would our country be better or worse? As Dr. Redhead is fond of saying, are you part of the problem or part of the answer?

It seemed everywhere you looked this week, there was someone setting tobacco. We wish them all an abundant crop.

Mrs. Jerry Colcord and children of Dixie Heights, visited Mrs. Howard, Thursday.

James Burke of the Tower, is a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital. We hope his illness is not serious and that he will be home again in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leonard of Sidney Drive, entertained on Father's Day for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leonard, Sr. of Fort Thomas, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Blinder, and Bruce of Roselawn Drive, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard, of the Tower.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard had as guests Thursday evening, Mrs. Charles Lancaster of Staufferburg, and Mrs. Mary Northcutt of Louisville.

George Binder, Jr. of Latonia Lakes, who has been away at college in New York, will be married there on Saturday. We wish this fine young man a good and successful life. He plans to continue his college work in the fall.

Mrs. Wayne Bridges and children of Flakburg, visited her mother on Friday.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Cecil Faulkner of Riggs Road, and extend our sympathy to the family.

Mrs. Jack Leonard, a teacher at the White Tower school, is attending the University of Kentucky for the summer session.

Pleasant Grove W.S.C.S.

At the June meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Pleasant Grove Methodist Church, Ryland Heights, the high school girls of the church were honored guests. The purpose was to acquaint the girls with the work of the Woman's Society and the following attended: Melanie Buxton, Bonnie Cayton, Gayle Deatherage, Donna Harmon, Ruth Jackson, Jane Jackson, Linda Thomas, Betty Welzel and Karen Welzel.

Mrs. David Kennedy, president of the Covington District WSCS, installed the following officers: Mrs. Vincent Harje, president; Mrs. Ion Cortright, vice-president; Mrs. Alfred Rich, secretary; Mrs. Fred Welzel, treasurer; Christian social relations, Mrs. Harold Buxton; Missionary education, Mrs. T. S. Moffett; Spiritual life cultivation; Mrs. Frank Ringenbach; supply work, Mrs. Gobel Deatherage; membership cultivation, Mrs. Vincent Harje; campus ministry, Mrs. Donald Cooper; program materials, Mrs. Ed Pezinger; representative of Christian vocations, Mrs. Virgil Rust.

Mrs. Ion Cortright presented a gift to Mrs. T. S. Moffett, outgoing president, for her service. Mrs. Cortright received a special membership pin for her outstanding leadership to the church. This was given by the Susannah Wesley Circle with Mrs. Harold Buxton making the presentation.

The program was presented by Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Harje. They recently attended the Seventh Assembly of the Woman's Division held in Portland, Oregon, and they told of experiences of meeting with Methodist women from all around the world.

Other members present were: Mrs. Charles Pruitt, Mrs. Ira Hicks, Mrs. Jack Zuerink and Mrs. Crutcher Masters.

NEW Perspective

She went up and up. "Again, Daddy, again," until from her great height she looked down on a strangely distorted scene. Daddy was different from the top. Mommy was little and far away. Even the familiar old tree had hidden its friendly trunk and she caught her breath with a thrill of the unknown. I saw her expression change and suddenly there was a cry tinged with fear, "Don't, Daddy!"

I dropped back while the swing slowed down. She tumbled out of the swing into my arms and I realized that there was a vast and unfamiliar world ahead for my child, with many distorted things. I looked across the house tops to a church spire and thanked God for a foundation of faith... to guide her through the uncertainties ahead.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Meat prices are expected to level off somewhat during June and the following months. A large supply of quality beef may mean that specials on beef will be seen more often than during the early part of the year—pork prices are expected to average less by fall, as more supplies appear to be destined for slaughter than a year ago.

Broiler production will continue high and consumption is expected to rise despite relatively higher prices to consumers. Canned red salmon and frozen scallops are two items in heavier supply—both may offer good values.

Fishery products are adequate to demand and consumption is expected to rise despite relatively higher prices to consumers. Canned red salmon and frozen scallops are two items in heavier supply—both may offer good values.

June is dairy month—the time for milk and milk food promotion. There are no foreseeable shortages in dairy products in that demands are not expected to outweigh supply. Supplies of milk production are below average this season but so is consumption.

Damage of low temperatures to fresh fruits and vegetables has not been determined definitely as yet, however, consumers may find the prices for these commodities higher than a year ago. Seasonal delays of certain crops can be expected, but warm weather in some growing areas can contribute to overcoming the delays in some areas.

Strawberries suffered some damage—depending upon the area—anywhere from 10 to 35 percent has been quoted for Kentucky. The early fruit outcome in Kentucky and nearby states is also uncertain but damage from frosts is for certain.

Greens and other seasonal vegetables will come to market from local and nearby states in June. Local green onions, spinach, Florida.

NO MAGIC WAND IS NEEDED to make a plain vanilla wafer the best-dressed cookie at the party. Just glamorize with fluffy white frosting and top with tinted flaked coconut, colored sugar, or chocolate sprinkles. If it's a children's party, they'll enjoy cookies decorated with doll faces.

CINDERELLA COOKIES

- 4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
- 1 or 2 tablespoons light cream
- Vanilla wafers
- 1/4 cup butter, melted
- Tinted Coconut
- 2 egg whites
- Colored sugar, chocolate sprinkles, or gumdrops

Combine about 1 cup sugar with the butter; blend well. Beat in egg whites one at a time. Gradually add remaining sugar and the cream to attain "dip" consistency.

Dip cookies in frosting or spread with desired amount, sprinkle with coconut, and decorate as desired. Place on cake rack and allow to set for about 80 to 90 minutes. Makes 2 cups frosting or enough to frost about 2-1/2 dozen cookies.

Tinted Coconut: Place 1/2 teaspoon milk or water in bowl; mix in few drops food coloring. Add 1-1/3 cups (about) Baker's Angel Flake Coconut and toss with a fork until coconut is thoroughly tinted.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

Well, after a week of very hot weather here, who would suggest Florida? I, for one, like mine a bit cooler, but we will enjoy it as we get it.

James Burke of the Tower, is still a patient at St. Elizabeth Hospital, a very sick man, but we hope he soon will be on the mend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Damon of Stauntonburg, are the proud parents of a new baby girl, who they named Betty Joe. This is their eleventh child...seven girls and four boys. We wish them lots of luck and happiness along the way.

Ralph Howard was tendered a surprise birthday party June 22 at his home...the children and grandchildren brought gifts and cake and ice cream.

Mrs. Jerry Colcord and children visited Mrs. Howard at the Tower on Friday...little Terry had to have a jaw tooth extracted and he was not feeling very good.

With next Monday being the 4th of July, we hope everyone has a nice holiday and that they all drive with caution and don't crowd the roads unnecessarily and thus have less accidents and heartache.

The number of licensed drivers in Kentucky increased by 44 per cent between 1964 and 1964.

The U. S. is one of the most educated countries in the world. The educational level is responsible for the prosperity we enjoy.

Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Reporter

The Verona area is growing larger every day, thus there are more news to report. The Walton Advertiser has honored us by allowing me to be the correspondent for the Pool Road area. So, you folks living in this area, let us hear from you.

The New Bethel Baptist Church combined its Vacation Bible School picnic with the annual Homecoming dinner this year and went to Butler Park for an all-day outing. It was a beautiful day, a little warm, but the crowd had such a good time they didn't complain about the heat too much. Some rode to the park in the Old Grey Coach, which is the church bus. Others went with Walt Ryan in his truck, and others in cars. A delicious dinner was served under the shade trees. Afterwards some

That Preacher Searcy pitched all kinds of balls, but Dr. Waller specialized in spit balls and spinners. THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

Divine "Therefore"

Lesson for July 3, 1966

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:1-2; Leviticus 18:1-11; John 2:1-12; Hebrews 11:1-4; John 14:8-15; Hebrews 11:1-4.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53:1-6; 12:1-3.

"... Because it's the law." "The Bible says so." "... It is immoral." "... But society expects..."

None of these, we are told, carry much weight any more. There is a rising tide of human demand for the abolition of the old morality and the installation of a "new" one.

What will be the basis of this "new" morality? Presumably, that which is "natural."

Rev. Althouse said. "The assumption seems to be, 'If it's natural, it's got to be good!'"

This was the reasoning of a man who recently wrote a letter-to-the-editor of The New York Times. He proposed an end to all barriers, both legal and moral, prohibiting pre-marital sexual relations. "It is unnatural to ask our youth to wait," he said. "What two people do together in their own privacy should be no one else's affair."

Another recent proposal that appeared in the newspaper came from a prominent municipal official who advocated that habit-forming drugs be sold openly to narcotic addicts, thus ending the illegal traffic in drugs and "eliminating the immoral element." The basis: "If they want to use drugs, that's their business."

CART BEFORE HORSE

Apart from these radical protests against the "old" morality, there are also the ever-present, if considerably less vigorous protests in our own homes, our own neighborhoods, our own communities. One cannot help but conclude that the protests against the old rules are in reality a protest against all rules.

This is hardly a new state of affairs in human history. It is the same dilemma that has faced man down through the centuries. For one thing, we tend to put the cart before the horse. We persist in thinking of law as the master, when in reality it is meant to be the servant.

WHY OF 'THEREFORE'

God did not come to Moses, tapping him on the shoulder and saying:

"Hello there; my name is God and I have here a list of ten rules that I want you and your people to obey."

No, what God did say was, "I am the Lord your God, who brought you out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage." Therefore "You shall have no other gods before me." Before God ever came with his "Thou shalt's" and "Thou shalt not's," he first acted on Israel's behalf, freeing them from the slavery of the Pharaoh. Only when he had first done that did he finally say: "Therefore, this is what I require of you..."

Therefore, "Thou shalt" relationship is the real basis for laws, rules, and commandments. There are certain expectations that govern the relationship between parent and child, between husband and wife, between citizen and community, between Creator and creature.

THERE IS PURPOSE

How does this change our perspective in regard to moral law? It means that God is not an overbearing tyrant who enjoys making people "toe the mark." His commandments are not the result of a "divine irritability" that just doesn't "like" or "tolerate" certain things. Behind his requests there is, not personal whim or caprice, but purpose. Though we may not always understand that purpose, we will respond to him as the Father who created us, as the gracious Savior who redeems us, the divine Spirit by whose power we live, and remembering what he has done and is doing and anticipating what he will do, we respond, not out of dull submission, but in loving and grateful obedience. He right to command us with the divine "therefore" is founded upon who he is: our Father.

4-H Club Leaders

Some people have asked me from time to time to describe the 4-H leader. I think the following paragraphs describe it better than any I have ever heard:

Somewhere between the sternness of a parent and the comradship of a pay is that mysterious creature we call a 4-H leader. These leaders come in all shapes and sizes, and may be male or female. But they all have one thing in common—a glorious twinkle in their eyes.

4-H leaders are found everywhere—at judging contests, junior fairs, square dances, and talent shows. They always are preparing for, sitting through, participating in or recuperating from a meeting of some kind.

They are tireless consumers of muffins, expert at taking knots out of thread, peerless coaches, and spend hours on the telephone.

A 4-H leader is many things—an artist making a float for the 4th of July, a doctor prescribing for an underfed calf, a counselor at camp, a lawyer filling out reports, and a shoulder to cry on when that dress just won't fit.

Nobody else is so early to rise and so late to get home at night. They receive no salary, but we never can repay them.

They are angels in aprons, saints in disguise. Their only reward is the love of the kids and the respect of the community. But when they look around them at the skills they have taught, and the youth they have built, there's an inner voice from somewhere that says, "Well done!"

VERONA

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stephenson recently entertained relatives and friends of Miss Roma Jean Stephenson, who was celebrating her fourth birthday. Those present were: James Stephenson, Miss Capple Mullins, Charlotte Rosenstiel, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Alford Kemper and Don, George Elliston, Mrs. Lena Harris, and Mrs. Mabel Readnour. All enjoyed the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Harris and family are enjoying a six weeks vacation visiting relatives in Kentucky, Missouri and Florida. We were happy to see Carol Ann was able to travel with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Readnour recently moved to Ft. Still, Okla., where he is stationed in the Army.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephenson and Roma entertained the following friends and relatives on Sunday recently: Mrs. Mabel Readnour, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stephenson and James, Miss Capple Mullins, Mrs. Lena Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kemper and Don, Miss Charlotte Rosenstiel, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Harris, David, Carol Ann, Gregory and Rickie, George Elliston, Miss Ida Mae Elliston, Mrs. Lou Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Harris, Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, Birdie Brown, Mrs. Alva Falls. Other callers were Wayne Akins, Rick Perkins, Charley Ryan and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Flynn, Mr. and Mrs. John Dicken and son, Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brannum, Dick Readnour, and Miss Ethylene Readnour. All enjoyed the day visiting and playing games, and touring the Stephenson mill used to be located.

Handy—Convenient—Labor-Saving

Handy...convenient...labor-saving...they're all terms used by horse owners to describe new Purina Horse Checkers. And for good reason! This new horse feed from Purina Research eliminates the work of feeding hay because the hay is built right in! All of the nutrients horses are known to require are right in the same bag. So, stop searching for hay...and quit wrestling those heavy bales. Ask us for Purina Horse Chew Checkers in the easy-to-handle 50-pound bags or bulk. If you already have plenty of hay on hand, ask us for Purina Omolene...a favorite ration for fine horses for almost half a century.

Feeder Calves To Sell High

Cow and calf operators will be glad to know that all indications are that feeder calves will be selling extremely well this fall. Bigger calves, 500 lbs. and up, will be demanding the premiums. Now is the time to start to crash in on these higher prices by creep feeding your calves. Let us show you how creep feeding can add extra dollars to your pocket book.

Protein & Grain Markets Advance

The past two weeks have seen a wild world protein market. Soybeans have advanced in price more than 50 cents per bushel. Corn is up to 15 cents per bushel. We are glad to inform you that we had booked several supplement products in the dairy feed line and are still able to furnish you Purina Checkerboard Dairy 16% at the same price. Please check with us for your complete dairy feed needs before buying corn or a poorer quality product. Also check with us on price of new Purina Dairy Concentrate 44% compared to soybean meal. Remember...we can freeze the price on your feeding needs for 90 to 120 days. Check with us today.

Purina Checkerboard Dairy 16% & 14%

News from several new users of Purina Checkerboard Dairy complete pelleted dairy feed sure has been sounding good. Production up and feed cost per 100 lbs. of milk down. Check with us. We can freeze the price for 120 days.

New Dairy Concentrate 44%

We certainly are pleased with the performance of this new product which was developed recently by Purina Research. This new dairy concentrate is high in Vitamin A and D and is built for top performance when mixed with corn or other grains. If you have been feeding soybean meal...check with us on the price of new Dairy Concentrate 44%...you will be surprised...we were.

State Will Prepare County Tax Tables

The state will prepare property tax tables for county clerks who request the service, according to Finance Commissioner Felix Joyner.

Counties have less time this year to prepare tax bills because the information needed to set county, school and other tax rates is becoming available later this year.

Because the next tax rates will be in tenths of a cent rather than in even numbers, such as $1.50, 50c, etc., the computation of tax bills will take more time than formerly, Mr. Joyner said.

State Local Finance Officer Dave Magill said some county officials have suggested that a table using a county's specific tax rates on assessed values at $10, $50 and $100 intervals would be helpful.

County clerks desiring the tables should send their tax rates along with their request to the State Local Finance Officer, Department of Finance, Frankfort, Kentucky.

... three Kentucky tree nurseries, operated by the State Division of Forestry, grow 25 million young trees yearly for planting within the state?

IN MEMORY . . .

In loving memory of my son, R. B. Cole, who passed away July 3, 1964—

R. B. I love you so much, although two years have gone by since God took you from us... but locked deep within our hearts is love and care you gave each of us... honey, how happy I would be if you were here, although better in heaven, better than here, only we miss you so much... more and more each day we miss you... friends may think the wound is healed, but they little know the sorrow that lies within our hearts concealed... you did so much and was so good to everyone, no one can ever take your place in my heart... there's a vacant spot which can never be filled... God knows how much we miss you. He counts the tears we shed, and whispers that you only sleep, he is not dead... we rest assured that you are happy in heaven now, awaiting our coming to meet you in that marvelous land of unending day, where sorrow and death are unknown... surrounded by the angels and our saintly loved ones, sitting at the feet of Jesus.

An End to Limping

Lesson For July 10, 1966

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:3; Deuteronomy 6:4-9; 30:15-20; Kings 18:17-21; Matthew 4:8-10; Luke 12:13-15.
Devotional Reading: Deuteronomy 6:1-9.

The president of a prominent American university was traveling in some of the more remote areas of northern Canada. It was springtime, the frost was breaking up and the roads were almost impassable. Coming to a lonely crossroads the conductor saw a large hand-painted sign: "TAKE CARE OF WHICH RUT YOU CHOOSE. YOU WILL BE IN IT FOR THE NEXT 25 MILES." The choices we make in life are often like that. We choose a road and find that we have also chosen a destination. That's what Henry Emerson Ford said when he said: "He who chooses the beginning of a road chooses the place it leads to." This making of choices is both a privilege and a responsibility, for we cannot complain about the destination at which we have arrived if we are the ones who have chosen the road.

Yet, much as we enjoy the privilege of choosing, we often try to avoid making decisive choices. As the old saying goes, we like to "have our cake and eat it too." We delay as long as we can with important choices in order to avoid commitment.

HOW LONG WILL YOU GO LIMPING?

The people of ninth century B. C. Israel provide a case-in-point. Officially committed to the worship and service of the God of Abraham, they nevertheless found themselves attracted to the Baal gods of their neighbors. The God of Abraham was a mighty God who had brought them out of Egypt's bondage and established them in the land of Canaan — but he wasn't much fun, something the Baal gods unquestionably were.

So they tried to keep both: the security of the God of Abraham and the pleasure of Baalism. A good idea if they had gotten away with it, but the prophet Elijah, that disturbing man of God, spoiled everything by challenging them to choose once and for all.

"How long will you go limping with two different opinions? If the LORD is God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him. (1 Kings 18:21 RV)

ONE MUST CHOOSE

There is a sarcastic play on words in his challenge. The priests of Baal did a limping kind of dance around the altar. The Israelites, he suggested, looked equally ridiculous as they tried to serve both God and Baal. Stop hopping from one foot to another! Let there be an end to this idiotic limping! You must choose between Baal and God. Walk one way or another, but walk, don't limp.

Jesus himself experienced this inner civil war, particularly during that period of soul-searching in the wilderness. One inner voice kept tempting him to use his new-found power to forcefully build the kingdom of God. "Why not?" the voice taunted. "Didn't God give you that power?" The voices were calling for a divided loyalty, a loyalty to both the God of love and the demon of raw power.

There could be but one answer: "You shall worship the Lord your God and him only shall you serve." Why? Because God requires it and man needs it. A man cannot survive divided within himself. These inner civil wars may cripple a man for life. If there is a God, then serve him. If there isn't, then serve something or someone else. But let there be an end to this limping!

Home Agent's Party Line

—by—
Nancy White

There is no "out of season" for products of your garden and orchard, if you have a home freezer or space in a locker plant.

Freezing is one of the simplest and least time-consuming ways to preserve foods at home. It keeps well the natural color, fresh flavor and nutritive values of most fruits and vegetables, if correct procedures are followed.

Two points I want to stress in this article are: 1) Use only the freshest produce possible, and 2) Freeze in small amounts.

No frozen food is going to improve in quality during its stay in the freezer; therefore, use fresh produce. Experiments show that a 50 percent loss of nutrients can take place in just a few hours. Never pick vegetables the night before and let them set overnight. And never, never break beans the night before. If you have to buy produce that has been picked a head of time, try to arrange to get it as soon as it is delivered to the market and at a time that you can immediately prepare it for the freezer. Refrigeration retards the ripening process. A wait is necessary.

The next point to emphasize is freeze only in small amounts. Vegetables that are blanched should be scalded in small amounts so that the water really never quits boiling and chilled just as quickly. This is the only way to regulate the timing of the blanching process and achieve accuracy. The homemaker is not equipped with large enough vessels or enough heat to blanch in larger quantities or enough ice to chill in larger quantities.

The quick freeze section of your home freezer should never be overloaded. Freshly prepared packages should always touch the walls of this section. Also, be careful about stacking unfrozen foods on frozen ones. This causes a thawing in the frozen packages that results in freezer burn.

OF tennis AND religion

It happened on the very first point as everyone knew it would. The champ was testing the challenger's backhand.

Champs are like that. Right from the start they probe for some flaw in the opponent's game. And when they find it — look out!

Life is just as probing and relentless. Quickly it uncovers our weaknesses... then assaults them again and again.

Is that why men go to church? It's one of the reasons!

Victories never come with glorying in our uncertain strength. They come with doing something about our proven weaknesses.

Long ago it became trite to observe that the Church is meant for sinners rather than saints. But it is sound Christian living to recognize honestly our shortcomings... and constantly, persistently to seek God's help in overcoming them.

Firemen's Picnic Set For Friday and Saturday

It's picnic time again, and this year promises to be one of the best... Friday and Saturday nights.

Chief Charles Worthington of the Walton-Verona Volunteer Fire Department and Life Squad, said that the firemen had been working overtime to get everything shipshape for the 21st annual outing.

There will be booths, rides, games, fish fry and refreshments.

The Homemakers of WLW-T will be on hand to entertain... there is no charge for this big-time show.

At 9:00 p. m., Friday, county and local officials will be on hand to dedicate the large, new concrete slab that the local Vols have installed. This slab will be used as a dance floor for the picnic, also as a roller skating floor, and in the winter time will be flooded and used as an ice skating rink... this is another public service of the local firemen.

This year, drawings will be held Friday and Saturday nights. On Friday, two Motorola transistor radios, courtesy of Webster Radio and Television, Walton, and on Saturday night, a 12-ft. aluminum fishing boat with 4 h. p. motor, and trailer, courtesy of Elsmere Marine, Elsmere.

Let's all attend and support the fire department... let's help them help us!

Auxiliary Needs Workers

The Ladies' Auxiliary will operate the food booth, and help is needed in the serving of the fish sandwiches. They would also appreciate the donation of pies, cakes, etc. which would be sold at the lunch stand. Give the girls a hand, please.

Save Oil Wins 34-7

Last week, Save Oil Co. of the Class "C" Boone County Knochle Baseball League, won over the Boone County JC's by a 34-7 score at the Florence field. The winning pitcher was Ricky Raybourne.

Mighty proud of his team, Manager Shorty Coyle took his boys to Coney Island, last Wednesday.

The boys enjoyed the Bat Cave and also watched "Skipper," the Porpoise, do his tricks in the water.

Mr. Coyle wishes to thank Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burnette who helped to transport and chaperone the team. A good time was had by all.

Kenton Garden Club Annual Luncheon

The Kenton County Garden Club was lavishly entertained recently with a Harvest style luncheon, given by Mrs. Wesley Hall and daughter, Elaine.

The tables were laden with a lovely array of fruits and vegetables from Mr. and Mrs. Hall's garden, which had been canned and frozen by Mrs. Hall. The unusual center piece was an arrangement of lettuce roses and green mint from her garden. The main topic of conversation was her delicious cucumber pickles that had taken 21 days to process. She commented, "it takes a true gardener to have enough patience to work for 21 days on one batch of pickles."

Preceding the luncheon, a devotional was given by Mrs. Lewis Gabriel and a reading, "Serenity and Beauty of Our Country Side," was given by Miss Elsie Hiteman.

Following the luncheon, an interesting demonstration on the starting of roses from a cutting from the mother plant, was given by Miss Jane Kunkel, a member of the Kenton County 4-H Club. Miss Kunkel has won on the local and county level with her demonstration and will compete in the State 4-H contest at the Kentucky State Fair in August.

The business meeting was led by Miss Elma Taylor, president.

Those present were: Mesdames Lewis Gabriel, Leontine Stephens, James Kenney, Forest Fopp, A. Rutter, Nancy Rohe, Wesley Hall, William Straw, and Misses Elma Taylor, Mary M. Stephens, Elsie Hiteman, Mary J. Cooper, and Elaine Hall. Guests were Mrs. Joseph Gadd, Mrs. Robert Messingslager, and Mrs. William Guttridge.

SAFE STOLEN FROM OFFICE OF ULH&P

Mrs. Margaret Fennell, local manager of the Union Light, Heat and Power office in Walton, returned from a two weeks vacation Monday morning to find the safe in the office had been stolen.

Entrance was gained by breaking the window of the men's wash room, and then the safe was removed through the rear door.

This is the second time that the safe has been stolen from the local office. No clues are available and nothing else seems to have been disturbed.

Tips On Exhibiting Vegetables at Fairs

Fair time will soon be here and many of you home gardeners will want to enter some of your vegetables in fair competition. Here are some suggestions from Hubert Davis, UK Extension vegetable specialist, Lexington, on selecting and preparing vegetables for entry in fairs.

Vegetables for fair exhibits should be free from injury, of top quality, and of the size that is considered best for market. Uniformity in size, color, shape and quality is very important.

Don't select vegetables for exhibiting that are over-mature or immature. Davis cautions. Dirt, disease, insect damage, or sun scald also detracts from the appearance of the vegetable.

Most vegetables, especially potatoes, should not be washed before they are placed in an exhibit, since washing removes the natural coating of the produce. Potatoes usually turn green soon after they are washed. Remove dirt by rubbing the vegetables with a soft cloth or brush, or if they are very dirty, a damp cloth may be used.

The appearance of peppers, cucumbers and tomatoes can be improved for exhibit purposes by putting a single drop of vegetable oil on a dry, soft cloth and rubbing the surface of the vegetables with the cloth. This gives added sheen to the products and makes the color seem more intense.

Davis also notes that, when possible, display areas for garden produce should be free of sunlight. Remember that one of the primary purposes of a fair is to teach. When you do a good job of choosing top quality vegetables for exhibiting in a fair, you help teach others how to recognize good garden produce, Davis concludes.

Teams Get First-Aid Kits

Managers and coaches for the Walton and Verona Knochle teams wish to thank the Walton Homemakers, Oak Hill Homemakers, John M. Taylor and Mrs. Lawrence Pettus, who supplied the teams with first-aid kits for this baseball season. The kits were badly needed, and once again thanks is expressed.

Plan Ice Cream Social

The Bykota Sunday School Class of the Walton Christian Church will sponsor their annual ice cream social Saturday, July 23, on the church lawn. Serving will start at 4:00 p. m.

Home-made ice cream, cake, sandwiches and soft drinks will be on sale. Watch for more details next week.

Republican Club to Meet

The Boone County Republican Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday night, July 14, at Republican Headquarters at 276 Main St., Florence, according to President James Mattingly.

Up for planning and discussion will be the annual Republican picnic, scheduled for the early part of August; the Republican fair booth, and programs for the Congressional and magisterial race. The meeting is open to the public.

The Kentucky State Police have a "Top Five Fugitive" program patterned after the FBI's "Ten Most Wanted" list.

Band Boosters Plan Booth at County Fair

The Walton-Verona Band Boosters will again have a booth at the Boone County Fair, which will run the week of August 8-13 this year.

Committee chairmen are being appointed and they will be contacting each band parent some time this week, regarding baking for this event. It is hoped that all plans can be completed by Aug. 1.

The booth last year was quite successful and it is planned to have even greater success this year as the fair will be running through six full days.

The work and cooperation of each band parent will mean a lot toward a successful booth. If you are not contacted by a committee chairman, please call Mrs. Delores Sargent, 485-4954, chairman on arrangements for the booth, and let the Boosters know what you can do during the week of the fair.

Plans are fairly well along at this time. All donations of bakery goods, coffee, tea, sugar, paper goods, etc., will be appreciated as these will cut down the cost of operating the booth.

Young Thornton Improving

Charles Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Thornton of North Main Street, remains a patient in St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was taken following his motorcycle accident on July 4th.

According to his mother, he is doing fairly well. Both wrists were broken and one leg, which is in traction. This is why he must remain in the hospital for at least two more weeks.

Charles can have visitors and would enjoy any company from his friends, if they are able to get in to see him. He also enjoys having cards from friends. His room number is 319 at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington.

WALTON F&M TO MEET

Beauty Pageant Set For Friday, July 15

At $5.00 per person, this includes a full course dinner, the pageant, and a coronation dance. Dennis Ray, organist, will play during the pageant, and Will Hauser and His Band, consisting of 13 pieces, will play for the dance.

An entry in the pageant is Miss Carolyn Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Armstrong, North Main St., Walton.

Grand Ole Opry stars, Bobby Lord (left) and Bobbi Staff (right) along with Ray Pillow, will be one of the featured attractions at the annual membership meeting of the Owen County RECC, on Tuesday night, July 19, at Grant County High School, Dry Ridge.

Familiar personalities in the country music field, these three recording artists will be backed

YOUNG REPUBLICANS ORGANIZE JUNE 20th

A group of twenty young Republicans held an organizational meeting at Heritage Steak House, U. S. 42, Florence, on June 20. A Boone County Young Republican Club was formed.

The following officers were elected: President, Richard Fewell; Vice President, Dale Ashcraft; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Jan Arnett; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Russell Cornett, and Treasurer, James Mattingly.

Staffordsburg

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

The family of Dudley Wade of Cynthiana, met at the home of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Denniston, July 3, to celebrate Mr. Wade's 80th birthday. His ten children with their families made a group of over 100 persons present to wish him every blessing. Our friend and neighbor, Mrs. Cecil Faulkner and several of her family attended though the fact that this day was her 40th anniversary of her marriage to Mr. Faulkner made for some sadness also on this important family occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger entertained a reunion of the Armstrong family July 4 at their home. Some 37 gathered from far and near for the event. Of course everyone brought favorite dishes, making a sumptuous meal.

Regret was felt in this community in the death of Andrew Lipscomb. The son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lipscomb, he was born and lived out his lifetime within a mile or slightly more. A hard worker and loyal to friends, he was respected by those who knew him. His wife, Melvina Rice Lipscomb, passed away several years ago. A son, Melvin, and daughter, Mrs. Kathleen Berkemeier, and a number of grandchildren survive him.

Mrs. Stella Richardson enjoyed visits from Mr. and Mrs. William Gasker, Mr. and Mrs. Winford Bates and Mr. and Mrs. Omer Lucas and son, Noble, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bach entertained with a picnic July 3, her brothers and families and her sister, Miss Beverly Vanlandingham. Beverly has been enjoying the week in the country.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Ora Stone has been a bit under the weather. We hope she will feel better soon.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

"Well, we have really had some hot weather of late and rain is needed so badly here at the Tower. It seems there are some good rains but they don't seem to hit around here, but we shall be patient and it will come.

We would like to extend our sympathy to the family of Andrew Lipscomb of the Tower, who passed away this past week; also to the family of Thomas Byrnes of Taylor Mill, who passed away last Sunday.

Jim Burke of the Tower, is home from the hospital and doing fine. We are glad to report.

It was a terrible tragedy, the death of Bruce Dallas, at the home of his grandparents. We wonder sometimes why those accidents have to happen to those young, happy lads.

The new St. Patrick Catholic

Church to be built on Mills Road, will have its first service on Sunday, July 10 at the Taylor Mill School building, temporarily, at 8:00 and 10:00 a. m. This will be a big project and we wish all success and luck along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howard of Walton, visited his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard, Saturday. Then together they visited a third brother, Bill, and family at Visalia. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent.

The Staffordsburg Homemakers went on a tour to Lebanon, Ohio, had dinner at the Golden Lamb Inn and enjoyed a wonderful day.

had taken delivery on a gleaming new car. He was pleased with his deal but while on the lot could not resist taking a last week at the automobile he had traded in. It was only a last year's model but he had driven it 35,000 miles. To his astonishment the speedometer read 18,000.

Angered, he wrote, "Can you do anything to stop this so the next person buying the car won't be hurt?"

When it received this information, the Consumer Protection Division did take action. The car had been resold but the automobile dealer agreed to make a suitable adjustment with the new purchaser and to discontinue such sales practice in the future.

The Consumer Protection Division depends on individuals bringing instances of fraud to its attention. When citizens show this type of concern for the welfare of their fellow consumers, the public as a whole profits.

Vest-Pocket God
Lesson for July 17, 1966

Background Scriptures: Exodus 20:4-6, 32:1-24, 1, Chronicles 19:29, Isaiah 46:1-4, John 4:7-24, Deuteronomy 10:1-5, Psalm 95:7-9.

A little girl was working at her table with great intensity of concentration and effort. Seeing her kindergarten teacher approach, she proclaimed matter-of-factly, "I'm drawing a picture of God." The teacher smiled one of her superior adult smiles and said sweetly, "But dear, no one knows what God looks like." "Well, they will when I'm finished," the little girl snapped.

In a kindergarten, such confidence is amusing. In an adult it cannot help but sound arrogant. It reflects not only upon the humility of the adult, but also perhaps upon the size of his God. "Too little!" is our judgment upon both.

The third of the Ten Commandments says: "You shall not make yourself a graven image, or any likeness of anything that is in heaven above... You shall not bow down and serve them." What's wrong with graven images? Is there something really harmful about them or is this just one of God's peculiarities?

No, the prohibition against graven images is not only for the satisfaction of God but also the protection of men. Protection, from what? From a god that is too small. Whenever a man thinks he can adequately sum up the meaning and person of God in some man-made object or original idea, he is insulting God and deceiving himself. Man needs to be protected from the vest-pocket gods of his own making.

EASY TO HANDLE

One reason that men like small, limited gods is that they can be more easily handled. The ancients fashioned graven images not so much to honor the gods, but to get them to work for them, to pacify them, or to keep them from doing them harm. The portable god was easily used and manipulated.

The Second Commandment, then, is not just an eccentric whim of God, but a fact that is essential to the welfare of man as well as the satisfaction of God. Having discovered the existence of an ultimate Higher Power, men have responded by either (1) trying to use that power, or (2) allowing it to use them. When our God is only vest-pocket size, we tend to try to use him to fill our own needs and purposes. But when our God is big enough for the ever-expanding universe we are experiencing, we will tend to surrender ourselves to him so that he may use us to accomplish his purposes.

Today graven images are not much of a threat to Christianity but the principle behind the Second Commandment is still very relevant. Our God may still be too small, too limited, too much fashioned in the image of man. We may be like the enterprising boy who charged his friends admission to his back yard to see an eclipse. God and his truth are not limited to our denominational and doctrinal back yards. He is too big and too complex to be limited by our petty parochial fences.

MORE THAN RIGHT HILL

When Jesus spoke with the Samaritan woman by the well it was apparent to him that her God was too small. Her vest-pocket religion was too small to include both Jews and Samaritans; the one of them had to be the "right" group and the other the "wrong." Her God was so small that he had to be worshipped on but one mountaintop and she was concerned to make sure which was the "right" one.

And you? What about the size of your God? Is he small enough for you to use and control, to divide the world into small, hostile neighborhoods, to fit into your own vest-pocket sized world? If he is, he is far too small — and so are you.

The number of Americans aged 65 or more is expected to grow to some 25 million by 1985, according to the Kentucky Commission on Aging.

MUST THINK IT OVER!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

That's what my parents said when I asked if I could go to Eddie's Sunday School.

You see, there are lots of churches in town. And my parents haven't decided which one we ought to attend. These are important decisions. They take time!

But that doesn't make Sunday mornings much fun. With all my friends at church, there's nobody to play with except that bully up the street. And Dad and Mother say I shouldn't play with him.

That's funny! How come parents can decide what kind of boys we should play with, but they can't decide what church we should attend?

Seems to me that going to church next Sunday might help us all decide.

Hot Weather and Milk Production
 With the present heat wave on, cows may back off from their feed and refuse to graze to any extent. Many dairymen are increasing their hay feeding in dry lot because of present pasture conditions. Hay feeding while cows are on grass will tend to keep butterfat test up. Heavier grain feeding can substitute for cows' refusal to graze. Clean, fresh water should be provided the cows at all times. More and more dairymen are increasing their feeding of Purina Golden Bulky in order to get cows to clean up their grain ration. Many good dairymen are top feeding a gallon of Golden Bulky per feeding on top of the cows' regular feeding of Purina Checkboard Dairy 16% pelleted dairy ration. Even with the present violent protein market, we are still able to supply you with Purina Checkboard Dairy 16% and Purina Golden Bulky at our regular price. See us today for your dairy needs.

How do you know when to pick cantaloupes or watermelons so they are juicy and at their peak of sweetness? If you ask other growers you will probably find that each person has his own secret, fool-proof method. However, since we are not keeping secrets, we will give the facts. Cantaloupes are picked for shipping when the stem end slips off with pressure. We call this "half-slip" or "three-quarters slip." The home gardener can pick his cantaloupes between "three-quarters" and "full slip," when the stem end almost falls from the melon. When you go into the garden and find the melon separated from the vine without aid, the fruit is probably too ripe and past the peak of its goodness.

Some people take a piece of straw with them when they go to pick ripe watermelons. This is how it works: "If the straw rotates either clockwise or counter-clockwise when laid on the watermelon, the melon is ripe. The direction of turn usually depends on which way the wind is blowing. While you are picking out your melon with straw, you may hear the next fellow sounding his melon by thumping. If it sounds like a hollow log, that may be the one he will take home. Others will cut a little plug from the melon with a knife to see how it looks inside. However, once the melon is plugged, they may as well cut it in half, and if it is not ripe, throw it away and go on to the next one. This may be a sure way of finding melon, but it is a costly one in the end. Other people use the "yellow belly" method to pick their melon. The portion of the melon that rests on the ground turns from pale white to a creamy yellow. However, some varieties turn yellow prematurely. In order to find a ripe watermelon, I would recommend rubbing the tips of your fingers over the surface of the watermelon lightly—if you feel slight ridges or a bumpy surface, pick it, because it may be a good one.

Perhaps you have picked a ripe melon and found it not up to your expectations because it tasted like a cucumber. Remember, it did not cross with the cucumber, even though they grew side by side. Off flavored melons result from the variety and the conditions under which they grew.

Controlling peach tree borer is similar to ordering your coal supply for the winter—it has to be done every year. The peach tree borer is one of the most serious pests of the peach tree, and, if it isn't controlled, it can cause serious damage or even kill trees. The fact that you may have treated your trees last year and the year before does not eliminate the necessity of treating them again each succeeding season. The most effective means of controlling the tree trunks and crotches with DDT or parathion or a combination of these materials. For many years PDB was used to control borers, but the materials suggested are more effective and there is less likelihood of causing injury to the trees when you use DDT or parathion. Best results are obtained from three different spray applications of DDT or parathion made about July 1, August 1, and September 1. If DDT is used, the 50% wettable powder should be used at the rate of 6 lbs. per 100 gallons of water. Use 15% parathion at the rate of 3 lbs. per 100 gallons. For best results, the entire trunk, including the crotches should be thoroughly sprayed with good pressure. It does not require a great amount of material for each tree. CAUTION! When using parathion, use all precautions for personal safety recommended by the manufacturer.

CARD OF THANKS—

I want to say thanks to everyone who remembered me in so many ways while I was in the hospital; all the doctors and nurses what waited on me and helped me so much; my neighbors who helped me and all friends who were so kind to send cards, their prayers and good wishes; to Rev. Kidwell, Rev. Garrison and Rev. Johnson. Again, I say thank you.

Piner Clever Clovers Meet

The June meeting of the Piner Clever Clovers 4-H Club was held in the meeting room at the Piner-Fiskburg Fire House with leaders as hostesses.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Rhonda LaFollette, who asked all to stand and give the pledges to the American and 4-H flags, which were led by Mike Daniels. Sue Fisk then led the club in several songs.

Roll was called and the secretary's and reporter's report were given. This was followed by the treasurer's report.

The ways and means chairman, Brenda Smith, gave her report.

Reports were also given on the Area Rally Day, which was held at Corner Junior High School at Hebron, and the Area Dress Revue, which was held at Ockerman Junior High School, Florence.

Leader Mrs. LaFollette urged all members to complete their projects so they could enter them in the Kenton County Fair which is to be held August 4-5-6.

After the meeting refreshments were served and games played. The next meeting will be held at the Fire House.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE
Lesson For July 24, 1966
Background Scriptures: Exodus 20:7, Matthew 5:37, 6:5-15; Mark 7:5-9; Titus 1:16.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 40:12-14, 18-23.
During the construction of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, Sir Christopher Wren, its famous architect, posted a notice in various places on the construction site:

"Whereas among the laborers and others that ungodly custom of swearing is so frequently heard to the dishonor of God and to the contempt of his authority, and to the end that such impiety may utterly be Rev. Althouse banished within these works which are intended to the service of God and the honor of religion, it is ordered that profane swearing shall be a sufficient crime to discharge any laborer that comes to the call." To Wren it was incongruous to have profanity uttered in a structure that would eventually be used to glorify God. The ruling was vigorously enforced so that this abuse might be utterly stamped out. God should not be insulted within his own house.

"You shall not take the name of the LORD your God in vain; for the LORD will not hold him guiltless who takes his name in vain". (Exodus 20:7 RSV) Isn't God being a bit touchy here? Why all this fuss over his name? Doesn't he realize that "sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me?"

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
The ancients, particularly the Hebrews, attached great significance to one's name. The name of a person and his personality were inseparably linked together. In the Bible we find that often when a man's character was changed, his name was changed also. Abram became Abraham, Jacob became Israel, Saul became Paul. If you dishonored a man's name you dishonored the whole person.

It was also believed that the name carried with it the power of the gods and spirits. To pronounce the name of the deity was to invoke his presence and set him into motion. Thus Christians still pray "in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord." Some people used the name of the Hebrew God to perform magical rites for their own benefit. This was a common practice for pagans.

The Third Commandment is intended to teach the people of Israel that God's name and the Being it represents is intended for praise, not for manipulation or for cursing. We are not to use his name in any way that would bring dishonor upon God, nor are we to speak or use that name without sincerity.

BEYOND MERE WORDS
Profanity, however, does not end with words. The writer of Titus says it simply: "They profess to know God, but they deny him by their deeds." What we do speaks louder than what we say. There is a profanation of the name of God whenever we profess to serve God and then live as if we believed he did not exist.

There was an irony in Sir Christopher Wren's pronouncement against profane speech. He acted boldly to eliminate profanity from this sacred site, yet something else happened that proved to be an even greater offense to God. Through lack of vigilance—perhaps that of the architect himself—someone was permitted to build the great pillars of the cathedral in such an inferior manner that today the structure is in danger of eventual collapse. The pillars appear to be very strong, but the materials inside them are very inferior. When I visited the cathedral a number of years ago the famous "whispering gallery" was closed off as unsafe, a stark example that there may be both a profanity of speech and a profanity of deeds.

Today there are many who are saying that man has outgrown his need for God. Of those who are replying adamantly with their lips, "Not true! not true!", there are some who by the profanity of their deeds are also saying: "Amen. God is dead!" "Why do you call me 'Lord, Lord' and do not what I tell you?"

WORKMAN INJURED

Gerald Terhume of Walton, originally from the Louisville, area, sustained several broken bones recently when the concrete truck he was driving sped out of control down a hill and into a deep hollow. The accident occurred on the R. A. Stephenson farm where I-71 is now being constructed. The truck Terhume was driving was completely demolished, tearing the concrete portion away from the truck. Terhume was pinned in the wreckage for nearly two hours as workers labored diligently to free him. He was removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he remained in intensive care for several days. His condition is now improved. He received a broken pelvis, collar bones, multiple broken ribs, dislocated hip and cuts.

We understand that this man is the father of five children and expecting again soon.

Kentucky was the first state in the nation to establish complete vocational rehabilitation facilities in all state mental hospitals.

—by—

Red stele has been found in Boone County strawberries this year. In seriously infected fields, crops can be killed or reduced to one bearing year. Fields infected with red stele cannot be replanted to susceptible varieties for 10 or more years. Poorly drained fields are most often affected. While this disease is of most importance in the northern midwest and eastern states, no major strawberry area in the country is exempt.

The most prominent symptoms appear in the spring of the first bearing year. Plants become stunted; leaves become "cupped" and have a dull, blue-green color. Older leaves become yellow and die at blossom or fruiting time. The main diagnosing symptoms are in the roots. In spring, the core of the lower roots become dull red. As the season progresses, the core turns black, and most of the lateral roots slough off. Very few fruits are produced by the plant.

Chemical or spray treatments are of no practical use in controlling this disease. Once strawberry fields become infected, no susceptible variety can be grown in those fields for ten or more years. Only certified, disease-free plants of susceptible varieties should be planted in other than well-drained areas where no red stele has been present in past years. Red stele fungus moves in water; plantings just down hill from a field previously infected with this disease can become quickly infected.

There are a number of strawberry varieties which are resistant to red stele. Information on those best adapted to a particular area of Kentucky can be obtained through the county extension office.

One of the commonest disease in Boone County roses is rose mosaic. Pale green-to-yellow areas feather away from midveins of leaflets. Sometimes affected leaflets are distorted. Some leaves develop ring, oak leaf, and water-mark patterns. Often plants are dwarfed and produce bleached, imperfect buds on short stems. There are probably an Ordinance granting and offering for sale a 20-year exclusive franchise to place gas transmission and distribution facilities in the public streets and places of the City of Walton, Boone County, Kentucky.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WALTON, BOONE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:—

Section 1. The City of Walton, Boone County, Kentucky, hereby grants and offers for sale to the successful bidder an exclusive franchise, consent, right and privilege, for a period of 20 years starting from the date of acceptance of the bid of the successful bidder, to construct, reconstruct, lay, erect, extend, operate, use, maintain, repair, replace and remove, (hereinafter collectively referred to by the use of the words "install" or "installation") mains, pipes, apparatus, fixtures and equipment for the transmission and distribution of gas (hereinafter collectively referred to as "facilities") within, on, along, under and across the public streets, alleys, ways, places and grounds of the City (hereinafter referred to collectively as "public property"). The transmission of gas referred to above shall include the transmission of gas into, through and out of the City, as well as transmission terminating within the City. In any "installation" of "facilities", and in the exercise of its rights hereunder, the successful bidder shall conform to all lawful ordinances, rules and regulations not inconsistent with this franchise and shall not encumber "public property" by temporary obstructions or excavations any longer than shall be necessary in the accomplishment of such purposes. In making any "installations," the successful bidder shall not, without consent given on behalf of the party involved, unnecessarily damage or interfere with any water or sewer facilities lawfully located on "public property." If, during the franchise period, it becomes reasonably necessary to reconstruct, reconstruct, repair or repair any "public property" or construct, reconstruct or relocate sewer lines, water lines, or other utilities owned or leased by the City, located within the boundaries of "public property," in such manner that any of the "facilities" of the successful bidder shall interfere therewith, the successful bidder shall, on written request of the Mayor of the City, within a reasonable time after receiving such notice, move or relocate the same within the "public property" so as not to interfere therewith; but the successful bidder shall not be required at any time to terminate any service provided by its "facilities." Where any such moving or relocation of the successful bidder's "facilities" is reasonably required by any such project of the City done in its governmental capacity, such moving or relocation shall be done by it at its own expense, but where the same is reasonably required by the City acting in a proprietary capacity such moving or relocation shall be at the expense of the City.

Section 2. The successful bidder shall render gas service from its "facilities" to the City and its inhabitants at such rates and under such conditions as may be applicable and effective from time to time throughout the franchise period, as set forth in its filings with the Public Service Commission of Kentucky or any legally constituted body succeeding in jurisdiction during the term of the franchise, and the requirements thereof. The gas to be supplied shall be as received by the successful bidder from its source or sources of supply, both as to kind and quality, except as such gas may from time to time be modified or supplemented through the operation of its production plants.

Section 3. Each bid shall specify the rate tariffs which, until thereafter duly changed, shall be applicable to service rendered within the City.

Section 4. Any bidder not presently furnishing the service required under this franchise shall make a deposit as required under the provisions of K. R. S. 96.020.

Section 5. The successful bidder shall defend and indemnify the City against any suit or claim for any expense or liability whatsoever by reason of negligence attributable to the successful bidder, provided, however, that any expense or liability resulting from joint or concurrent negligence attributable to the City and to the successful bidder shall be borne by the City and the successful bidder equally.

Section 6. In the event the successful bidder is unable to secure or resecure from other political subdivisions such rights as are necessary for the construction or operation of "facilities" reasonably needed to provide gas service to the City and its inhabitants, the successful bidder may, upon its giving of notice, be released from all obligations under this Ordinance during the remainder of the franchise period or until such rights are secured or resecured. In the event the successful bidder does not, as of the date of the passage of this Ordinance, maintain "facilities" in the City, such successful bidder shall commence the construction of the necessary "facilities" within one year after the acceptance of its bid or after receipt of any necessary authorization from the appropriate governmental agencies, whichever is later, and supply gas to the City and all of its inhabitants qualifying for the same within eighteen months after such date, or his franchise shall be void.

Section 7. The words successful bidder, as used in this Ordinance, mean the successful bidder and his, its or their heirs, successors and assigns, each of which must, upon rendering service hereunder, be a "utility" providing gas service under K. R. S. 278.010 and any succeeding section. The word City, as used in this Ordinance, means the City of Walton, Boone County, Kentucky, its successors and assigns, as it now exists or hereinafter may be changed through annexation, reduction of its boundaries, merger, consolidation, or other similar proceedings.

Section 8. The City Clerk is hereby directed to advertise, as provided by law, for bids for the franchise provided for in Sections 1 through 10 of this Ordinance, such bids to be received by the City Council of the City at its regular meeting to be held at 7:30 P. M. on the 11th day of August, 1966. Each bid shall be sealed and marked "Bid for Gas Franchise," and shall be opened by the City Council at its said regular meeting. The City Council shall have the right to reject any and all bids.

Section 9. This Ordinance and the bid accepted by the City Council of the City shall, upon passage of the Ordinance accepting the bid, constitute a contract between the City and the person, firm or corporation to which the franchise is awarded.

Section 10. This Ordinance shall be effective at the earliest time allowed by law.

Passed this 14th day of July, 1966.

CAPITOL OVERLOOK GUIDE—First out-of-state tourists to view a new historical marker at the Capitol overlook in Frankfort were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hutson, Sharpsburg, Md. The new plaque was dedicated by Governor Edward T. Breathitt.

U. S. Senator Lausche (D-Ohio) said the battle against water pollution is the most important problem facing the nation today.

NATIONAL FARM SAFETY WEEK

"Day-to-day living seems to be a hazardous task these days. At least this would be a logical deduction from the accident death figures released by the National Safety Council indicating 107,000 persons lost their lives due to accidents during 1965. And during the same period, another 10,500,000 persons were victims of disabling injuries.

Accidents kill more than 8,000 farm residents each year, and an additional 700,000 or more are the victims of disabling injuries.

This is an alarming situation, not only because of the grief to loved ones, the expense and the unnecessary suffering, but also because of the monetary loss to the nation.

It is for these reasons that President Lyndon B. Johnson has proclaimed July 24-30 as National Farm Safety Week. The proclamation draws attention to farm safety for a period of one week but is intended to emphasize the importance of safety throughout the year.

The word "safety" has become a part of everyone's vocabulary, but it is now imperative that we do more than use it in conversation. We must put it into everyday practice before results can be expected.

Farm Safety Week comes at a time of the year when farm people are actively involved in all phases of farm work, an ideal time to check the safety of the farm environment.

Practicing safety during National Farm Safety Week can create life saving habits throughout the year.—From the Farm Safety Clip Sheet, published by the National Safety Council.

From President Johnson's Proclamation: American farmers have achieved more progress during the past three decades than in all our previous history. One American farmer today feeds and clothes himself and 32 others. Thanks to progress, a single farmer today can do all the work that once was performed by four. National Farm Safety Week is July 24-30.

Kentucky's first governor, Isaac Shelby, died 140 years ago this month. His marker is located near the site of his home, Traveler's Rest, in the Isaac Shelby Burial Ground, South of Danville, on U. S. 127.

L&N TO DISCONTINUE TWO PASSENGER TRAINS

The Louisville & Nashville Railroad filed Tuesday with the Interstate Commerce Commission notices of its intention to discontinue operation of its passenger trains No. 1 and No. 4 between Cincinnati, Ohio and Montgomery, Ala.

"This action is necessary because of the drastic decline in the use of the two trains," R. P. Ethridge, the L&N general passenger agent said. He pointed out that a big contributing factor to this decline has been the use of private automobiles, busses and planes.

Mr. Ethridge said the last day of operation of No. 1 and No. 4 would be August 27.

New minimum requirements to provide better safety and comfort in school buses were adopted in 1965 by the Kentucky Department of Education.

By Robert Matthews, Attorney General

Three New Consumer Laws Now In Effect

Three measures which affect you as consumers have gone into effect.

Requested by the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office, the bills have to do with preventing undesirable sales practices and were sought for the purpose of protecting the buying public and the legitimate businessman.

All three passed both houses of the Legislature without a single dissenting vote.

The first measure, Senate Bill 111, insures the legitimacy of "Going Out of Business," "Fire," "Lost Our Lease," and similar types of sales.

The second, Senate Bill 112, defines the terms "wholesale" and "at wholesale price" and prohibits false use of these terms in selling.

The last Act, Senate Bill 270, makes sales based on referral schemes a violation of the lottery statute.

These new laws, representing tangible efforts of the Attorney General's Office to aid consumer and merchant alike, will be discussed in future columns.

Klip Klop Klub Meets

An over-night trail ride for club members was held July 13. After the meeting, a film was shown on the American cowboy, after which refreshments were served.—Reporter

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I am a member of the National Guard and have served three years in this capacity, including a 15-day active duty period each year. Does this service qualify me for educational assistance under the new GI Bill?

A—National Guard drills and 15-day tours of training duty do not qualify a person for the new GI Bill. Eligibility requires at least 181 days active military service (as opposed to training), or if service were less than this period of time, it must have been terminated by reason of service-incurred disability. The veteran must have also served on or after February 1, 1955.

Q—Would a doctor participating in the VA Career, Resident Program as a full time physician of the Department of Medicine and Surgery be eligible to schooling under the new GI Bill?

A—No. Those participating in the residency and internship program under 38 USC 4114(b) would be entitled.

Q—I am a serviceman now on active duty. I previously served more than 180 days, part of this period after January 31, 1955, and honorably discharged. I plan to continue my education at a nearby college and my duty schedule will permit me to carry an academic load of 10 semester hours. What is the rate of educational allowance payable to me by the VA. I have a wife and child.

A—You will be entitled to the same 34 rate of $115 per month which is payable to a discharged veteran with two dependents... (VAR 14126(B).)

Hay Shortage This Winter

Many dairymen contacted the past couple of weeks wanted to talk about Purina's Limited Roughage Feeding Program. With hay harvest going to be short, and the prospect for hay to be high this fall and winter, the limited roughage feeding program can be a real profit-making opportunity for dairymen. On this program 1 lb. or less of hay is fed per day to each cow compared to 18 to 25 lbs. of hay. Arthur and Stanley Adams, Williamstown, Ky., were on this program in 1965 when hay was selling for $40.00 per ton. During the first 12 days they needed $28.12 more profit off of 14 cows than the previous period when they were not on the limited roughage program. If hay is going to cost you more than $30 a ton, check with us for the details of this LIMITED ROUGHAGE FEEDING PROGRAM.

Cincinnati Cattle Demonstration

After 97 days on full feed, the 40 head of steers were still gaining 3 lbs. per head per day. In fact they gained 3.04 lbs. on 4.89 lbs. of feed. With corn based at retail price of $1.55 per bu., the feed cost was 22.4 cents per lb. of gain. The cattle that have been killed to date have dressed out better than $1.55 and have graded choice. We sure would like to talk to you about feeding out your calves or buying cattle to be fed out. Give us a call.

Most Cattle Herds Infested

A recent survey of 471 Midwest herds revealed that 92 per cent of them were infested with roundworms. Now, for the first time in history, you can control roundworms efficiently, easily and without upsetting your animals, by using Purina Worm Kill Checkers. DAIRY HEELERS worm at three months. Repeat each spring and fall until added to milking herd. DAIRY COWS worm during the dry period. BEEF COWS and HEIFERS worm in the spring and fall. A worm-free cow can produce up to 1,000 lbs. more milk the next lactation. See us today for Purina Worm Kill Checkers.

Pretty Wedding Solemnized Friday

The marriage of Miss Nancy Sue Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton B. Jones, of Walton, to Mr. Kerry Reed Vest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Vest, of the Verona-Crittenden Road, near Verona, was solemnized in an impressive candlelight service at the home of the bride's parents on Friday evening, July 22. Approximately seventy-five relatives and close friends attended the ceremony and the reception which followed.

Rev. William R. Moore, pastor of Liberty Christian Church, and formerly of the Walton Christian Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

One end of the long living room of the Jones home was tastefully and beautifully decorated with palms, candelabras, and a mantle arrangement of white gladioli and carnations. This formed the background for the wedding ceremony. For music, before and during the ceremony, Mrs. Harry Henson made a tape recording of beautiful organ music, including the traditional wedding march. Mrs. Ed Egan sang two favorites, "I Love You Truly" and "Because" before and the "Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her chapel-length gown of silk organza and lace over slipper satin styled with empire lines. The fitted bodice of chantilly lace was fashioned with a scalloped scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves. Motifs of the same lace were placed on the front of the organza skirt, also over slipper satin. The detachable train of satin tied with streamers in the front. The bride designed and made her own wedding gown and the dresses of her two attendants. The illusion veil came to the elbow and the bride's cascade bouquet was of mums and Stephanotis with an orchid in the center.

The bride chose as her attendants, Miss Linda Vest, sister of the groom, as her maid of honor. Miss Vest wore a street length dress of melon colored peau de soie with organza trim of the same shade. And as the Junior bride's maid, Miss Evelyn Jones, sister of the bride, was attired in turquoise peau de soie styled the same as the maid of honor. Their headpieces were of organza and net and the girls carried colonial baskets of tea roses and tinted carnations with matching streamers.

Home Agent's Party Line

-by- Nancy White

Durable press is perhaps the most significant textile breakthrough of the decade. Though many years have been spent on this development, the finished product is rather new to the market. The first durable press garments were cotton. Certain disadvantages were noted in the early articles and consequently all cotton durable press was taken off the market until the problems could be overcome. Fall is predicted to herald the return of cotton durable press to the retail counters in strong force.

The advantages of all-cotton durable press were spelled out in a recent issue of Cotton Research Notes, an authoritative research publication directed to scientists and engineers who conducted the American cotton research program and to those who support and encourage these efforts. Excerpts from the article are quoted here for your information.

All cotton DP products offer 10 plus values:

1. Easy care... Cotton DP, unlike the blend products, is completely insensitive to washing and drying temperatures. Cool or lukewarm water is not required in laundering cotton DP items, nor is cool cycle at the end of tumble drying.

2. Better laundering... All cotton DP garments come clean in laundering, unlike polyester blends which scavenge soil in washing and become gray or dingy looking. Only soil spots on the blend fabrics are also often difficult or impossible to remove, even with special spotting treatments.

3. Durable performance... Even synthetic fiber manufacturers concede that true durable press performance depends on the permanent set which chemical treatment gives to cotton. The thermoplastic synthetics and blends gradually lost their shap-holding character, especially when laundered or dried at elevated temperatures.

4. Non-pilling... Many DP blend garments develop small fuzzy balls or pills, after a short period of service. Non-pilling cotton is not susceptible to this type of appearance loss.

5. Non-see-through... Most blend fabrics, particularly those containing the higher levels of synthetic fiber, lack the hiding power or capacity of all-cotton DP fabrics.

6. Comfort... The absorbency and anti-static properties of DP fabrics made entirely of cotton provide consumers with greater comfort than the blend or synthetic products.

7. Non-hole-burning... Sparks or cigarette ashes quickly melt holes in many of the blend DP products because of the thermoplastic nature of the synthetic fiber component. The all-cotton products resist hole burning.

8. Styling versatility... Variety is greater and finishing problems much less with all-cotton fabrics than with blends.

9. Manufacturing ease... Cutting sewing and pressing the all-cotton DP products present fewer problems than the blends and seam performance and all-over appearance are usually better.

10. Economy... In such items as shirts and trousers, the all-cotton durable press garments are usually available at a dollar or more less than the blend products. This saving results from cotton's lower cost plus its advantages in processing, finishing, and manufacturing.

Truth In Advertising Law Protects Consumer

Everyone likes a bargain. As Benjamin Franklin said, "a penny saved is a penny earned."

It is hard to resist buying something when it is advertised "wholesale" or "at wholesale price." The trouble with such claims, they seldom mean what they say.

This no longer will be the case. The buyer will get the same "bargains" but he won't be deceived by this type of advertising. Senate Bill 112, requested of the Legislature by the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's office, became effective during June.

The law defines "wholesale" as meaning "to sell in quantity or bulk for purpose of resale at retail" and prohibits anyone from "advertising, claiming or implying" that he is doing so when in fact he is offering goods at a "reduced" retail price instead of wholesale.

The Act doesn't fix the price at which the seller may offer his goods or increase the cost to the consumer. It merely removes a deceptive practice and aids the cause of truthfulness and fair play in the market place, something that is welcome alike by the honest merchant and the intelligent consumer.

SAVE OIL TIED FOR SECOND PLACE IN LEAGUE STANDING

Walton Save Oil Co., Class C in the Boone County Knottshole Baseball League, won over Hebron A.C. Monday afternoon at Florence.

In the last inning, Save Oil scored five runs. The winning pitcher, Ricky Raybourne, came to bat and slammed out a triple. He walked no one and allowed only four hits during the game. The final score was 7-0.

To break a tie for second place in the league, Save Oil will meet Eades Trucking at Florence Elementary School field this Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

These boys want to play ball in Cincinnati this year attend the game, and root for them Saturday.

Favorable weather is no safeguard against highway accidents. The overwhelming percentage of all accidents in 1965 occurred during clear, dry weather.

POOL ROAD AREA

Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Reporter

Good luck and bad luck strikes in the James Rice family at the same time. Mrs. James Rice, Sr. recently fell and broke an arm in three places. Joyce Rice Zevely had an operation in St. Elizabeth Hospital—these two ladies are recuperating in the home of James Rice, Jr. in this area—we hope they are both feeling much better by this time. For a somewhat happier note, Miss Sarah Rice has been crowned winner of the Owen County Rural Electric Co-op beauty contest. Miss Rice was beautiful as she came out on stage, first wearing a bathing suit, then in a black sheath dress, as she delivered a nice, short speech. And Sarah we do hope you do get that trip to California.

I always thought that rainy weather made people want to stay in, but such is not the case now-a-days. I believe every family on Poole Road had more than a little bit of company this weekend. All of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cuzick's children and their families were visiting at home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Buck Baker and family were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Forest Martin and Wayne during the week.

IS MASTITIS YOUR PROBLEM?

Purina Research brings good news to dairymen! Now...you can forget about mastitis, if you remember Purina's "Big 3" Mastitis Control Products...Novo-Mast...a real two-fisted mastitis fighter that is effective against 99% of all organisms causing mastitis. It contains Prednisolone, Neomycin Sulfate, Procaine Penicillin G, Novobiocin and Dihydrostreptomycin. Pura-Mast...a potent individual dose mastitis treatment that comes in a new bellows-type applicator containing five fast-acting bacteria fighters, plus a special drug that helps reduce inflammation. Purina Mastitis Control the ideal product for large herd mastitis treatment and prevention. Each 10 cc contains three specific antibiotics and two potent sulfa for broad bacterial action and fast results. We will be more than happy to sit down with you and go over in detail Purina Novo-Mast, Purina Pura-Mast and Purina Mastitis Control. Purina's "BIG 3" ways to help you get healthier cows...increase production and more milk dollars by helping wipe out mastitis.

DECLARE WAR ON FLIES

It is possible for one female housefly to be responsible for the production of 191,010,000,000,000,000 houseflies in four months. The housefly is a nonbiting, but is capable of spreading filth and disease organisms, and it serves as an intermediate host of certain internal parasites. PURINA FLY BAITS attract and kill houseflies. They contain 20 potent fly killers...plus a combination of natural and synthetic attractions to lure flies to their DEATHS. Let us show you how simple it is to use new PURINA FLY BAITS TO KILL FLIES.

SWITCH NOW TO CHECKERBOARD DAIRY 16%

With corn prices continuing to rise, now is a good time to switch to Purina Checkboard Dairy 16% Milking Ration. This terrific high efficiency milking ration is pelleted and was formulated by Purina Research specifically to help Kentucky dairymen produce milk at an economical cost. It is a pelleted high energy ration and contains the proper balance of protein, vitamins, and minerals to help dairy cows convert this extra energy into milk...extra milk that is. Checkboard Dairy is 20% more efficient than a milking ration containing ear corn since the cob is 20% of the ear corn. Come in...let's figure what your present ration is costing and how you can move up to Checkboard Dairy Milking ration for more profit in your milk check.

CARS AND COWS

We feel that a dairy cow is like an automobile...the more gasoline the faster it goes and the more feed she gets the more milk she gives. The cow, like the automobile, must have maintenance. During the dry period you can get your cows in top condition for the next lactation by feeding her one pound of Purina D&F Chow or corn and Golden Bulky for every 100 lbs. of body weight or 1,000 lbs. of milk she produced last lactation, whichever is the greatest. An example: a 1,200-lb. cow would get 12 lbs. of D&F Chow every day until she freshened. If the cow would have produced 16,000 lbs. of milk her last lactation she would have received 16 lbs. of dry cow ration every day. Let us show you how you can get up to a ton more milk next lactation by feeding the cow during her dry period.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by— Joe Claxon

Your supply of fresh vegetables does not have to end when summer is over. By planting certain vegetables you can extend the harvesting season to late November or early December. Some vegetables grow well after frost has killed most of the common garden crops. Some of the vegetable crops which you can harvest in October, November or December are cabbage, kale, lettuce, mustard, radish, broccoli, cauliflower and turnips.

Crops planted in the fall garden as transplants are cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower. Some gardeners start lettuce in seed flats, then transplant to the garden. Cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower should be transplanted to the garden about July 15. Lettuce can be transplanted from August 15 to September 15. Allow five to six weeks for growing your transplants.

Seed carrots and kale about July

15 to give them enough time to develop. Mustard, radish and turnip should be seeded from August 1 to 15.

All of the fall crops except carrots and radishes will need dusting or spraying to control insects.

The same insecticides used during the summer may be used on the fall crops. These materials are Sevin, DDT, malathion, and methoxychlor. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations printed on the package.

Apply four to five pounds of 5-10-10 or 6-12-12 fertilizer per 100 feet of row.

Open the furrow, plant the seed, apply one gallon of water to each ten feet of row, and then cover the seed. Cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower need to be irrigated. Unless water is available for irrigation, these crops may not mature.

Kentucky State Parks are credited with having "the finest overnight lodgings of any public areas in the country" in Vacations, USA, a new book written by Michael Frome, noted travel editor.

Christians should know that 1966 of our calendar is year 5,726 of the Jewish calendar. This reminds us that Israel's faith is ancient and time-tested.

Made for Man

Lesson For July 31, 1966

Background Scriptures: Exodus 20:8-11; Isaiah 1:12-17; Luke 6:1-11; Mark 2:23 through 3:6; John 5:16-18.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 84:1-6, 10-12.

"Because I said so!" This is a typical response from a parent to the inevitable "why?" of the child who has been told to do something. "Ours is not to reason why, ours is but to do and die," mused a teenager in my presence some time ago.

The fact is, however, that many people do "reason why," or at least attempt to do so. For short-range results "Because I said so!" may

Rev. Althouse be a adequate, but for long-range results it is best that we take cognizance of the need to "reason why." Too often we have attempted to teach values and morals without helping the learner to understand the purpose behind them. Thus today it is no longer enough to say to many people "The Ten Commandments say..." For them the Ten Commandments as well as all other religious laws and values are simply arbitrary requirements which some people impose upon others.

PURPOSE BEHIND LAW

The Ten Commandments are not outmoded but perhaps our careless way of teaching them is very inadequate for our contemporary world. We can no longer intimidate people with "It's in the Bible" or "Moses said..." We can, however, help them to better appreciate the God whose every command is given for the welfare of men. We have said, for example, that God commands us to "have no other gods" before him because the inner "civil war" of divided loyalties is harmful to us as well as insulting to God. We have said that the worship of graven images is wrong because it handicaps man with a vest-pocket size God. The commandments are not arbitrary whims of a capricious God, but concrete evidences of his plan for man's welfare and happiness.

This is no less true of the Fourth Commandment: "Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy..." In it you shall not do any work." Many people regard this as an annoying regulation that interferes with their own plans. Yet, Jesus provides the key when he says: "The sabbath was made for man, not man for the sabbath." (Mark 2:27 RVS) This observance, which to some is but the arbitrary requirement of a task-master God, is really his provision for the enrichment of his children.

A DAY APART

"To keep it holy," meaning to set it apart for special observance and treatment. The sabbath day is not to be like all other days. Even more specifically: "In it you shall not do any work." The rhythm of work-and-rest, work-and-rest is part of the inherent tempo of the universe and the commandment purpose to bring men into step with that tempo for the sake of their own renewal and well-being. Left to his own sense of timing, man has a way of making life into a ceaseless treadmill. The sabbath change of pace is not merely desirable but essential if man is to function with the full capacities with which he is created.

There is another "reason why" work is forbidden on the sabbath. It is a simple matter for men to become wholly engrossed in work and the pursuit of material gain. There are some families in which it is financially necessary for husbands to hold down two or even three jobs or for both husband and wife to work. Yet I have often observed that in many cases it is not necessity but greed that lies at the bottom of it all. The sabbath is a weekly reminder to us that life is more than bread... or cake.

Finally, the sabbath represents God's recognition of man's greatest need: himself! Although we can commune with him daily in the midst of our toil, there is also a weekly need to give him our undivided attention. To allow him opportunity for a time-exposure, to reach into corners and crevices of our lives, to renew us and refresh us and then send us back to our work, that is the purpose behind the Fourth Commandment.

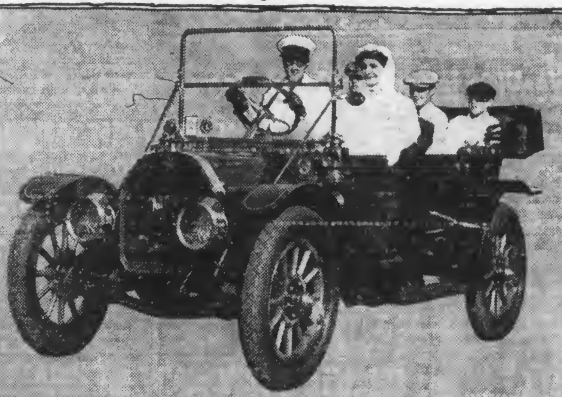

Now it's just an antique, a relic of a bygone era. Formerly it served a practical purpose, a special need. Today, Grandfather's horseless carriage is completely outmoded.

Some philosophies are also out of date. New ideas grip our minds and challenge the intellect. We would not want a "horse and buggy" philosophy in this modern world of growth and change.

Some things do not change, for they are eternal. For example, man's soul and his need of God. No modern invention can ever make God and the Church obsolete. Society is different today than it was in Grandfather's day, but man's spiritual needs are the same.

Discover the value of the timeless in the midst of time. Worship God in your church this week and find the eternal truth which spans the ages.

Garden Club Holds
Its July Meeting

The Kenton County Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Russell Rohe on Apple Drive, Independence, Thursday, July 28.

The early arrivals were just being seated and Mrs. Rohe was preparing the tables under a large tree when rain started, spoiling the cookout plans and sending everyone scurrying into the house. The rain was so badly needed and everyone so thankful for it that to change plans was no disappointment.

Miss Elma Taylor called the meeting to order and had the minutes of last meeting read. Membership cards were passed out and a new member, Mrs. William Gutteridge, was welcomed.

Friendship cards were signed to be sent to two invalid members, Mrs. Clifford Northcutt and Mrs. Henry Pitcher.

The next meeting will be at Butler State Park, August 18.

A delicious luncheon was enjoyed on the porch, after which a short program was enjoyed.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Keeney, who read Jeremiah 31: 10-15, also a poem, "Today," by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, and "Summer Days Are Here Again," by P. F. Freeman. Miss Hiteman read, "Sunshine," Miss Williams, "The Gardener," Mrs. Popp, "The Flowers." Since the rain had ended all went to the yard where Mrs. Rohe made several flower arrangements, which she presented to luck members.

Among other members and guests enjoying the day were: Mrs. Ruth Ruster, Miss Mary Jane Cooper, Miss Michelle Messing-schlager, Mrs. Onie Palmer, Mrs. Leontine Stephens, Mrs. Lucille Hall and daughter, Elaine, Mrs. Martha Licklider, Mrs. Christine Ginn and daughter, Wanda. Tim Rohe was everywhere that a helper was needed.

New ANI Telephone Equipment In Boone

New ANI (Automatic Number Identification) equipment has been ordered for the Burlington, Hebron, Union and Walton exchanges of Consolidated Telephone Company, according to L. T. Utz, Vice President of the Company.

This new ANI equipment is scheduled for installation early in 1967. ANI equipment has been in service in the Florence exchange since last January.

Automatic Number Identification will permit customers to dial long distance without the assistance of an operator. The new equipment will automatically record the number and instantly transmit this information to timing and ticketing equipment when a Direct Distance Dialing call is made. Each telephone will be assigned an "Access Code" and to complete a call by ANI the customer must dial the "Access Code" assigned to the telephone he is using.

This is a part of the continuing program of service improvements in Boone County, Mr. Utz said.

Sky Diver At All Saints Festival, Sat.

A sky diving exhibition at 5:30 p. m., will be one of the features at the All Saints School Summer Festival in Walton, on Saturday, August 6. Bradley Himes will jump from his plane at 8,000 feet, fall free for 6,000 feet, open his chute at 2,000 feet and touch down ever so gently, we hope, on the grounds of All Saints School. This will be a special treat for the youngsters... and the not so young... at the festival.

Co-chairmen of the affair, Carl Parker, Dave Kuchie and Bill Krekeler, report that the traditional delicious country-style chicken and roast beef dinners will be served in the new school cafeteria from 4:00 until 8:30 p. m., at 75c for children and $1.25 for adults.

An RCA color television will be awarded at the end of the day. There is plenty of parking space.

The publicity chairman said, "Come out, and have a good time with us August 6."

June Wedding In Christian Church

Miss Janice Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan, of Walton, became the bride of David B. Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Fife, of Owenton, on Friday evening, June 10, in the Walton Christian Church.

Reverend William Moore officiated before an altar graced with white mums and gladioli.

Mrs. John Clifton, sister of the groom, attended the bride's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Linda Grant, Lana Black and Nancy Jones, all of Walton. Regina Williams, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

John Clifton served as best man, and guests were ushered to their places by David Dowell, Gary Stephenson, Robert Anderson, and Bobby Holder served as the ring bearer.

The bride's gown, which she styled and created herself, was white satin with a cathedral length train. Her silk illusion shoulder-length veil was secured to a crown of lace adorned with pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade of white roses that surrounded three purple orchids.

The bride's attendants wore floor length pastel satin gowns of blue, green, pink, lilac and yellow. A flower, adorned with pearls, secured their circular face veils and they carried spring baskets filled with carnations.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church basement.

The bride is a graduate of Walton-Verona High School, and is planning to attend Covington Beauty College this fall.

The groom was graduated from Owen County High School, and Georgetown College. He is employed as a teacher in the Boone County School System.

The payments have been on the decline for 21 consecutive months, Dawson said, which shows that fewer Kentuckians are unemployed.

Deceptive-Sales Law Guards Consumer and Merchant Both

How often have you come out of a "Fire Sale" or "Going Out of Business" sale irritated and with the feeling you had been gyped?

To safeguard against the type of deception sometimes practiced by individuals holding such sales, the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office secured passage by the last Legislature of Senate Bill 111, which has since become law.

The measure requires a person or firm desiring to hold such a sale to obtain a license and post a bond after first making a sworn statement setting forth: (1) the necessity for the sale, (2) a detailed inventory of the goods to be sold and that none will be added, (3) the identity of the person holding the sale, and (4) the duration of the sale, as well as certain other information.

In the future you, as a consumer, can attend such a sale with confidence that the goods offered are the same as those handled prior to the sale and that no inferior merchandise has been shipped in.

And, if you are a competing merchant, you can be certain of the duration of the sale, the quality and amount of merchandise to be sold and the legitimacy of the sale.

A law passed by the 1966 Legislature allows the Kentucky Department of Banking to regulate the business of selling, issuing or delivering checks, drafts and money orders.

Be sure to read our classified section—it pays!

Kentucky ranks 23rd among the states in expenditures for higher education on a per capita basis, or is above the national average by nearly $2 per student.

Aphid Build-Up In Tobacco Discussed By Entomologist

A large build-up of at least two forms of aphids (plant lice) on tobacco can be expected within the next few weeks.

A good control program is needed to save plants from this damaging, sucking pest, says Dr. R. L. Miller, UK Cooperative Extension Service entomologist.

"Winged forms of the green peach aphid and an unidentified black aphid are continuing to infest tobacco plants," he says, "and will continue for the next few weeks. After that, the winged forms will disappear. But they will continue in a non-winged form to build up on plants and an early start on the control program will be helpful, particularly if aphids were a problem last year."

He recommends using the systemic insecticide, Cygon, on the plants. Use three-quarters of one pint (of the two-pound strength) in 10-15 gallons of water per acre. "This material has shown some promise as an aphicide. Other aphid control materials Thiodan, Malathion, Diazinon, and Guthion."

He was taught the techniques of installation, operation procedures, and maintenance of all field wire systems. He also received a familiarization of the working characteristics of all communications equipment.

Army Specialist Four Joseph D. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, Verona, qualified as expert in firing the M-14 rifle in Germany, July 14. The expert rating is the highest mark a soldier can achieve in his rifle qualification test.

The 20-year-old soldier, a mortar section leader in Troop K of the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment's 3d Reconnaissance Squadron in Germany, entered the Army in February 1964.

Beware Of Ticks Says Health Dept.

With the return of hot, humid weather, ticks in abundance are infecting pets, livestock, wildlife and people in Kentucky, according to the Boone County Health Dept.

The female tick lays thousands of eggs which hatch tiny larvae. These develop into seed ticks, and eventually become adults. At each stage of its life the tick feeds on the blood of some animal. The cycle is repeated as frequently as temperature, humidity and the availability of hosts allow.

These annoying pests can carry a variety of diseases, such as Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever, Tularemia, and Tick-Bite Paralysis.

When removing ticks, use tweezers or similar instruments or rubber gloves or at least a folded cloth or tissue and always wash your hands thoroughly when finished. Treating animals with insecticides or repellants in the form of powders, sprays or dips, will protect both you and them from tick-borne diseases.

BANDED jewel neckline and belt in contrasting fabric enhance the charm of this semi-fitted design, made from Butterick pattern #3997. A nylon coil Talon Zephyr down the front is the perfect smooth closure for this step-in dress. Press seams as you sew... using a press cloth over the zipper area, and give your summer wardrobe an exciting new lift.

Troubled Castles
Lesson For August 7, 1966

Background Scriptures: Exodus 20:12; Proverbs 4:3-5; Mark 7:9-13; Luke 2:51, 52; Ephesians 6:1-5.
Devotional Reading: Proverbs 4:1-5.

"A man's home is his castle," men are sometimes fond of saying. If this is so, our land today is filled with troubled castles. The home, once the citadel of safety and security, is said to be "on the way out."

Most often the accusing finger is pointed at the younger generation. "No respect at all!" is the judgement pronounced by many adults. "What are these children coming from?" they ask of no one in particular. One learned man has written: "The children now love luxury. They show disrespect for elders and love chatter in the place of exercise. Children are now tyrants, not servants, of their households. They no longer rise when elders enter the room. They contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up dainties at the table, and tyrannize over their teachers."

Then As Now

This contemporary-sounding complaint was actually written by the ancient Greek philosopher, Socrates, in 394 B.C. Historians assure us that it was hardly the first such complaint nor an infrequent one in the long years since then. Then as now, it seems, there was trouble in men's castles.

Thus it is hardly surprising that one of the commandments given by God to Moses at Sinai was: "Honor your father and your mother, that your days may be long in the land which the Lord Your God gives you." (Exodus 20:12 RSV). If there had been no such problem in some Hebrew homes, there would have been no need for this commandment.

The fifth commandment is unique in two ways. For one thing, it was the first of the ten that dealt primarily, not with man's relationship to God, but to his fellow men. It is significant that the first of these interpersonal relationships to come under God's ordinance is the child-parent relationship. Obviously, this is where righteousness to others begins — at home. How thoughtless and inconsiderate of our parents are some of us who enjoy the reputation of conviviality with others! Does that not make of such reputations a fraud?

Secondly, the fifth commandment is the first of the commandments to spell out its own reward. As Paul puts it: "Honor your father and mother" (this is the first commandment with a promise) (Ephesians 6:2). It is not an idle promise by any means. Sociologists often tell us that the lowest incidence of juvenile delinquency is to be found in those homes where respect for parents is part of the heritage passed on from one generation to another. This is particularly true in the homes of Chinese-Americans and in Jewish families. Thus, in families where young people honor their parents, every one benefits: the parents, the children, and society.

To Enrich Life

The fifth commandment, then is not an arbitrary requirement imposed upon children for the benefit of their parents. Instead, it is one of God's principles for enriching life for both parents and their children. In other words, if we obey this commandment we not only obey God and honor our parents, we also enrich our own lives.

But how can parents gain respect from their children? Perhaps at least part of the answer is found in the attitude of adults toward their parents. Children learn by copying our values. If they experience a society in which older people are ignored and abandoned by their grown children, are they ever likely to take seriously God's commandment? As parents we cannot expect to receive what we ourselves have not been willing to give.

This commandment is for both children and adults. So long as either ignore it, there will be trouble in those castles we call "home."

SYMBOL OF SAFETY

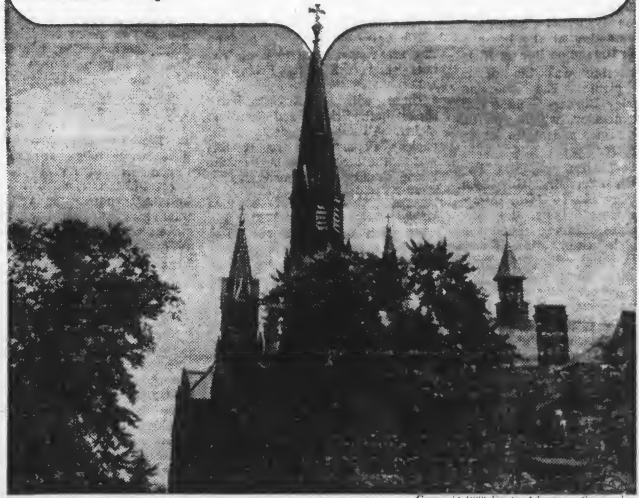

You never mistake the meaning of a Church spire.

Even to those who are cold to the ideals for which the Church stands, that spire of faith always points to something that is comforting, reassuring, safe.

The very presence of a Church, whether in a crowded city street or on a quiet country road, is a benediction to all, including those who are not conscious of worship.

Such an influence, with what it means to those who open their hearts to truth, is worthy of a second thought. It merits acceptance as a refuge. It commands confidence as a port in time of storm.

The Church deserves your support — your membership — because it affords real protection for the family whose welfare it is your duty to defend and whose proper upbringing is your solemn obligation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

1. For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

FIGURING HOG FEED COST

We are often times faced with the problem of what will it cost me to feed my hogs. With the tight squeeze of supplies of protein feeds, hog supplements have advanced in price. BUT THE REAL COST in feeding out hogs is the CORN COST. There are several ways to put on 100 lbs. of pork: 12 bushels of straight corn at $1.40 per bushel would cost $16.80 and take about 8 months. Or you could use 9 bushels corn and 50 lbs. soybean meal. With corn at $1.40 and soybean meal as low as $6.00 per 100, your cost would be $15.60 per 100 lbs. of gain. Or you could use 8 bushels of corn and 50 lbs. of tankage which would lower your cost to $14.20 per 100 lbs. of gain. We also figured a leading university special mixture which would lower your cost to $13.40 per 100 lbs. of gain. On the Purina program, it takes less than 5 bushels of corn and 45 lbs. of Purina Hog Chow to produce 100 lbs. of pork. With corn at $1.40 and Hog Chow at the current price, it would cost only $10.42 per 100 lbs. of pork produced. IT IS NOT THE PRICE OF SUPPLEMENT BUT HOW MUCH CORN IT WILL SAVE! Come in, let's figure your feed cost.

MAKING HIGH QUALITY SILAGE

Just two bags of new Purina Golden Bulky... that's all it takes to preserve a ton of palatable, sweet-tasting silage. Molasses and other fermentable carbohydrates plus Vitamins A and D and minerals in Golden Bulky add extra nutrients to silage. Golden Bulky helps prevent spoilage, guards against strong odors and absorbs seepage.

that may carry away up to 10 percent of the nutrients in your silage. Ask us for new Purina Golden Bulky and mix it with your silage and watch your cows go for its sweet flavor. Each bag contains 50 lbs. and there are SIX BUSHELS in each 100 lbs.

RUNNING SHORT ON CORN

Before you buy your next load of corn, check with us for Complete Ready to Feed Rations. For dairy cows we can supply you with Purina Checkerboard Dairy 16% Pelleted High Energy Dairy Ration; for hogs we can supply you with Complete Ready to Feed Hog Feeds for pigs of all ages and weights. New Complete Hog Chow gets hogs to market 10% faster on 10% less feed. Check with us today. We also carry a complete line of complete cattle feeds.

WATCH PASTURES CLOSELY

During the hot, dry days of summer it is easy to overgraze pastures and do permanent damages to the root system of the plants. Overgrazing reduces the stand and future carrying capacity. Where grass has been grazed down to two inches above soil level, move the cattle and give it a chance to make a comeback. It's cheaper to supplement pasture with hay or silage in August than to re-establish forage seedlings next fall. Regrowth of 6-10 inches should be allowed before grazing again. Top feeding of Purina Golden Bulky is an excellent supplement for short pastures.

The Kenton County Board of Education submitted its tax rate for the 1966-1967 school year and a proposal to build a new school to the Kenton County Fiscal Court, Thursday of last week.

The school board fixed its tax rate at 64.6 cents on each $100.00 valuation on real estate. The rate is $1.35.4 less than last year.

The board fixed its budget at $2,833,278, an increase of approximately $200,000 over last year.

R. C. Hinsdale, superintendent of schools, said plans are under way to construct a new school at the southwest corner of Bristow and Richardson Roads.

He said the school would contain a minimum of 20 classrooms to accommodate approximately 600 students in grades one through six.

George Roth, architect, was named to prepare plans for the proposed building.

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

Well, it is that time of year again for fairs and festivals and the past week we had the Kenton County Fair, which is growing every year and more interesting as it grows. When they get their own grounds, which I think will be soon, it will be something to be proud of. The Boone County Fair is being held this week at Burlington. This too, is a very fine fair, don't miss it. It's really worth your while with the beautiful horse show and all.

Mrs. Bernie Knockelman of Hemphill Road, has been a patient at Booth Hospital and we hope she will be back home soon.

Mrs. Jack Leonard of Sidney Drive, will wind up her course at U. K. this week and will be glad to be home for a little vacation before school opens in general.

Miss Ruthie Burke of the Tower, has changed her place of employment from Walsh & Adair to the ULH&P and likes it fine.

We congratulate Laine Ellen Marshall of Decoursey Road, as queen of the Kenton County Fair. It could not have happened to a nicer girl.

We also congratulate Mrs. James Richardson of Madison Pike, for all of her activities in helping to make the horse show a success. We need more folks like her at the fair.

Jeff Barrow of Latonia, cut his finger very badly while working on a car and had to have it sewed at the hospital, Tuesday.

Improper lighting is the most frequent defect found in the inspection of trucks on Kentucky highways, reports the State Department of Motor Transportation.

Staffordsburg

Mrs. J. A. Keeney, Reporter

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Rapp and Mr. and Mrs. Denver Binder have returned from a very pleasant trip to Florida, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Henry and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger enjoyed the company on Sunday afternoon of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Mills of Middletown, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wharton were surprised on Sunday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kattelman from Mt. Healthy, came to call. Later, Mrs. Kattelman, Mrs. Wharton and I called on Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Ballinger. Mrs. Kattelman is the former Edith Cram, who was born in this neighborhood and has many relatives living here.

We are hoping that our many friends will not overlook the homecoming and dinner 'neath the trees which we have planned for Sunday, August 14. We have tried to secure interesting speakers and planned a program which all can enjoy. So, won't you come?

OUR THANKS TO ALL

Members of All Saints Church wish to express their thanks to their many friends in Boone and Kenton counties for the wonderful support and help in making the summer festival for the benefit of the school a tremendous success.

A sincere thanks to all who attended.—Carl Parker, Chairman
 P. S. Delay in the sky diving jump was caused by a blown fuse in the plane's radio.

Model Susan Briggs demonstrates how easily 1,001 prizes can be won at Coney Island, August 17—just snap the cap off a bottle of ice-cold Coca-Cola.

Among the prizes are a Zenith portable color television, 75 Zenith transistor radios, smart new picnic coolers, etc. It's easy to win. Just snap the cap off a bottle of Coca-Cola, August 17, at Coney and check the number hidden under the cap. If the number corresponds to the prize list, you are a winner. To make the day even more exciting, Coney has reduced prices on all rides, and you get a free ride ticket with every bottle of Coca-Cola...the price of Coke has been reduced to a dime, too. There will also be fireworks at 10:00 p. m.

I would like to express my thanks to all the boys who played baseball this year with me. I would also like to thank you parents for your cooperation with me in managing the team. Without the help and cooperation from each of you, I am sure our team would not have gone as far as it did.

I would especially like to thank Bill Boyers for all his work in coaching the team, to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burnette for letting the team use their truck to take the boys to games, and Mrs. Geo. Raybourne for keeping the score book all year. The whole team would like to thank Gilbert Cooper for purchasing the uniforms and making the Walton Save Oil team possible.

I would like to thank again the team and parents for the beautiful trophy you presented me at our picnic Sunday afternoon.

I would like to see all you boys remain in the C team another year as I am sure if you do, next year you will be the number one team in the C league.—Shorty Coyle

Drive with both hands firmly grasping the driving wheel. This prepares you for whatever quick action is required. One-handed drivers or "finger-tip" drivers cannot adequately handle an emergency that requires split-second swerving of the car out of danger or holding the car to the road. Don't relax at the wheel. Driving is serious business.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claxton

Control of the corn earworm is recommended when this insect pest feeds on corn ears. Many people have asked how to control this pest on sweet corn. However, it is not easy and requires several well-timed applications of insecticide to the corn ears and during silking time.

Materials: Use either DDT or Sevin, in the wettable powder form (50% strength). Use four tablespoonsful per gallon of water. Spray the silk area of the ears when 20 to 30 percent of the silks begin to appear. Repeat the application at two- or three-day intervals until the silks turn dry.

The control of this pest takes a lot of work, and this illustrates why it is usually not practical to try to control the pest on field corn in general.

Inventory soils now for fertilizer needs, and plan the fall fertilizer program. A soil sample, properly taken, should be sent in for testing. Midsummer is a good time to take that sample and learn the nutrients the land will need.

Lime and fertilizer recommendations will be no better than the soil sample taken. That is, a poorly taken sample can cause an inaccurate test. Consequently, lime and fertilizer recommendations may be off. If limestone is recommended, apply it as soon as possible. It takes time to correct soil acidity.

Claims for refunds of Federal taxes paid on gasoline used on the farm will not be filed any more.

Taxes paid on such gasoline after June 30, 1965, should be claimed as a deductible credit on Federal income tax returns. This means that farmers' Federal income taxes will be reduced by the amount of taxes paid on gasoline used on the farm between July 1, 1965 and January 1, 1967.

Instructions for claiming this credit will be included with the income tax forms to be mailed early in 1967. Instructions also will be included in the new "Farmers Tax Guide," to be available in the county extension office about mid-November.

The Federal law-change in no way affects the method used in claiming refunds for Kentucky state tax on farm-use gasoline.

Come in and get your FREE HORSE BOOK which explains all about new Purina Big 'Un.

LIKE MONEY IN THE BANK

Many dairymen tell us that feeding a cow during her dry period is like putting money in the bank and getting 25 to 30 percent interest. Chances are, a good part of your herd is scheduled to freshen early this fall...when milk prices are best. As your cows dry off this summer, make sure they get every chance to improve in condition, increase body weight and lay in reserve strength for a long, profitable lactation ahead by feeding Purina D&F Chow or Purina Golden Bulky mixed 50-50 with grain. Test after test at Purina's Research Farm prove just 125 lbs. extra body condition built up during the dry period (Holsteins) can add up to 2,000 lbs. more milk in the next lactation. GIVE THE PURINA DRY COW PROGRAM A TRY THIS SEASON...COLLECT BIG DIVIDENDS THIS FALL & WINTER.

WATCH OUT FOR SWARMS OF FLIES

Swarms of flies, lice and ticks can worry pounds of profit off your cattle unless you do something...and do it fast. But, what? Well, we would like to suggest Purina Range Cattle Spray or Purina Stock Spray for beef cattle, dairy heifers, and brood cows. Purina Dairy Spray Special for milk cows. These Purina sprays kill annoying flies and insects on contact...sort of just like magic. STOP FLIES NOW...SEE US!

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Craddock of Union, announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean, to Jesse William Thornton, of Walton. The wedding was solemnized Saturday, August 3 in the home of the officiating minister, Rev. T. C. Crume, of Florence. Attendants were Mrs. Alberta Hopperton and James Vest. Other guests were Miss Katherine Robinson, Mrs. James Vest, and Ellis Hopperton.

The new organ, given to the Walton Christian Church by W. O. and L. C. Percival, in memory of their parents, will be dedicated at the morning services Sunday. John Y. Brown and Brent Spence were the winners of the Democratic primary last Saturday. In the Senate race, Brown's nearest opponent was Ardrey, and in the 5th District for Representative, Mr. Spence won easily over three opponents.

A Walton airman was one of the crew of an Army B-29 which set a new east-west speed record by racing from New York to Burbank, Calif., in 7 hours and 28 minutes, last Thursday. He is M/Sgt. Therman L. Wolfe, a much decorated hero of World War II.

Subtle Killers

Lesson For August 14, 1966

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:13; Leviticus 19:17, 18; Proverbs 25:21, 22; Matthew 5:21-24, 43, 44; 1 John 3:15-18; 4:20, 21.

Two friends of Pogo, the comic-strip swamp possum, gleefully announced one day: "We're filled with loathing!" "How come you look so happy then?" Pogo wanted to know. "We're always happy when we're filled with loathing!" they chirped.

Rev. Althouse 11. Unpleasantness has become for them a way of life.

Sometime ago, while making calls in a local hospital, I saw a middle-aged woman emerge from the "Intensive Care" unit and overheard her announce to a group of waiting relatives: "Dad's feeling better — he's started to complain!"

Could it be said of you? Are you among those whose pleasant moments are so few that they can individually be remembered by those around you? Are you a walking catalogue of complaints, grudges, and discontentments? Are you sure?

The Sin Within

In the sixth commandment God has declared: "You shall not kill." This commandment often has a comforting effect because most of us know full well we have not broken it nor are we likely to. Jesus, however, did not intend to let us off that easily. According to his understanding of God's purpose, it is not only the murderous act that kills, but also the hateful thought or the vindictive attitude, the deep "inside" currents of feeling and emotion. "But I say to you that every one who is angry with his brother shall be liable to judgment" (Matthew 5:22 RSV).

One doesn't have to cut his neighbor's throat to violate God's purpose for interpersonal relationships. There are many ways of injuring our neighbors, ways that fall short of murder but still bring us into God's judgment. They work slowly but surely to destroy us from within. They are the subtle killers.

When a person indulges himself in hating his neighbor, he hurts himself as well as the person he hates. His resentment becomes an insurmountable barrier between himself and God. Thus, a man coming to worship may find that he cannot truly do so until he has first been reconciled with his neighbor.

Poisonous Grudge
Many medical doctors today believe that bitterness and anger affect the body like destructive poisons. Many sicknesses and afflictions are closely related to unresolved anger and resentment. A woman was diagnosed as having an "incurable" disease. Fervently she prayed to God, asking him to heal her, but her condition got steadily worse.

One day in speaking to a friend it became evident that she was nursing a deep grudge against another person who had wronged her. Encouraged to let God's love heal this bitterness, she let go of the grudge with a deep feeling of relief. As she did an amazing thing happened: her body began getting stronger. In time she was completely healed of her "incurable" disease. Her resentment had contributed the major share of her illness and had shut her off from God's healing power.

"You shall not kill," says the sixth commandment. "Do not hate," says Jesus, further developing the meaning of this commandment. Yet there is more to it than what a person is not supposed to do. There is also something that a person is supposed to do: "Love your enemies, and pray for those who persecute you." There must be something positive to fill the void left by the subtle killers.

And how far does he expect us to go with this forgiving love for enemies? No less far than he went: to the cross, if need be.

Down in Louisiana there's a spot which casts a spell of reverence upon my soul.

But what I have found along the bayou I have seen, too, in the awesome might of a granite peak, in the mystic wonder of a shadowy canyon. I have heard it in the restless symphony of the surf at night.

These, the shrines of nature, are God's hint of a spiritual meaning in life.

But, long ago, man responded to God's hint. The churches in which we worship and learn and serve — these are the workshops He inspired. Week by week, year by year, under the hand of the Master, lives are being fashioned to His blueprint... devoted to His purpose.

Yes, we can find God in nature! But the road of spiritual discovery only begins along the bayou. It goes on from there to our highest quest.

Buyer, Be Wise, BEWARE!

By Robert Matthews, Attorney General

Don't Sign Documents You Don't Understand

Stop! Before you sign, do you know what you are signing?

A contract isn't always labeled "contract." You may not realize that what you are putting your name to is a contract, but once your signature is on it you will be bound by its terms.

Make certain that a "receipt" is only a receipt; that a "sales slip" is only a sales slip.

A homeowner was told a set of books was "free" and being placed in the home for "advertising purposes," yet he signed an agreement to pay over $300 in monthly payments. He failed to read what he was signing.

Read the fine print before you sign instead of after you are in difficulty.

Prevent need for the question the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office is asked: "Is this a contract? What can I do about it?" To which the answer, too often, is "Nothing."

Home Agent's Party Line

—by—
Nancy White

During the period when red meats are higher priced than poultry you may be particularly interested in using more chicken. And chicken is a protein rich food and can take its place in any meal as the meat course. It may be served at luncheon or dinner, and there really is no good reason why we don't serve chicken for breakfast! Chicken is an all purpose protein food. It is suitable whether the meal is for the toddler, the hearty eater, the gourmet, or the calorie counter. It can be served as a low cost family meal and still be so good for company dinners.

How much chicken to buy for your family is a pertinent question. First of all, figure out how you plan to prepare and serve it. When you plan to serve chicken pieces at a meal, decide on the number of pieces of cooked chicken to allow per person, and purchase accordingly. But, if you want to make price comparisons, figure out the cost of edible chicken meat you get from the various cut chicken parts. With this information you can figure out the most economical purchase.

To obtain 1 lb. of cooked edible chicken meat, you need to purchase ready-to-cook weight as follows: Breast, 1.58 pounds; legs and thighs, 1.88 pounds; wings, 2 lbs; backs, 2.4 pounds.

By using these figures and the prices at your market, you can calculate the cost per pound of edible meat. Keep fresh chicken in the refrigerator until ready to cook, but use within 24 to 36 hours after purchase. Keep frozen chicken in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator for a few days if necessary. Thaw before cooking by allowing to stand overnight in the refrigerator for four to five hours.

If the chicken must be thawed rapidly, keep it sealed in its wrapper and place it under cool running water for 30 minutes to one hour. If a bird has been stewed or simmered for use in chicken salad or some other cold dish, it must be refrigerated immediately. The best way to handle it is to disjoint the cooked chicken, spread the pieces in a shallow pan, cover and keep refrigerated until time to prepare for serving. Chicken salad or fried chicken taken on a picnic or to a potluck supper should be carried in an ice cooler. Of course, this is true for any meat, milk or egg products.

One excellent way to use chicken in the summer is barbecued. The recipe for Kentucky barbecue sauce that appears in "Delicious

Kentucky Barbecued Chicken," in Circular 535, is as follows:

2½ c. water, 1 tsp. sugar, 2½ t. black pepper, 2 tsp. butter, ¼ c. vinegar, 2½ t. salt, 2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, ¼ onion, 1 t. powdered mustard, ½ t. tabasco sauce, 2 t. chili powder, 1 bud garlic, ½ t. red pepper.

This is a semi-hot sauce that has wide popularity in Kentucky. It may be made hotter by using additional quantities of either red pepper or abasco-sauce.

and those who worked in the booth each day, also a special thanks to the men from the fire department who set up the booth before the fair and dismantled it at the close of the fair. Without the cooperation of the folks in the community the gift booth could not have been the success that it was.

Youth Drowns In Walton Reservoir

At 5:35 p. m., last Wednesday, the body of James Cooke, 15, was removed from the new Walton Reservoir on Percival Road. The boy lived near Piner, and would have been a sophomore at Simon Kenton High School this fall.

Jimmy, a good swimmer, tried at noon to make his way across a neck of the lake at its northern end. For reasons unknown, he couldn't make it and called to his 14-year-old brother, Donald, for help.

Donald ran to the farm home of Mrs. Florence Menke, who called the Walton Volunteer Fire Department.

Skin divers Bill Stambaugh of the Kenton County Police, and Tom Henry of Covington, lowered themselves many times into the brush-clogged reservoir in search of the body but to no avail.

The body of young Cooke was finally loosened by Doug Wood and Warner Cox, of Independence, who used grappling hooks.

Both the Independence and Walton Life Squads had been working to find the youth.

Local firemen at the scene were Ed Berkemeier, Gene McElroy, Bill King and Bill Fredericks. Others aiding were Jesse Still at the radio, June Fry, and Jimmy Grubbs.

After recovery, the body was removed to the Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home, Walton.

Jimmy is survived by his parents, Leroy Cooke of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Mamie Cook of Piner, with whom her son lived; two sisters, Georgia and Betty Cooke, and three brothers, Donald, Kenneth and William Cooke, all at home; his paternal grandparents, Clifford Cook of Kenton County, and Mrs. Lillie Cook of Verona, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Doretta Brooks, Walton. It is said the boys were enroute to the home of their Grandmother Brooks.

Services were held at 2:00 p. m. last Friday at the Chambers and Grubbs Funeral Home, in Walton, with burial in Independence Cemetery.

District Leaders for 1966 United Appeal

Southern Division Chairman, F. J. Middleberg, last week announced the appointment of division and district leaders in the geographic phase of the 1966 United Appeal.

Joseph S. Maness, Miss Nadine Cox and Robert J. Richardson, respectively, were named division vice chairmen for business, schools and government, and house-to-house solicitations in Boone, Campbell and Kenton counties.

Jack Sizemore is district chairman and James Schiwer will conduct business solicitations in Boone county.

The goal of the 1966 United Appeal is $8,380,000. The increase in this year's goal over the amount raised last year, $402,015, reflects the increased demand for service to the men in the armed forces, the number of violent natural disasters during the past year, inflation and increased need for services for a growing population.

STILL OPENINGS IN KINDERGARTEN

There are still openings in the Walton Kindergarten for pre-school children who wish to register for the fall term.

Call Mrs. Martha Jane Carpenter, Kindergarten teacher, 485-4864, or the Kindergarten chairman, Mrs. Frankie Ryan, 485-4756. You may have been on vacation and did not see the registration announcement.

The registration fee is $5.00, payable at the time of registration. The tuition will be $4.00 weekly. No transportation is furnished, but perhaps you and some neighbors can get up a carload.

Don't deprive your child of this opportunity of attending Kindergarten. The training received at this time better prepares the child for school. All children who will be five by December 31 are eligible for entrance.

Rucker, followed by scripture reading by Miss Neva Jo Fennell. Misses Sharon Parsons and Neva Jo Fennell with Neva Jo at the piano, favored us with a duet which was an original composition by these very efficient young ladies. Mrs. J. A. Keeney gave the devotional, a short resume of the life and work of St. John, the Thunderer. It was told that more books have been written about him than any other New Testament character — that he would seem to have been closer to Christ Jesus than any other of His followers. His message to all is "Love one another" and thus fulfill the law. Several of those present had parts in the topic which was on the work of National Council of Churches and the Ecumenical movement. The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Don Keeney. New program books were ordered and dues collected. Next meeting will be with Mrs. Edgar Baker. ## Letters To The Editor:

August 12, 1966

To the Editor
Walton Advertiser
Walton, Kentucky

We, the members of Save Oil Co. team, Class C, in the Boone County Knothole League, wish to express our sincere thanks to our manager, Shorty Coyle, and coach, Bill Boyers, for their time and tremendous cooperation in making our team a successful team this baseball season.

Although we had to ride the bench last year, this year we came to bat with twelve victories out of 16 games. We were the second best team out of 13 teams in the Boone County League. Some days we practiced ball from nine in the morning until dusk. We took a loss at our game in Cincinnati, but when we came home, we had in our hearts—good sportsmanship, love and respect for our fellowmen of a different race.

We would like to thank Wally Wireman of Walton Bowl for the free fun night of bowling and pool last week. It seems we enjoy other sports, too.

Most of all, our gratitude to Shorty Coyle for his presentation of a small trophy to each player on the team at the family picnic at Big Bone Park last Sunday.

Although some of us will move to Class B baseball next year, we intend to do our best on the ball-field at all times.

Probably the best know builder of covered bridges was Lewis Wernag (1769-1843), a German. His masterpiece once spanned the Kentucky River at Camp Nelson, reaching from bank to bank with no support in the middle.

Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—I am service-connected for a disability, but am being treated in a VA hospital for a non-service-connected ailment. Will my compensation be increased to 100 percent during hospitalization?

A—Compensation is increased only if treatment is given for service-connected disabilities.

Q—My sole income is retirement annuities totaling $3,108 per year. My wife has no income other than her salary. I am 72 years of age and have retired for disability. Am I eligible for VA pension based on my World War I service?

A—Your income would not be a bar to receiving pension from the VA, since it would amount to less than $3,000 after making the 10 percent deduction permitted from Social Security and other retirement annuities. None of your wife's income would be considered for VA pension purposes since $1200 or her total earnings, whichever is greater, is deducted from her total income by the VA in computing the amount available to the veteran.

Q—I receive disability compensation from the VA as a totally disabled veteran. I received an extra payment for my son until his 18th birthday. He is now 19 years old but is entering school to further his education. Am I entitled to increased compensation for him?

A—You are entitled to increased compensation provided your son is unmarried and in school. So long as he remains in school and unmarried, you will be entitled to benefits until his 23rd birthday. To secure this added payment, you should write the VA, giving your claim number and a full statement of the facts.

Don't Be "Baited"
By the "$299.00ers".

Aluminum siding may be exactly what you want and need for your home, but don't be taken in by the "$299.00ers" as they are known in the trade.

This group may canvass your home by mail or door-to-door. Perhaps you will be told "this price includes labor and siding for any size home up to 1,000 square feet." Stop and think.

Aluminum siding is sold in squares. Call a reputable building supply company and find the price of the metal without installation. How many square feet in your house? A thousand-square-foot house is considerably smaller than the national average.

The "$299.00ers," as a group, are known as "bait and switch" artists who will offer this bargain but sign you up for a much more expensive job.

The Consumer Protection Division

ion of the Attorney General's Office asks your support in putting this type operation out of business.

CARD OF THANKS—

I wish to take this opportunity to thank my many friends and neighbors for their visits, cards, and telephone calls during my recuperation from a severe fall. A special thanks to my pastor, Rev. Robert Yates of the Methodist Church, for his visits and prayers. Your kindnesses will be forever remembered.

The Spoiled Gift

Lesson For August 21, 1966

Background Scriptures: Exodus 20:14, Matthew 5:27-32, Mark 7:14-23, John 8:11, Philippians 4:8, Devotional Reading: Ephesians 5:1-6.

Have you ever noticed Jesus' talent for bursting our little balloons of pride and self-satisfaction? Who can honestly consider his teachings without feeling quite deflated? He has a knack for turning our great moral victories into occasions of doubt and suspicion of guilt.

The rich young ruler came to him with obvious self-satisfaction. He lived according to all the commandments, what

Rev. Althouse more did he need to do to be insured of eternal life. Apparently he expected Jesus to commend him and assure him that he was already "in." But instead of the expected pat on the back, Jesus replied with: "You lack one thing . . ."

No one can really take pride in his observance of the commandments if he really understands them as Jesus did. For example, one need not commit murder in order to violate the purpose of the sixth commandment. One may destroy or profane God's gift of human life with anger and bitterness as well as physical violence.

The Precious Gift

The same is true of the purpose of the seventh commandment: "You shall not commit adultery." It too is given to protect one of God's precious gifts to his children, man's sexual nature. Like all his gifts, it is a gift with a purpose behind it. He gives it to enrich and elevate life. He expects man to use this gift according to that purpose and when man does, his life is enriched and blessed. If, however, he does not use this gift in accordance with God's intention, he not only displeases God, he also hurts himself and others. The precious gift then becomes the spoiled gift!

The seventh commandment deals primarily with adultery, the act of sexual intercourse with someone married to another. In Deuteronomy 22 the commandment is expanded to include fornication, any act of intercourse outside the bonds of marriage. In other words, the Old Testament recognized marriage as the only lawful context in which men and women should employ the God-given gift of sex.

It is difficult to imagine how Jesus could improve upon this. What more could he ask than that people abstain from adultery and all fornication? Yet here is where Jesus displays his talent for bursting our balloons.

The Inner Fact

"But I say to you that every one who looks at a woman lustfully has already committed adultery with her in his heart" (Matthew 5:28 BSV). The seventh commandment led some to concentrate too much on the physical act of sexual immorality. Jesus was just as concerned, however, with the inner fact of lust. The real problem, he knew, was with the impure thoughts and attitudes that preceded the immoral acts. When he defines it this way, who can escape his accusation? We may feel pretty smug because we have never violated the letter of the law, but when we consider the spirit of the law, the divine purpose behind it, there is no room left for smugness. Who is there among us who has never allowed lust to play with our thoughts?

This is true even if the lustful thoughts never result in an immoral act. "But in that case," you protest, "no one is hurt." Someone, however, is hurt . . . YOU! Just as hate can destroy the hater from within, so lust is a poison let loose within us. It poisons our attitudes and values. It gives us a very immature and selfish understanding of God's gift. It makes a curse out of what was intended to be blessed. In short: it spoils the gift!

THE TIME OF

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

INVEST A DOLLAR TO MAKE EIGHT

With silage filling right around the corner, we would like to discuss with you cattle feeders and dairymen how you can get back up to $8.00 for every $1.00 you invest in Purina Golden Bulky to add nutrient value to your silage. By adding only 100 lbs. of Golden Bulky per ton of silage you can increase the dry matter intake per cow per day from silage from one and one-half lbs. per 100 lbs. of liveweight to two and one-half lbs. or more per 100 lbs. of liveweight. For a 1,300-lb. cow this would mean a 13-lb. difference in dry matter consumption per day. It would take an EXTRA 8 lbs. of grain to make nutrient intake comparable! Now, if we figure grain at 2c per lb., this would mean 16c worth of grain for only 4c worth of Golden Bulky placed in the silage at filling time. This is figuring Golden Bulky at $80 ton and adding 100 lbs. per ton of silage. Now, if we convert this EXTRA 8 lbs. of grain to milk on only a one-to-one basis and figure milk at $4.00 per hundred, we get 32c worth of milk for only adding 4c worth of Golden Bulky which is equal to $8.00 return for every $1.00 invested! Golden Bulky ADDS nutrient value to your silage. Golden Bulky absorbs seepage that can carry away up to 10 percent of the nutrients in your silage...it's bulky and absorbent. Golden Bulky is high in molasses and fermentable carbohydrates. Golden Bulky helps eliminate undesirable odors. INVEST $1.00 TO MAKE $8.00!

MIXING GOLDEN BULKY IN SILAGE

It's easy to add Golden Bulky to your silage. Estimate the weight of fresh forage carried per load, then spread the indicated amount of Golden Bulky on top of the load before unloading the wagon into upright, trench or bunker silos. Golden Bulky will be mixed adequately throughout the silage as the forage wagon is unloaded.

FINANCING GOLDEN BULKY FOR SILAGE

One draw-back to adding Purina Golden Bulky to silage while filling the silo is the additional outlay of cash. By adding 100 lbs. of Golden Bulky per ton of silage, a 100-ton silo would require 5 tons of Golden Bulky. We will buy back the 40 sacks that are in every ton plus giving special allowances to quantity purchases and if you haul it yourself. We would also investigate with you the possibility of paying for the Golden Bulky on a monthly basis while you are using the silage. Give us a call...let us work with you and your silage feeding program so you can get $8.00 return for every $1.00 invested.

STRETCH YOUR CORN & PASTURE

One way in which to stretch your corn supply and still not affect milk production is to add Purina Golden Bulky to your milking ration. Each 100 lbs. contains more than SIX BUSHELS of highly digestible nutrients. Purina Golden Bulky is high in Vitamins A and D, minerals and molasses. Cows love the taste of Golden Bulky. It gets the milk out that has been bred into her!

New State Inspection Regulations Adopted

New regulations for inspecting premises and facilities of motor vehicle and mobile home dealers have been adopted by the Kentucky Department of Motor Transportation.

The new regulations represent the first official action taken by the new Motor Vehicle Dealers Board and the Mobile Home Dealers Board, Commissioner Ben Combs says.

Combs says regulation of motor vehicle and mobile home dealers is increasing around the country. Under the new procedure, the department investigates to determine whether a license-applicant has complied with all statutory and regulatory requirements. If he has the department will grant a 90-day temporary permit.

Then the application is sent to the Motor Vehicle or the Mobile Home Dealers Board and is subject to approval or disapproval. The Boards will meet every thirty days.

Dealers have been notified about the new regulations, and the response "has been most encouraging," according to Combs.

Sleet of North Main St., Walton, on Friday afternoon, August 5th, at 3:30 o'clock.

Before an altar tastefully arranged with white gladioli, palms, and golden candelabra, the young couple recited their marriage vows in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Ralph Hoffman, minister of the Union Presbyterian Church.

Pre-nuptial music was rendered on the organ by Mrs. Clifford B. Powers, aunt of the bride. Two of the bride's younger brothers, Jerry and J. ## Veterans Administration Questions and Answers

Q—May a veteran receive educational assistance allowance for a program of education pursued exclusively by correspondence?

A—Yes. The educational assistance allowance will be computed on the basis of the established charge paid by non-veterans for the same course or courses. The allowance will be paid quarterly on a pro rata basis for the lessons completed by the veteran as certified by the school. Veterans should be cautioned not to enroll in a correspondence course before ascertaining whether or not the school and course are approved by the VA.

Q—What is the maximum amount a veteran may borrow on a VA guaranteed loan for the purchase of a home?

A—There is no maximum on the amount of a guaranteed loan. Direct loans made by the VA, however, may not exceed $17,500.

Q—Does the new GI Bill provide any form of veterans' life insurance?

A—No. The Bill includes education, GI loan and hospital benefits, but there is no provision for Government life insurance.

Q—Is service in Vietnam or the Dominican Republic a requirement for educational benefits under the new GI Bill?

A—No. It is not even required that you have served overseas. If you served anywhere for a period of more than 180 days, any part of which was after January 31, 1955, you are eligible.

Revenue from Kentucky's toll facilities exceeded a million dollars in July—generated by the four toll roads and one bridge.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claion

Watch topping and suckering tobacco fields this year. Drought conditions in some areas call for special handling of crops.

The usual practice is to top when the field is from two-thirds to three-quarters in bloom, if the crop has had enough rainfall to make steady, consistent growth. But in some areas, crops have not had enough rain and they are under "stress" conditions. When blooms begin to appear in drought-hit fields, remove the blooms. Take only the bloom and let the rest of the plant stand. Leaves will use the moisture saved by topping to make growth.

Do NOT use sucker-control materials on drought-hit fields. Such materials will just burn the leaves and the farmer receives little value from the treatment.

Sucker inhibitors should NOT be used until the plants are growing vigorously.

Identification of manganese toxicity has been found in Boone County tobacco fields. The condition affects crop quality. It arises from an imbalance of certain elements in the soil, and a low pH level.

First symptoms are slow growing plants after setting out. Later, leaves turn light green or yellowish between the larger veins. The leaves gradually develop numerous dead spots. If good growing weather occurs, plants may lose the symptoms and appear normal. But quality may have been lowered and the leaf will contain abnormal amounts of manganese.

Liming the land is one way to correct the condition, but may not be effective for the current crop. Some farmers apply hydrated lime or finely ground limestone around the areas where the toxicity showed up. This may help some, as these areas probably are the ones where the pH (soil acidity) level is the lowest, and the toxicity occurs on soils of low pH levels. The best control, however, is to test soils and lime the field after the crop is harvested. Stay off that field for tobacco two or three years, to give the lime time to correct the manganese toxicity condition.

HEAT ELECTRICALLY

Modern electric heating impresses Mrs. Louis Eckstein and daughter, Diane.

They tell us electric heating is draft-free. (Space-saving electric baseboards, blending with each room's decor, are hardly noticeable.)

"It feels like springtime, indoors, all winter long," they add. (Gentle electric heating envelopes rooms in sunshine silence.)

And, flexible electric heating gives them complete control over this sunshine brand of comfort room-by-room.

The Eckstein family is happy with electric heating's cost too. They pay a reasonable $14.17 a month, averaged over a year, to heat their 1331 sq. ft. home the clean electric way.

Though the day was cloudy and threatened rain, we were glad no rain fell last Sunday as we held our homecoming here. Rev. Homer Moore was the speaker at the morning service, following which a bountiful luncheon was spread in the dining room. The visiting at this time was just about or somewhat more important than the food. At 1:30, Rev. Moore held the first quarterly meeting. Several of the guests made short talks, after which we enjoyed hearing Rev. James Averitt, well known here and now manager of the Methodist Children's Home in Versailles. An offering was taken for the home. Among guests and former pastors were: Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Thomas of Bellevue, Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Garriott and daughter of Bedford, Rev. Elmer Kidwell of Walton, Rev. and Mrs. Cupp.

We learn that the John Petty who was killed in Viet Nam recently was a nephew of Mrs. Robert Brannock of Kelat, who is well known here.

Lester Adams, who recently came to make his home on his farm, has now retired from the position he had held for so many years—first with the Yates Lumber Co. and lately with Kelly Bros. We wish them many happy years among us.

Mrs. Raymond Giles and Miss Helen Richardson, accompanied by little Melissa Sue Folmer, called on Mrs. Stella Richardson, Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Byron Stephens entertained with a dinner at the Town & Country Restaurant in honor of Mr. Stephens' birthday on August 19. Guests were Mrs. Leontine Stephens, Miss Mary Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rector, Miss Carol Stephens, and Mrs. J. A. Stephens. Many happy returns!

20 YEARS AGO

Thursday, August 22, 1946

When Gaines Bros., Walton, sold a black yearling colt at Saratoga Sales, Tuesday, for $15,500, they not only sold the highest priced yearling but the highest priced yearling ever sold from Boone County.

A "Safe Driving Campaign" was inaugurated last Thursday in Walton by Mayor D. L. Lusby, following "more than a dozen wrecks" in or near the town, on U. S. 25. Walton officials do not wish to make the town a speed trap and they want to give ample warning.

Many arrests were made on out-of-town drivers last week for speeding and wreckless driving on our city streets. Law enforcement officers, Town Marshal Robert E. Brugh and assistants, Herman Simmons and Alonzo Linton, will continue to make arrests and try to control wreckless driving.

Mrs. Bess Conrad and Mrs. Martha Wallace entertained recently at the Phoenix Hotel for Mrs. Frank Maxwell of Meridian, Miss., Mrs. Pearl R. Johnson and Mrs. Lotta Powers.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lemons of Covington, bought the property of B. F. Elliott on North Main Street. The sale was handled by Clifford Pruett.

Mr. and Mrs. Levi Pennington and daughter, Lucy, returned last Thursday from a vacation trip to Dayton, Upper Sandusky, Indian Lake, and Springfield, Ohio.

Miss Margie Carpenter is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. H. Bertram, of Greenville, Ohio.

Mrs. Mary Stephens and Miss Helen Gillispie have returned after a vacation at Camp Ben Elliott, Manchester and Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sleet of Seymour, Ind., were the weekend guests of his mother, Mrs. Mollie Sleet, and Miss Anna Mae Sleet.

Albert Marsh and bride of Clear Lake, Iowa, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. William Lancaster and other relatives here.

Mrs. Jeanette Taylor of Buffalo, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Grubbs, Mrs. Alta Chambers and Mrs. Aleen Conner. George Marsh of Nevada, Iowa, is visiting his sister, Mrs. William Lancaster, and Mr. Lancaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Northcutt and family spent Sunday with Mrs. Belle Fischer and daughter, Mrs. Thelma Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kessler of New Castle, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kessler of Bloomington, Ind., were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Estelle Gordon. Mr. Kessler graduated from the University of Indiana, last week. Mrs. Kessler will remain with her mother for a few days.

Miss Thelma Moore of Cincinnati, spent last Monday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Moore.

Miss Linda Mae Bush of Covington, is spending this week with Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Menke and son of Dayton, Ohio, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schwab and daughters.

Miss Mary West, teacher at the University of Kentucky, is spending her summer vacation with her sister and brother, Miss Amy West and Sleet West.

Charles Sleet and daughter, Rebecca, entertained recently at the Phoenix Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hance, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hance of Pueblo, Colo.

Rev. and Mrs. Hampton Adams of St. Louis, Mo., and mother, Mrs. Katie Adams, are spending their vacation at their summer home at Big Bone.

Miss Freda Draper of Gallatin, Tenn., niece of Mrs. Glen Edens, returned home after spending her vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Edans.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hance and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hance, of Pueblo, Colo., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Darnell of Flemingsburg.

BURDEN OF DEBTS MAY INCREASE DESPITE DEBT-ARRANGERS

Many debt-ridden citizens are finding themselves "out of the frying pan and into the fire." The glowing inducements of "debt-arrangers" have been taken at face value by some persons anxious to "get creditors off their backs"—to their sorrow.

In general "debt-arrangers" agree to accept a specified portion of your income and distribute it equitably among your creditors on a regular basis. They will attempt to persuade those to whom you owe money to accept reduced payments over an extended period. For this they charge a monthly fee.

The problem lies in the fact that after having contracted with the "debt-arrangers" you may find that some creditors will not participate in such a program, and then, with less money at your disposal you still must pay the piper.

The Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office urges caution in entering such debt-reduction agreements.

Three new community colleges approved for construction by the 1966 General Assembly—at Maysville, Hazard and Louisville—will bring the state's total to 11.

Who's A Thief?

Lesson For August 28, 1966
Background Scriptures Exodus 20:15; Amos 5:27-28; Mark 12:38-40; Luke 19:11-19; Thos 2:7-10.
Devotional Readings Ephesians 4:25-32.

There's an old saying that "to catch a thief, one must act as a thief." Perhaps, but to catch a thief one must also be able to identify a thief.

Easy, you say. A thief is one who steals my car, picks my pocket, breaks in my house and steals my silver, or holds up the corner gas station. Who can't identify a thief, a burglar, a bandit?

We can carry it a step further. It is a step further the word "thief" also to the salesman who comes to my door and takes my order and payment for a product he has no intention of delivering, to the racketeer who gets a "kick-back" on the sale of parking meters to our city government, to the "wheeler-dealer" who cheats the government "blind" with grandiose schemes that result in federal convictions.

Subtle Thief

So far, so good; we can all identify these thieves. All violate the eighth commandment: "You shall not steal." (Exodus 20:15 RSV). But don't close the door on your "rogues' gallery" too soon. Perhaps there are some others who qualify for that dubious distinction.

What about the merchant who sells defective or inferior products as "quality merchandise"? Is he a thief? What of the salesman or manufacturer who knowingly misadvertis his product? Is he a thief? What about the used-car salesman who turns back the speedometers of his cars or the corporation executive who conspires with other firms to fix prices? Are they thieves?

If you are a consumer, your answer is probably a resounding "YES!" Good going there but don't stop now! There are more thieves on the loose in your community!

Perhaps where you work? "No thieves there," you say. Ah but you must look more closely for these men are subtle. A subtle thief is still a thief. For example, there's the thief who pilfers petty amounts of his employer's products, tools or raw materials. "Such petty amounts?" you protest, your face reddening. There's also the subtle thief who cheats on his lunch time, his coffee breaks, and clean-up time at the end of the day. "You're becoming a bit personal, aren't you?" you say with a trace of belligerence in your voice. There there's the thief who makes a real art out of making six hours of real work appear to be eight hours' worth.

Call It Business?

What of the man who pads his expense account a little or inflates his deductions on his income tax report form? How about the person who "lifts" little souvenirs when he travels, hotel towels, ashtrays, etc? "Come now," you answer me, "you're taking this too far."

This was also the charge that was leveled at the Prophet Amos in his day. People felt he was very playful in his pronouncements of condemnation. The eighth commandment, they said, "You shall not steal," identified a thief as one who took someone else's property by violence or by stealth. To Amos, however, it was obvious that there were other forms of thievery more subtle but no less sinful. He condemned the merchants who made additional profits with rigged scales, deceptive merchandise, or inflated prices.

"This idiot doesn't understand business," his enemies retorted. He understood it and it was because he understood it as a violation of the will of God, that he condemned it. What they called "business" he called "sin." Would he say anything less of what some of us today call "making a living," "getting ahead," "playing it cool?"

Who's a thief? Maybe you?

WITH AN EYE TO PERFECTION

An artist takes a strip of glass with flaws and imperfections (something you and I would carelessly discard), and transforms it into stained glass of unbelievable beauty.

And God makes possible another transformation . . . although our souls are scarred, He can help us develop into creatures of inward beauty and usefulness.

Through Him we can learn to overcome weakness with new-found strength. We can learn to have faith because we know the anguish of despair. We can learn to love—both God and man—because we know the emptiness of living without love.

Through regular church attendance and prayer, we too, can transform our flaws and weaknesses into beauty of character and fitness of purpose.

FIGURING HOG FEED COST

We are often times faced with the problem of what it will cost me to feed my hogs? With the tight squeeze of supplies of protein feeds, hog supplements have advanced in price. BUT THE REAL COST in feeding out hogs is the CORN COST. There are several ways to put on 100 lbs. of pork: 12 bushels of straight corn at $1.40 per bushel would cost $16.80 and take about 8 months. Or you could use 9 bushels corn and 50 lbs. soybean meal. With corn at $1.40 and soybean meal as low as $6.00 per 100, your cost would be $15.60 per 100 lbs. of gain. Or you could use 8 bushels of corn and 50 lbs. of tankage which would lower your cost to $14.20 per 100 lbs. of gain. We also figured a leading university special mixture which would lower your cost to $13.40 per 100 lbs. of gain. On the Purina program, it takes less than 5 bushels of corn and 45 lbs. of Purina Hog Chow to produce 100 lbs. of pork. With corn at $1.40 and Hog Chow at the current price, it would cost only $10.42 per 100 lbs. of pork produced. IT IS NOT THE PRICE OF SUPPLEMENT BUT HOW MUCH CORN IT WILL SAVE! Come in, let's figure your feed cost.

MAKING HIGH QUALITY SILAGE

Just two bags of new Purina Golden Bulky... that's all it takes to preserve a ton of palatable, sweet-tasting silage. Molasses and other fermentable carbohydrates plus Vitamins A and D and minerals in Golden Bulky add extra nutrients to silage. Golden Bulky helps prevent spoilage, guards against strong odors and absorbs seepage that may carry away up to 10 percent of the nutrients in your silage. Ask us for new Purina Golden Bulky and mix it with your silage and watch your cows go for its sweet flavor. Each bag contains 50 lbs. and there are SIX BUSHELS in each 100 lbs.

RUNNING SHORT ON CORN?

Before you buy your next load of corn, check with us for Complete Ready-to-Feed Rations. For dairy cows, we can supply you with Purina Checkerboard Dairy 16% Pelleted High Energy Dairy Ration; for hogs, we can supply you with Complete Ready-to-Feed Hog Feeds for pigs of all ages and weights. New Complete Hog Chow gets hogs to market 10% faster on 10% less feed. Check with us today! We also carry a complete line of complete cattle feeds.

WATCH PASTURES CLOSELY

During the hot, dry days of summer it is easy to overgraze pastures and do permanent damage to the root system of the plants. Overgrazing reduces the stand and future carrying capacity. Where grass has been grazed down to two inches above the soil level, move the cattle and give it a chance to make a comeback. It's cheaper to supplement pasture with hay or silage in August than to re-establish forage seedlings next fall. Regrowth of 8-10 inches should be allowed before grazing again. Top feeding of Purina Golden Bulky is an excellent supplement for short pastures.

Boone Will Have Joint Plan Board

Boone County and three of its cities agreed last Thursday night to establish a joint planning and zoning commission.

County Judge Bruce Ferguson presided at the meeting which was held at the Courthouse, Burlington. Officials of Florence, Walton, and Hopeful Heights joined with those of the county in the organizational session.

Mayors C. M. Ewing of Florence, Dale Stephens of Walton, and Francis Dooley of Hopeful Heights and members of their councils were among the 30 in attendance.

Ferguson said that two motions, which were passed, came out of the two-hour discussion.

Citizens Like Mail-Order Enforcement

Kentucky citizens are taking quickly to the concept of mail-order law enforcement, according to Kentucky State Police.

Post Office Box 10, Frankfort, Ky., is an address used by State Police since last December to which citizens may report crimes and remain anonymous.

Since that time 140 letters have been received, State Police Director Col. James E. Bassett, said. Thirteen arrests resulted from the first 50 letters. Charges have been placed for such crimes as murder, arson, prostitution, and alcoholic beverage violation.

The letters have dealt with Kentucky crimes and have come from all over the state as well as from Tennessee and Ohio.

"Surprisingly, there have been only a few crank letters," Bassett said. "We investigate off complaints," he added.

He said nearly all the tipsters express gratitude for the opportunity to report crimes and remain anonymous.

"We are grateful for the response," Mr. Bassett said, "and the indication is that the public is alert to crime detection."

Explosion Follows Verona Derailment

Fear and anxiety prevailed in the normally quiet community of Verona, as firemen and state police kept vigil after ten or more tank and box cars of an L&N Cincinnati bound freight train lay scattered down a 75-foot embankment along the tracks, a quarter mile southwest of the town.

The accident occurred Sunday night shortly after 11:00. The families of Carl Bickers and Gary Stephenson were rudely awakened by unusual noises and a flaming sky. Their homes were in the direct path of the exploding propane gas tanks as they tumbled down the embankment.

The home of Carl Bickers was completely destroyed. Mrs. Bickers remains in a serious condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital from burns, and her sons, Carl Wayne, is in fair condition, and Gregory, is in good condition. Mr. Bickers was treated for neck and right arm burns and released. Two-year-old Valerie Bickers was not injured as she was protected by her mother as they fled the flames.

The barn of Gary Stephenson was destroyed by fire and his home heavily damaged by the exploding tanks. Stephenson, a teacher in Walton-Verona High School, and his wife, Beverly, grabbed up their two little girls and started running down the road away from the flaming inferno.

Several other homes and properties in the area were damaged by the heat and explosion. A big piece of the tank car smashed down across Highway 18, and the blacktopping was burned to a crisp. Utility and telephone services were out until late Monday.

The Walton Fire Department dispatched four trucks and volunteers put out fires. Support came from units at Warsaw, Crittenden and Glencoe. Firemen stood guard, on shifts, all day Monday. State police blocked Highway 16 from both directions to keep motorists and pedestrians away from the dangerous area.

Butch Kent, a fireman, who lives in Verona, was the first on the scene and helped the Bickers family get away from their burning home.

L&N officials would not estimate the damages. An expert from the Bureau of Explosions of the Association of American Railroads was flown in early Monday from New York to investigate the blast. He would sound the "all clear" if the dangerous condition relaxed. Work crews began clearing the wreckage Tuesday.

Letters To The Editor:

Open Letter To All Citizens

Of Boone County—

Dear Folks:

Many of you have expressed to me your appreciation for my cooperation with the State Troopers, County Patrol and Sheriff's office concerning traffic offenders. I thank you for your compliments.

However, there's much more you can do.

You can possibly save injury from occurring, lives from being lost and property from being damaged simply by signing a complaint against any offender whom you see clearly violate any traffic law.

The officers can't be everywhere but their presence is not necessary for you, as citizens, to do your duty.

Many folks have explained to me that they would sign complaints except that they are afraid of what might happen after they've done so.

This is an unwarranted fear, in my opinion. Others, and there are many, who have signed complaints and have never been thereafter bothered. The reason is that Judge Ferguson and I exercise every reasonable means to back-up fully any citizen who signs a complaint.

Yes, there must be evidence to convict an offender. However, more often than not your word is sufficient by itself, no other evidence or witness being necessary.

So, those of you from Verona, Petersburg, Grant, Burlington and from anywhere else in the county where you are fed up with dangerously reckless driving can do something about it. Just go to Burlington, contact the County Judge, tell him what and who you saw and sign a complaint.

Now, more than ever, good traffic law enforcement depends on you.

Sincerely,
ASA M. ROUSE
Trial Commissioner
of Boone County

In no part of the world is more Burley tobacco grown than in Kentucky. For over 125 years, tobacco has been a rewarding cash crop in the Bluegrass State. The 1965 harvest of Burley, grown in quantity on Kentucky farms in 119 of the State's 120 counties, totaled over 395 million pounds.

Burley leaf is one of the major ingredients in all U. S. blended type cigarettes and, in lesser but substantial quantities, in smoking and chewing tobaccos.

Five types of tobacco are grown in Kentucky: Burley (type 31), Eastern Dark-Fired (type 22), Western Dark-Fired (type 23), One Sucker (type 35), and Green River (type 36).

Cash value of producers' leaf sold at auction in the 1965-66 season came to nearly $276 million. Of this total, Burley leaf accounted for well over $262 million. The total represents nearly 60 percent of the value of Kentucky's crop production.

Production of tobacco in Kentucky is the main livelihood of some 150,000 farm families. A considerable labor force also is required for processing plants, auction warehouses, tobacco factories, and by various related services. About one-fifth of all the cigarettes manufactured in the United States (107 1/2 billion) were made in the Louisville factories during the 1965 fiscal year. Other Kentucky plants turned out a considerable quantity of smoking and chewing tobaccos during the same period.

Tobacco is cultivated in 22 of our states. It can be grown successfully in almost every part of the world. Tobacco is the principal cash agriculture crop in eight states.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, tobacco represented the following percentages of the total amounts the growers received from all farm commodities sold last year: Kentucky 39.8 percent; North Carolina 39.6 percent; South Carolina 21.3 percent; Virginia 16.6 percent; Connecticut 17.4 percent; Tennessee 16.6 percent; Georgia 8.6 percent, and Maryland 7.8 percent.

Many growers in these eight states listed tobacco as their only major cash crop.

KLIP KLOP KLUB

Chrissy Sipple was hostess for a meeting of the Kenton County 4-H Klip Klop Klub, August 18.

The president opened the meeting and Carolyn Campbell led the pledges to the flags. Old business was then discussed.

A report was given on the club trail ride and picnic, July 20, at Charlotte Richardson's home. The members also participated in a final training session in preparation for the Area 4-H Horse Show and County Fair.

Carolyn Campbell and Chrissy Sipple reported on their week at the North Central 4-H Camp, and Charlotte Richardson told of her weeks at Camp Miniwanca.

Four members, Nancy McLafferty, Stephen Vaughn, Chuck Black and Jimmy Vaughn showed their horses and ponies at the Kenton County Fair and the Area 4-H Horse Show, receiving various ribbons. Nancy McLafferty received the horsemanship trophy at the fair.

Following the meeting refreshments were served and a movie, "The All-American Horse," from the American Saddle Horse Breeders Ass'n was shown.

The next meeting will be held September 24 at Robbie VanHorn's home. Project record books and enrollment cards will be distributed at this time.

Home Agents Aid In Planned Buying

How often have you needed advice regarding a prospective purchase? On the routine necessities of life most of us have learned the market values and the dependability of business concerns. On important purchases for the farm or home, occasionally we need assistance. To whom can we turn for this help?

Among the many experts, the assistance that can be rendered by the local county agent or home demonstration agent should not be overlooked. They have had special training in the fields of home economics and farm management. They are often vitally interested in many consumer programs. These experts are dedicated to the betterment of their communities and to the assistance of fellow citizens. Your Attorney General has found they will assist you cheerfully. You will find their knowledge and advice of tremendous value in planning your own long-range consumer program.

Without Wax

Lesson For September 4, 1966

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:1-17; Leviticus 19:15; Proverbs 26:18-28; Matthew 12:31-37; Ephesians 4:15, 25, 29-31; James 1:26.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 26:18-24, 28.

"Sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me."

Don't count on it! There are times when names and words may be just as harmful or more than sticks and stones. A few words on your high school or college record can shape your vocational life. The words, "I do," spoken before a minister or justice of the peace can spell a life-time commitment.

Rev. Althouse miltent. The rumor, however untrue, can wreck one's reputation. A few words spoken hastily and in anger may erect a barrier between ourselves and another. Words can be very powerful.

Every Careless Word

It is not surprising then that Jesus drives to the heart of the ninth commandment, "You shall not bear false witness..." when he says: "I tell you, on the day of judgement men will render account for every careless word they utter." (Matthew 12:36 BSV). Have you ever given serious thought to that warning? My mind is staggered just with the thought of having to sit and listen to the playback of every careless word I've ever spoken. Doesn't it shake you a little to hear Jesus say: "For by your words...you will be condemned?"

In ancient Rome, we are told, when sculptors accidentally chipped their statues, they would often fill in the chipped places with wax that was of the same color as the marble. Honest sculptors who desired to distinguish their works from those filled-in with wax would stamp their statues with the words sine cera, meaning "without wax." It is from this practice that we have derived our term, sincere. Literally, it means "without wax," or better still: without deception.

Sophisticated Lies

This is exactly the kind of speech which Jesus wanted: without deception. But why be so hard-nosed about little deceptions? He knew full well that when one tries to distinguish between "big" and "little" deceptions, he usually loses his power to determine what is "big" and what is "little." Allow deception to enter a small part of our lives and we soon find that we have learned the dubious art of deceiving ourselves. Falsehood becomes a way of life that is made no less dangerous by the fact that we cover it with a veneer of sophistication. Just as the subtle thief is still a thief, the sophisticated liar is still a liar.

This is particularly true if your business is advertising, public relations, promotion, or propaganda. In these a fair amount of dishonesty is tolerated, even expected. No one takes too seriously the amazing advertising claims. The promises of the politician are not expected to be taken literally. It is assumed that the propagandist is taken with a grain of salt. The sophisticated lie is taken for granted.

Truth In Love

So, "You shall not bear false witness," says the commandment. And Jesus adds: "...men will render account for every careless word they utter." The Christian ethic, however, is not only concerned with what one should not speak, but also with what one should speak. The writer of Ephesians terms it "speaking the truth in love" (Ephesians 4:15).

Truth, like human life, sex, and private property, is a gift from God. Its purpose is to help man, not to hurt him. Truth must never be used to destroy others. This, then, is God's intention for human speech: with love and without wax.

DECISION

There's a difference of opinion here. Both of these Little Leaguers stand ready to put up a good argument, even though it is a foregone conclusion that the "ump" is going to win. But when the game is over, differences will be forgotten and umpire and catcher will go down to the drug store together for a banana split.

In doing so, they will be reflecting something that is a basic part of our heritage — the ability to lose, without holding a grudge...the ability to yield.

These are qualities important not only to sportsmanship but to life. And this importance is stressed in the most powerful of terms again and again throughout the Bible.

Little Leaguers learn the rules of sportsmanship — and of life — in one way on the playing field and in another, deeper way when they attend church with their families on Sunday. Are you taking your Little Leaguer to church?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT

Miss Charlotte Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Richardson, 5930 Madison Pike, Independence, has had a rewarding summer due to her 4-H Club project. Miss Richardson's project is horses. She is a member of the Kenton County 4-H Klop Klub and recently attended the American Youth Foundation Camp, located at Stony Lake, Mich. This camp for youth leadership development is sponsored by the Danforth Youth Foundation. Charlotte has been active in 4-H work for nine years. She is also a strong believer in feeding horses the right way. Purina Horse Chow products can help you get your horses in excellent condition. Stop by our store and see our large display of Purina Horse Products.

CUTTING TIME AFFECTS SORGHUM-SUDAN FEED VALUE

Late cutting makes a big difference in the feed value of sorghum-sudan grass hybrid hay, according to a report recently published by the University of Wisconsin. Protein content falls drastically as the hybrid matures, and nutrients in the hay become less digestible. One good way to supplement sorghum-sudan grass is to top dress it with Purina Golden Bulky. Allow about a pound of Golden Bulky for each 20 pounds of sorghum-sudan grass fed.

ATTENTION DAIRYMEN ... LET'S FIGURE

How much more can you pay for a milking ration to get one pound more milk per cow per day? LET'S FIGURE TOGETHER... If a cow produces 10,000 lbs. of milk in 305 days and you feed her one pound of milking ration for every pound of milk she gives you on a year around average, she will need 2,500 lbs. of milking ration. OK? Now is she milks 305 days at a pound extra milk per day, this would be an extra 305 lbs. of milk. OK? Now, milk at 4c a pound, this would be an extra income of $12.20 from this cow. OK? She ate 2,500 lbs. or one and a quarter tons of milking ration. You could then pay $9.76 more per ton in order to get a pound more milk per cow per day. Many dairymen on Checkboard 16% are getting two and three pounds more!

Tips On Fuels For Burley Barn

Use of heat from artificial sources is one way to help prevent rotting of tobacco in curing barns, says Ira Massie, UK Agricultural Extension Service specialist.

Heat is needed to prevent rotting because tobacco should go in and out of "case" once every 24 hours. When curing leaf comes in case (or high order) and remains longer than 24 hours, Massie points out, "the old familiar rot starts to develop, reducing weight and quality."

But the right type of heat in the barn can prevent this situation.

Some widely used fuels are coke and natural or propane gas. There are other fuels but they are more expensive and have not received wide acceptance.

Heat should first be applied after the tobacco has been properly wilted (water lost and color started changing from green to yellow). But heat should be used only in periods of stress, or when the tobacco is in high case (high moisture content). Heat should never be used continuously throughout the season.

Coke and gas (natural or propane) are competitive in price when all elements such as labor, convenience, etc. are considered.

Local Knottolers to Aid In Band Uniform Fund

Knottol League boys of the Walton-Verona area are playing three baseball games Friday night, September 9, the first game starting at 6:00, for the benefit of the Walton-Verona Band Uniform fund. There will be a 25c admission for all except six years of age, who may enter free.

There will be sandwiches and drinks sold, and all proceeds will be donated to the "uniform fund." Come out and see the local boys play ball and at the same time help the Band pupils get some badly-needed uniforms.

The Knottol boys have been playing fine ball and we want to show them how proud of them we are.

The band will be on hand to play for the audience between the second and third games.

Because of the rainy weather, the W-V Band Boosters did not do as well at the Boone County Fair with their booth, which was set up for the purpose of raising funds for uniforms. To keep a band in good uniforms takes a great deal of money, and this is one of the main projects of the Boosters.

See you Friday at the ball games!

A View of the Verona Railroad Wreck Area

THE VERONA SCENE IS NOW QUIET

By James W. Lawrence

The little town of Verona, Ky. was relatively quiet last Friday afternoon as this reporter made a first time inspection of the explosion area caused by the derailment of some 14 cars and tanks of a northbound L&N freight train. It seems a miracle that more people were not injured very severely.

Blocks Left As Reminders
The entire area of the Carl Bickers property lies in blackened ashes. Only evidence of a house ever being on the site is the few concrete blocks and the remaining charred bathroom fixtures.

Three cars and a panel truck on the premises were also destroyed. The asphalt road, Ky. 16, immediately in front of the dwelling is burned to a dry crunchy condition. Humorously one might say "The fire burned the tar out of the road", which is what it did.

Stephenson House Left Standing
The house belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Stephenson some how escaped the raging inferno. Although left standing, the frame dwelling is utterly destroyed. The window glasses are shattered, post of the front porch are missing, and there are holes in the roof. Evidence of a tremendous blast is clearly visible.

The combination stock and tobacco barn, which was only a few yards west of the house was burned. Only a few pieces of tin roofing remain as reminders.

Although a swine lot was near the destroyed barn, not one was lost.

Large chunks of trees uprooted by the explosion, lay scattered over a wide area of the surrounding countryside.

Cars And Tanks On Slope
On the steep embankment directly to the rear of the Bickers and Stephenson property are two large propane gas tanks. One is empty, having burned itself out. The other one yet contains propane gas which is being removed by truck trailer tank.

Other derailed boxcars are resting on the slope until they can be removed by the wreck crew of the L&N Railroad. One or two cars are yet to be moved from the north or opposite side of the tracks. Although the tracks were made passable for rail traffic on Tuesday following the derailment Sunday evening, it will be several days before the area is completely cleared away.

Ends Blown Out of Tank

A third gas container tank is some 600 yards or more from the explosion area. It lies across Ky. Highway 16, completely blocking all traffic. The ends of the tank are blown out and are nearly one half mile apart. One end stands in an upright position high on a hillside while the second piece is near where the railroad tracks cross the highway.

Firemen On Duty

The Walton Volunteer Firemen were still on the scene with the pumper truck. They have been on duty since answering the first call late last Sunday evening.

Telephone and electric service lines were hanging limp and useless from the poles. Some road markers are hardly readable.

Foliage Brown as Crisp

Leaves on trees which are several thousand feet from where the fire occurred are brown and crisp from the intense heat. Field crops have leaves burned and destroyed. Shades in windows across the highway and to the east are warped and twisted.

As I left the area the only outstanding noise was the chug, chug, chug of a diesel engine with a few boxcars behind it, waiting for the all clear signal so it might proceed to its destination.

Yes, the area was indeed quiet compared to the several tense days earlier in the week.

Cooper-Snyder Kickoff Rally

The 4th District Cooper-Snyder Kick-Off Rally at the Campbell Co. Court House in Newport is scheduled for Saturday night, September 10, at 8 p. m. and will feature talks by Senator John Sherman Cooper, Congressional Candidate "Gene" Snyder, Senator Thurston Morton, Judge Marlow Cook, and Judge Louie B. Nunn.

Plenty of musical entertainment and refreshments are promised to those arriving early, and arrangements have been made for ample parking around and near the Court House.

Large Crowd At Democrat Rally

Some 400 people turned out on Tuesday evening of last week at the Democrat rally and covered-dish dinner at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Masters on Richmond, Walton. The affair was sponsored by the Boone County Democratic Club and included among those present were members and friends of the organization. Carlton Anderson is president of the club.

As principal speaker, senatorial nominee John Young Brown informed his audience that, "There is no split this year in the Democratic party in Kentucky."

Senator Lawrence Wetherby is the state campaign chairman, and it was reported that A. B. Chandler, a former governor, and Harry Lee Waterfield, present lieutenant governor, would campaign for the ticket this year.

Mrs. "Dixie" Lee spoke in behalf of John J. Moloney, candidate for U. S. Representative from the Fourth District, who was unable to be present due to illness.

Another of the speakers was Phil Talliaferro, Kenton County Young Democrat coordinator, from Erlanger.

Boone County Attorney William P. McEvoy was master of ceremonies, and he introduced Boone County officials—all Democrats—and party leaders from adjoining counties.

Among out-of-county leaders at the rally were Circuit Judge Ward Yager, and former State Senator Alvin Kidwell, both of Warsaw; and party executive chairmen of the three suburban counties, Jim Conner, Otwell Rankin and Ed Blau.

George W. "Alb" Ryan and B. V. Lents, campaign co-chairmen in Boone, made short talks, and Mayor Fred Wolnitzek of Ft. Wright, Moloney campaign chairman in Kenton, was also in attendance.

State Representative Dan J. Roberts of Walton, welcomed the Democratic Club members and guests to this unusually large turnout.

Kenton County Youth Falls From School Bus

The rear emergency door of a Kenton County school bus swung open one day last week and dumped 12-year-old Ralph Gabbard, onto the pavement at 5790 Madison Pike.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gabbard, 851 Independence Station Road, the youth suffered head and arm injuries. He was rushed to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where his condition was reported "good."

The youth is a seventh-grade student at Twenhofel Junior High School, Taylor Mill Road, and the bus driver was said to be Donald L. White, Cincinnati, a teacher at Simon Kenton High School.

Walton Homemakers

The Walton Homemakers will have their first meeting in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Teater on Friday, September 9, at 12 noon.

The lesson will be "Clothing Guideposts." There will be fashions from Benton-Bonar Department Store. Visitors are welcome.

Passes Bar Examination

Willis Mathis, Jr. of Verona, was one of 91 applicants who passed recent tests for lawyers, given in Louisville, June 29-30 and July 1. The class will be inducted into the profession in the new Court of Appeals term which begins in Frankfort, September 12.

The young attorney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Mathis, Sr., of Verona, both teachers in the school there.

IN DRY RIDGE REST HOME

Miss Pearl Ambrose of Warsaw, is now staying at the Carlsbad Rest Home, Dry Ridge. She would appreciate cards from friends in this area.

Veterans Administration

Questions and Answers

Q—I have been told that I am not eligible for out-patient treatment at a VA hospital for my non-service connected disability because my military service was in a so-called peacetime period and was not considered wartime service. Is this correct?

A—If you were separated with other than a dishonorable discharge anytime after January 31, 1955, you are eligible for all medical, hospital and domiciliary benefits to which veterans with wartime service are entitled, and on the same priority with war-time veterans.

Q—My son enlisted in the Air Force in 1955. Shortly after he was in they did away with the G. I. Bill. When he was discharged after four years he decided to go to college and with our help, and working himself he graduated in 1965. It was a struggle. Now the G. I. Bill is back. What he would like to know is can he get a loan on the bill to start him in business? Two or three thousand dollars would help him a great deal.

A—Loans may be made only for the purchase of homes; to make alterations, repairs or improvements in homes already owned and occupied; to purchase farms or farm supplies or equipment; to obtain farm working capital; or to refinance delinquent indebtedness on property to be used or occupied by the veteran as a home or for farming purposes. The post-Korean G. I. Bill does not authorize business loans.

Q—Several people have told me that my husband, a World War II veteran now deceased, is entitled to a marker on his grave site stating he was a veteran. Could you give me any information on this matter?

A—Headstones or grave markers are available for only deceased veteran of wartime or peacetime service whose last period of service was terminated honorably by death or discharge. If you desire a headstone or grave marker you may contact the nearest VA office, which will provide an application and assistance in filing.

Running people down is a bad habit, whether you are a gossip or a motorist.

When Greed Controls

Lesson For September 11, 1966

Background Scripture: Exodus 20:17, 1 Kings 21:1-10, 22:25-28, Luke 12:13-21, 29-34, Deuterian Reading: Acts 13:23-25

Francis Xavier once said that as a priest he had heard thousands of confessions, but never a confession to the sin of covetousness. It seems to be an unmentionable sin for most people. Occasionally we hear someone admit to being a liar, a thief, an adulterer, or even a murderer, but who has ever heard someone acknowledge the sin of covetousness? It just isn't done. The tenth of the ten commandments receives very little, if any, attention. Perhaps one reason may be that it is interpreted too narrowly. The literal meaning of the tenth commandment seems to put it within everyone's reach. When the tenth commandment says, "You shall not covet," it means that we shall not desire for ourselves what belongs to someone else. Few of us are consciously that greedy. We might desire to have a new car just like the one our neighbor has, but that doesn't mean we'd like to get his car away from him.

Through Eyes Of Jesus

Jesus, however, broadened the interpretation of this commandment. He brought it down to a level where few of us can avoid stumbling over it. "Take heed," he said, "and beware of all covetousness; for a man's life does not consist in the abundance of his possessions." (Luke 12:15 RSV) Having said this, he went on to tell a parable of a rich fool who sought to "lay up treasures" for himself. Covetousness, then, is more than desiring something belonging to someone else; it is also being ruled by a desire for things.

As the tenth commandment was interpreted by many, its purpose seemed to be to protect the property of one's neighbor. When we view it through the eyes of Jesus, however, we find that, like all of the ten commandments, it is designed to protect me too. In this case, it purports to protect me from the destructive power of my own greed. When greed controls our lives, it tends to destroy us from within.

Christians have always experienced conflicting feelings about material things. On the one hand, they have viewed them as part of the good creation that is God's world. On the other, however, they have realized that material things have the power to destroy the inner, spiritual life of man. The key to this dilemma is found in this question: are you in control of your material goods or are they in control of you? Material things may richly bless our lives according to God's will and purpose . . . so long as they do not gain control over us.

Whom Do You Trust?

To covet, as Jesus saw it, means to allow one's self to be driven by greed for material things and values. There's nothing necessarily wrong in the desire to enjoy the things of this world, so long as that does not loom as the chief enjoyment of life. There's nothing wrong in desiring to "get ahead" financially and professionally, so long as we do not look to finances for ultimate security and professional status as the source of true happiness.

Jesus put it clearly: "Instead, seek his kingdom, and these things shall be yours as well." (Luke 12:31 RSV) Only one thing should really control our lives: our commitment to God and his kingdom. When greed controls us there is no room for God in one's life. God is replaced by mammon, the religion of materialism. You cannot serve both.

Furthermore, greed also implies our distrust of God. He has promised to supply all our needs. Therefore when we scratch and scrape at material goods it is like saying that we don't really trust God's promise or are not sure that he can really take care of our needs. Is there any greater insult to him than this?

When greed controls, the cart is pulling the horse.

Mrs. W. R. Stephens spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mann.

W. T. Readnour of Norwood, O., and Miss Mary Jane Readnour were visiting their uncle, Ferdie Dance, of Crittenden, Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Popp and daughter entertained a number of guests, Sunday evening.

Esther Fields, Mary Margaret Stone, Stanley Allen and Jack Stephenson motored to Mammoth Cave, over the weekend.

More than $21 million was paid for thoroughbred horses at Lexington auction sales during 1965. The high point came in July when 282 yearlings averaged $17,962.

SHOW-OFF

Harry is "showing-off"—and he certainly has a most appreciative audience!

We all "show-off" sometimes, in one way or another. It's a natural human tendency, and we can't be blamed for expressing it occasionally. And we are not apt to overdo it if we discover the need for humility.

Church is one place where this lesson can be learned. In God's House, we know instinctively how small we really are, which makes us more thankful for both His love and compassion.

We need this sense of coming down to size. We need to look with humble eyes at ourselves, at our fellow men, and at the miracles of God's creations.

Yes — we need to go to church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The church is the greatest factor in our life for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a source of spiritual values. Without a living church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. They are dead and rotten. They are dead and rotten because every person should stand service to God and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Please go to church frequently and read your Bible daily.

County Agent's 1/2 Acre

—by—
Joe Claxon

Approximately three million members of U. S. farm families earn their principal income from growing, harvesting and curing tobacco. The crop has been a major support for these growers for many years. While it is true that the number of people living on all types of U. S. farms has dropped by one-third during the last generation, the number of tobacco farms has remained almost unchanged. The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates there are about 750,000 tobacco farm families on some 570,000 tobacco farms.

Cultivation of a tobacco crop involves more hand labor than any other agricultural activity in the U. S. Seeds are planted for the Burley crop in a treated seedbed during March, transplanted to a field in late May and early June.

Often disease and insects are very destructive during the summer, and require careful, tedious hand labor from the grower. When Burley plants have reached the bloom stage, the flowers are removed so that full-bodied, highly aromatic Burley tobacco can be produced. Suckers are not allowed to grow.

Burley tobacco is cut by hand in September, and then is placed in a barn, especially built for air curing. The Burley then is air cured for about two months. After the leaf has cured properly, it is then removed from the barn. It is hand-stripped into grades and sold on auction markets to representatives of tobacco manufacturers. The marketing season generally begins early in December and continues to early the following February. After intricate re-drying processing the manufacturers pack the leaf into 1,000-lb. hogheads for a "long sleep" permitting the tobacco to reach its desired age and flavor. After several years, depending on the blends, the Burley then is ready to be manufactured into a cigarette, blended with top Flue-Cured, Maryland, and Turkish tobaccos.

"Making" a tobacco crop involves a minimum of mechanical devices. It generally requires about 400 hours of intensive painstaking labor for the grower to "make" an acre of tobacco, compared to eight or more hours per acre required for wheat. Approximately 100 hours are needed to strip and market Burley tobacco produced on one acre.

The tobacco grower receives about 9 percent of the retail cost of the manufactured products, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Food producers receive about 35 percent of the market retail cost.

New Annexation Ordinance Passed

At a meeting of the Walton City Council, last Thursday night, in the City Building, a new ordinance was passed in regards to the annexation of certain property West of I-75. An ordinance was passed earlier this year on this move, but, according to City Clerk Daisy Hill, Circuit Judge Ward Yager suggested a slight change and the re-running of said ordinance in the local newspaper. The new ordinance appears in this issue.

A plea for water was made by service stations in the area. The city is not permitted to go outside of the corporate limits to serve water. This may have been one reason for the proposed annexation.

This move was opposed by land owners in the area. This may occur again.

It was reported in last Thursday's Post-Times-Star that Walton had been blocked in its annexation proposal, however, this seems incorrect. At least the City office said the story was in error.

An Item From the Past

Last week, we were given an item that appeared in the Advertiser in 1931. It concerned the girls' basketball team at Verona. It was as follows:

Verona girls attended the Warsaw Fair, Warsaw, Ky., October 2 and 3, and played the first game of the season against the Sanders five. It was intensely interesting from beginning to end. The Verona girls carried away the trophy, a beautiful silver loving cup, by the score of 13 to 11.

Probably the victory was attributed to the fact that our coach, Frances Stevens, is the only lady coach in the county, and as far as we know, in the state.

Members of the Verona netters are as follows:

F—Juanita Chapman, Capt.
F—Sibbia Judy.
C—Freida J. Renaker.
G—Mabel Myers.
G—Edna Caldwell.

The boys accompanied the girls to Warsaw, and were runners-up for the boys' championship cup.—Reporter, Verona High School

Shawnee Indians grew tobacco in Kentucky around Indian Fields, according to a 1751 report of John Finley, a Pennsylvania explorer. But tobacco production west of the Appalachians soon flourished with a steady influx of Virginia and Carolina pioneers. They brought along seed and tobacco farming experience. Their settlements were along the Kentucky, Licking and Salt River valleys. One such settlement was Boonesboro. Its area in 1783 was credited with Kentucky's first commercial tobacco production.

The rivers provided natural and economical routes to markets, as most early Kentucky-grown leaf moved on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers to New Orleans. There it was shipped to U. S. ports in the East and to Europe.

But the beginning of Burley's world-wide eminence came in the summer of 1864. It was the result of a seed shortage and a neighboring loan of seed to Ohioans.

George Webb and Joseph Flore were tenants on the farm of Capt. Fred Kautz, near Higginsport, in Brown County, Ohio. They ran short of seed—farmers then saved seed from their plants. Flore crossed the Ohio River to neighbor George Barkley's farm in Bracken County, Ky., where he obtained Little Burley—seed.

Plants from these seed were fine textured and sturdy. The leaf, however, was a "dirty yellow" color. So the tenants, believing the plants were not strong, and dwarfed, destroyed them. But the Barkley seed was again used in 1865—this time on Webb's farm. Again the plants showed many of the earlier characteristics, but Webb transplanted 1,000.

Webb's cured tobacco was a bright yellow, almost a cream-colored hue. He sent two hogsheads to market in Cincinnati, where the tobacco brought a high price. Webb's Burley later won first and second prizes for cutting leaf at the 1867 St. Louis Fair. It sold for $58.00 per hundred pounds—an unheard-of price for that time.

Popularity of the new Burley spread to Central Kentucky, where it thrives even today. The so-called "White" Burley easily displaced a red, leathery type, and the "White" eventually was dropped. The new Burley, at first used primarily in plug and smoking tobacco, achieved its popularity with the acceptance of cigarettes in World War I.

U. S. cigarettes, until then struggling to gain natural popularity as a method of smoking, largely were blends of imported Turkish and Flue-Cured tobaccos. But when World War I cut off Turkish supplies, manufacturers turned to the domestic leaf for their blends. A new blend of Flue-Cured, sweetened Burley plus a touch of Turkish was offered in a U. S. cigarette in 1913. When this brand caught on, Burley's future was assured.

That consistent popularity continues today. Burley truly is an important element in U. S. type blended cigarettes which are hailed all over the world without peer.

CARD OF THANKS—

We wish to express our sincere thanks to everyone for the kindness, cards, love, sympathy, calls at home and at the hospital, and for the many prayers for us during the illness and death of our loved one, G. Harris Moore.

We are grateful to the nurses, those who took us to the hospital, and to Dr. Huey, Dr. A. M. Keirle, Dr. McElhinney, Dr. Murry Rich for their efforts to alleviate Harris' pains. Especially we thank Rev. William Moore and Rev. George Hoffman for their consoling words and prayers; for the beautiful music by Mrs. Fay Conner and Mrs. Nellie Egan, and to all who gave the beautiful flowers. Thanks to the pallbearers and to the funeral directors, Chambers and Grubbs, for their efficient service.

May God bless everyone who has been so gracious in trying to help in our deep sorrow.

Mrs. Clifford Stephenson, Reporter

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stephenson drove down to the State Fair for a day of enjoyment and relaxation. They took Miss Roma Stephenson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Black and yours truly. It was a lovely day and the fair was wonderful. Mr. Stephenson developed a little trouble with his car, which caused a delay. The gas line broke and caused gasoline to spray over the motor of his car, which gave us quite a scare. It just so happened that Mr. Stephenson stopped his car in front of the home of an AAA garageman.

We went to see the Reds play ball one night recently. They really took a beating. Being a great Red's fan, Roma Jean certainly enjoyed the game. Of course, she is too young to realize the Reds were losing. Mrs. Mabel Readnor, Clarence Readnor, James Stephenson and Miss Cattie Mullins went along with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Messmer entertained the Verona Homemakers with a picnic, recently. The families of the Homemakers were invited and a delicious meal was spread. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Florence and grandson, Mr. and Mrs. Glendal Hicks and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Porter and children, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stephenson and daughter, and the host and hostess and children. Everyone had a laughing good time.

We extend sympathy to Miss Ida Mae Elliston in the passing of her father, Omer Elliston, of Covington. Mr. Elliston is survived by a brother, George Elliston, and a sister, Mrs. Lena Harris, and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Harris of Mineola, Mo., were visiting relatives in Verona, and attended the funeral of his uncle, last week.

We finally got up enough nerve to drive down past the train derailment over the weekend. When you are there looking at the scene around you, knowing the full story, it is still unbelievable. People who were there that night will never forget the things they saw.

Over-Loaded Circuits Mean Nothing but Trouble for Today's Modern Electrical Living.

APPLIANCES can't operate properly without adequate electricity. 8 out of 10 homes have inadequate wiring for today's requirements.

ELECTRICAL OCTOPUS over-loads circuits and lights or appliances fail to get enough electricity. Small wonder fuses frequently blow.

SOLUTION. A larger entrance panel (fuse box) supplies all the needed electricity. Appliances and TV operate at peak efficiency.

$50.00 BONUS

Members of this cooperative can earn up to $50.00 special incentive by replacing a 60 amp or smaller entrance panel (fuse box) with larger equipment. Contact our Power Use Department for details. But hurry, this is a limited offer.

DOES IT PAY TO CREEP FEED CALVES?

Mr. Frank Jackson, general manager of Ben-D-Farm, Independence, Ky., thinks so. This past spring, Mr. Jackson put 17 head of calves, weighing an average of 290 lbs. on a Purina Research approved formula of ear corn, Special Steer Fatena HB, and molasses. At the end of 84 days the calves weighed 440 lbs. Figuring the corn at $1.40 per bushel, the feed cost, including grinding and mixing, was a fraction under 12 cents per pound. Mr. Jackson compared the Purina-fed calves with a group of calves that were fed soybean meal as the supplement. The Purina-fed calves gained 22 lbs. more per day at over two cents LESS cost per pound gained. Mr. Jackson stated that the Purina-fed calves looked better in the latter stages of the test. This would indicate that the Purina-fed calves would have graded higher, resulting in more profit per calf.

BABY BEEF CALVES BRING TOP MONEY

Baby beef calves are selling exceptionally well from indications we have received. Would 50 to 100 lbs. more weight on your calves up-grade them? Will they continue to gain on the pasture they are now on? Will feeding them now still pay off? These are a few of the questions that are facing beef calf owners that plan to sell this fall. It is possible to get 2.5 to 3.5 pounds daily gain on calves with Purina Cattle Starters if they are full fed for two weeks, according to the Purina program. It will cost between 12 and 20 cents per pound of gain, depending on the size of calf. Extra weight will up-grade calves. Come in. Let's talk over a feeding program for your calves so that you can cash in on a good market this fall.

A Substitute For God

Lesson For September 18, 1966

Background: Scripture: Deuteronomy 5:16-21; Proverbs 23:1-33; Hosea 4:11-13; 7:3-7; Luke 21:34-36; Ephesians 5:15-18.

Devotional Reading: Hosea 4:1-3, 6a, 11.

In his book, Dare To Live Now!, Bruce Larson tells of an incident that happened one evening at a men's prayer group was meeting in a New York office. A man came in whom no one knew. Each man in the group assumed that the stranger had been invited by someone else in the circle. So they told him to pull up a chair and join the circle of men who were meeting for prayer and fellowship.

Rev. Althouse (*Copyrighted 1965 by Zondervan Publishing House, Grand Rapids, Michigan.)

Several of the men talked about their present troubles and struggles toward becoming whole people and effective Christians. The stranger sat and listened in silence. Finally, the leader of the group turned to the stranger and asked him to introduce himself. The group was not prepared for what they heard him say.

"My name is Paul," he said, "and I am a dope addict." While they digested that revelation he went on: "I came here to rob this office to get a fix, but I think I have found something better." Because he had heard a small group of men being honest with each other about their Christian faith, Paul stayed to pray to God and ask him to help him with his problem.

Where God Should Be

This story points to a fact that we often miss: Alcohol and narcotics may be used as substitutes for God. Narcotics occupied a place in Paul's life that should be reserved for God alone. The same is often true of alcohol. It often becomes the means whereby people try to cope with their problems and the awesome realities of life. Alcohol is often used by people as a stimulant, as a means of gaining inspiration. This, as the writer of Ephesians makes clear, is something for God's spirit alone. "And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery; but be filled with the Spirit" (Ephesians 5:18 RSV).

Alcohol or narcotics may become a person's god and provide him with a way of life—or more precisely, of death. The Japanese have a proverb:

First the man... takes the drink.

Next the drink... takes the man.

Then the drink... takes the man!

In short, it becomes a substitute for God, occupying the place in our lives that ought to be reserved for God alone.

Beyond Drunkenness

The moral issue of drink does not end with drunkenness alone. Drunkenness is harmful by itself, but it is even more significant when we consider how drunkenness may contribute to other moral failures. Drink may lead us to dishonor our father and mother, or it may be the cause of the loss of such honor before our own children. It may cause us to take the life of another human being, accidentally or willfully. It may tear down our defenses against adultery or cause us to cheat, lie or steal. It may provide the only gateway into covetous thoughts into covetous actions. If a man takes the Lord's name in vain, it is often drink that loosens his tongue.

When drink becomes a substitute for God, we violate the commandment, "You shall have no other gods before me," and we stand in danger of violating all the rest as well. Alcoholism and Christianity are competing religions. Both are a total way of life. The real answer to alcoholism, then, is not a matter of hiding the bottle, but in finding and experiencing the power of God.

Home Agent's Party Line

—by—

What kind of sheets best suits the needs of your family? You have several kinds to choose from: Lightweight or heavy; large or small; with or without finish; colored, plain white or patterned; flat or fitted. It will pay you to buy the best you can afford. They will last longer and be easier to care for and will look and feel better.

What will wear longest? Research shows that fine, lightweight percale sheets wear just as long, or longer, than heavier, coarser ones of muslin. It's the quality of the cotton that counts.

There is also a thread count. This means the number of threads woven into a square inch of the fabric. The higher the number, the better the quality. 220 in the finest; 112 is the coarsest; 180 is the most commonly used percale; 140 is the most commonly used muslin. You will want pillow cases to match.

Twin size is 72x108 inches; full size is 81x108 inches or 90x113 inches; king size, 108x113 inches or 108x122 1/2 inches. The larger the sheet the higher the price, if the quality is kept high. Read the label to see if the size is taken before or after hemming. Size of pillow cases depends on size of pillow.

Sheets should be pre-shrunk at the factory. They are sometimes labeled sanforized. This means they will not shrink more than one percent.

Permanent press sheets are now available. Some of these are a blend of cotton and polyester. Companies have improved this finish. Many people do not iron sheets anyway.

Poor quality fabric can be partly hidden by adding filling. If you rub the fabric between your fingers this can be discovered. Starch will fall out.

Most people prefer white sheets, but you can use colors that you have used somewhere else in your home.

It is wise to use pattern, with caution, or you may end up with a mixture of stripes, flowers, scenes, and borders that do not go well together. You may even get too much matching pattern. This can be very uninteresting.

Color and pattern must be used with careful planning. Pillow cases should match sheets.

Will a flat or fitted sheet serve your family best?

Flat sheets are easier to fold for storing. Fitted sheets stay in place better, but are bulkier to fold and store. You can buy a sheet with only one end fitted for use as a top sheet.

You need the exact size of the mattress when you buy sheets. Include the depth if it is fitted. Allow plenty for tucking under if it is a flat sheet.

With the start of September comes the reorganization of Home-makers Clubs in Boone County. There are 18 organized clubs in various areas of the county with an enrollment of around 300 members. Many people don't realize the real purpose of the association. The Boone County Federation of Homemakers is part of an area, state, regional, national, and international organization. Organized by the Cooperative Extension Service, one of its chief aims is education—not only of skills to aid in homemaking, but in the total needs of a modern homemaker. For example, we have the following lessons planned for this fall: Fashion Forecast, Buying Rugs and Carpets, Between-Meal Entertaining, and Framing and Hanging of Pictures. In addition to these home economics lessons, last year some clubs studied Boone County History, Highway Safety, and the Kentucky Constitution.

PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION BUILDING FOR MOREHEAD—This is the architect's sketch of a $2½ million classroom and laboratory building to be built at Morehead State University. Governor Edward T. Breathitt and Dr. Adron Doran, university president, announced that construction will begin this winter and estimated that it will be completed in December, 1967. The six-story central structure will have a three-story connecting section at the east end, housing audio-visual, television and FM radio facilities, and a nine-story connecting section on the west end, containing faculty offices and seminar spaces.

One of the greatest contributions is of the community service the clubs render. The Hebron Club members made 40 dresses for the children who attended the Head Start classes this summer. Draperies for the entire downstairs of the Tri-City YMCA were made by the Florence Club.

A little harder to measure is the leadership developed in Homemakers that permeates into the whole community. Through serving as leaders in their clubs, confidence and skills for serving as leaders in other groups is gained.

Anyone interested in organizing a club or joining an existing one call your Home Agent. Ten members are required for a new club, but I'm sure you know ten ladies who would be interested.

PTA Meets Monday At Walton School

The first Parent-Teachers meeting for the school year will be held Monday night, Sept. 26, at 7:30 p. m., in the Walton School.

A reception for the teachers, all school personnel and school board members will be held following the program and business meeting.

John Shoemaker, program chairman, will have charge of the program. It will be a non-partisan discussion on the Revision of the Kentucky Constitution. James S. Smith, Lloyd Frank and Reed Tyler, all teachers, will serve as a panel and attorney Asa M. Rouse will be the moderator. This should be of interest as it concerns all of us Kentucky citizens.

At the executive committee planning meeting last Friday, conducted by the PTA president, Mrs. Marion A. Waller, plans were made for the year. Some interesting programs are being planned. The annual event—the fall festival—was discussed. This is the money-making project of the PTA. Committees and plans will be formulated at the regular meeting Monday.

It is the obligation and duty of each parent to be interested in the school. There is no better way than to be a part of the Parent-Teachers Association. This is an organization to help the school and the children who attend. The PTA has done many things to benefit the school in the past and will continue to work for the good of the school. It takes the cooperation and interest of all parents.

Come out Monday night to the Walton school at 7:30 for this first meeting... get acquainted with all the teachers and other personnel of the school.

Special Knothole Meeting Tonight

It is true, baseball is finished for this year but there are many questions to be answered for next season.

- 1—Will we have a knothole club next year?
- 2—If not, what will happen to our fund?
- 3—Our fund is now low... will we have more financial support?
- 4—Do we have enough men willing to give up three nights a week for our youngsters in this community?
- 5—Where are we going to store our equipment and uniforms this year? We need a rather large, dry storage space as we have over 100 uniforms to pack away this winter.

The answers to these questions must be ironed out tonight (Sept. 22) at 8:00 in the Walton City Hall.

We hope to give our youngsters another summer full of activities and pleasure. Therefore, we strongly urge managers, coaches of this year's knothole clubs and all interested persons to attend this important meeting tonight at 8:00. Officers of Walton-Verona Knothole Baseball Club

The Local School District Too Small

Out of 200 school districts in Kentucky, 64 are too small to provide satisfactory educational opportunities, a Kentucky Education Association research committee has found, according to a news release from Frankfort.

The committee's findings include the fact that 32% of the state's school systems had enrollments last year that are below the minimum of 1500 students recommended by the Committee for Economic Development, a national research and educational organization of 200 executives.

Six of these schools are in the Boone-Kenton-Campbell area. The schools and enrollment, based on 1965-1966 figures, are as follows:

- Walton-Verona, 750.8; Beechwood 400.3; Ludlow, 862.5; Bellevue, 1005; Silver Grove, 427, and Southgate, 138.8.

Other school districts in this area below the 1500 requirement are Falmouth, 502.6; Gallatin County, 807.2; Williamstown, 366.9.

The education association is undertaking its own independent study of the Minimum Foundation program but it is veering in the direction of the Committee for Economic Development study in order to provide a unified school system without imposing unfair burdens on taxpayers.

The number of school districts in Kentucky has dropped materially in the past few years, brought about largely through voluntary mergers encouraged by the State Department of Education.

Schools in this area with a sufficient enrollment are: Boone County, 5,665; Covington, 7,914; Dayton, 1,516; Erlanger, 2,125; Fort Thomas, 1,862; Grant County, 1,718; Kenton County, 7,433; Newport, 4,047; Owen County, 1,649; Pendleton County, 1,805.

Easy Trick Makes Vegetables Tastier

SPARKLING FRUIT FLAVOR GELATIN gives any fruit or vegetable a lift—both in flavor and appearance. Even a few leftover cooked or canned Lima beans, as in this Marinated Vegetable Salad, taste entirely different when combined with diced tomato and a little celery, onion, and seasoning in lemon flavor gelatin. A trick used here to insure well-seasoned vegetables is one you'll want to use again and again—just mix the vegetables and seasonings and let stand while the gelatin is being chilled until thickened. That gives the vegetables time to absorb the seasonings and makes every bite of the salad as flavorful as the first.

MARINATED VEGETABLE SALAD

1 package (3 oz.) Jell-O Lemon Gelatin 1/2 cup diced celery
 1 cup boiling water 1/2 teaspoon grated onion
 1 cup cold water 2 tablespoons vinegar
 1 cup diced tomato 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup cooked Lima beans 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water. Chill until thickened. Meanwhile, combine vegetables and seasonings and let stand about 30 minutes to marinate. Fold vegetables into the thickened gelatin. Pour into a 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with additional tomato wedges and salad greens, if desired. Makes about 3-1/2 cups or 6 servings.

One of the Kentucky beef cattle industry's biggest problems is the low percentage calf crop being weaned. A low percentage calf crop not only affects the income of the producer, but also affects the income of other cattlemen by lowering the number of available calves that would normally be purchased for further grazing and feeding.

Let's look at the dollars and cents involved in a calf crop in Kentucky. On January 1, 1966, Kentucky had 827,000 brood cows and allowing $100 per calf at weaning (500 pounds at 20 cents) we see that each 10 percent loss in calves weaned is costing calf producers about $8,270,000.

In Kentucky the cost of keeping a brood cow for one year is about $80 per head. This figure will vary from area to area across the state depending on price of land, taxes, labor, feed cost, etc. But on the average, $80.00 is nearly correct. With these dollar and cents figures in mind, consider for a minute the case of a beef producer in Kentucky who had 60 cows, produced an 80 percent calf crop, and weaned calves weighing 500 lbs. Using these figures it cost this man $4,800 (60 times $80) to keep his cows. He, then, could realize only $4,800 (48 calves weighing 400 lbs. at $20 cwt.) if he sold all calves, thus just breaking even in 1965.

Kentucky's cash receipts from farm products in 1965 amounted to $702,767,000, the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service said last week.

The 1965 figure was about 6% under the record set in 1964 ($748,127,000) but 9% above 1963, the report says.

Livestock and products accounted for 52.8% of total receipts, sharply higher than the 43.6% in 1964. This increase kept total cash receipts from registering an even sharper decline.

The report said receipts from sale of crops in 1965 were $331,987,000, 21% under the 1964 total ($422,533,000). Lower cash receipts from sale of tobacco accounted for most of this decline. Tobacco accounted for only 36.3% of all farm products compared with 46.7% in 1964. This was due to the combined effect of a sizeable carryover of the 1963 crop sold in 1964 and a larger-than-normal percent of the 1964 crop sold that year.

Receipts from cattle and calves, $157,658,000 were up 16% from 1964 ($135,723,000). Dairy products remained third and hogs were 4th in total sales. Due to declining tobacco acreage, total cash receipts from cattle, calves and the dairy products passed receipts from tobacco for the first time.

Tobacco accounted for 36.3% of receipts, cattle and calves 22.4, dairy products 13.9, hogs 10.8, eggs and other livestock products 58% corn 3.4%, soybeans 2.4% and other crops 5.1%.

The Kentucky Department of Child Welfare placed a record number of 511 children in adoptive homes in the 1965-66 fiscal year.

STOP! YOU'RE TAKING A CHANCE!

If you've been in the habit of "bookin'" your cattle feed before new-crop information is available, you have been taking a chance with your feedlot results as well as brood cow caring cost. You make money by producing the lowest cost pound of beef, not by saving pennies on "cheaper," less efficient supplement or ration. A good bookin' means nothing unless the feed itself is of high quality. So why not wait until you have talked with us about Purina's feeding programs. They contain supplements "built-to-fit" your own particular grain and roughages. Or complete Cattle Chows that can save you work and may cut feeding costs. Ask us also how you can protect your cost with Purina's Trim Price Plan.

NEW RATION DEVELOPED FOR GROWING FOALS

How fast can a young horse grow? Growing foals, like other growing animals, respond to good nutrition in building bone, muscle and body tissue. Ralston Purina Company's Horse Research Center at the Purina Research Farm in Gray Summit, Missouri, has been conducting many and varied tests with experimental rations to increase foal growth at a young age. The new feed called Purina "BIG UN," a pelleted feed, has been developed to grow young horses as rapidly and fully as possible up to 18 months of age. During a recent nursing period test conducted under the supervision of the Purina Research Staff, the test foals grew more than 1 1/2 inches in height per month, more than 2 1/2 inches in length per month, over 3 inches in heart girth per month and gained more than 2 pounds per day in body weight. These particular experiments were conducted with registered American Quarter Horses. We have new Purina "BIG UN" in stock now.

STIMULATE RUMEN BACTERIA

One sure way to stimulate rumen bacteria so as to digest fall pastures, green chop and early silage is to feed or mix in your ration Purina Golden Bulky. It stimulates rumen bacteria that aids digestion, supplies cows with extra Vitamin A, minerals and carbohydrates, acts as a tonic and increases the appetite appeal of any dairy ration. It's bulky...six bushels per 100 lbs. It makes an excellent feeder and dry cow ration when mixed with grain 50-50. Dairywomen in Northern Kentucky used more than 400,000 lbs. of Purina Golden Bulky during the month of August. Why not give it a try?

PRE-CALVING FEEDING

IMPORTANT IN PERFORMANCE

Dr. Merle Cunningham, Purdue University, says that first calf heifers need adequate nutrition for their growth and for their developing calf, and "poor pastures cannot meet these needs." Cunningham says most heifers need 4-6 lbs. of a low protein grain ration during the last 60-90 days before calving. During the last 30 days, he suggests feeding these heifers in the same manner that the best dry cows are fed. Purina D&F Chow or Purina Golden Bulky mixed 50-50 with grain can do an excellent job of feeding heifers and dry cows before freshening.

Florence Edgington, Reporter

Mrs. Ellena Hamilton and two children, Freddy and Karen, were Sunday dinner guests of her mother, Mrs. Flossie Greenwell, of Erlanger.

The WMU ladies of New Bethel Baptist Church observed the Week of Prayer for State Missions, Monday through Friday, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Lillian Stephenson was calling on Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilson, Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Cornett have been visiting relatives in the mountains for a few days.

There are lots of men cutting tobacco in this vicinity this week.

We were sorry to hear of Paul Smith getting a piece of steel in one of his eyes last Wednesday and had to have his eye operated on. Hope his operation was not too serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Kent are the proud parents of a new baby boy, born last Sunday morning. He has been named David Byron. Mrs. Pearl Lamm returned to her home here in Verona, after spending three weeks near Louisville, with relatives.

Shelbyville is the birthplace of Alice Hegan Rice, author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch."

THE OVERLOOKED
PROFIT OPPORTUNITY

At the first meeting of the Kentucky Forage Council, it was pointed out that the average acre of pasture in the State yields only 1800 lbs. of dry matter annually. It takes 5 tons of dry matter to maintain one mature animal unit for one year. So we're now using over six acres to support a single milk cow or beef steer.

It could be done with two acres.

How? By managing and feeding grassland according to the same principles we use to increase production of tobacco or corn.

Will it pay? If you use the additional grass to produce more milk or meat, and cut your feed bills, you can realize up to $100 per acre on pasture, and a $4 to $5 return on every $1 you invest in fertilizer for grass.

Start Now

Fall is the best time to spread lime and plant food on pasture. Firm soil supports spreading equipment and prevents compacting the soil. It also gives the time and fertilizing elements time to go to work to give you two weeks earlier grazing next spring.

A soil test is an invaluable guide on how much to use. It will show the pH value of your fields now and the amount of lime needed to make the fertilizer give the greatest results. The test will also enable you to apply the right amount of plant food.

With proper management and sufficient fertilizer, neglected pastures can feed 2 to 3 times as many animals.

Renovate if Necessary

If your pastures have been neglected for some time, disc the old sod as soon as the lime and fertilizer have been put on. Leave it rough for freeze and thaw breakdown, then seed in early spring with a good mixture of grass and legumes.

Management Program

To keep established pastures in prime condition, mow early and as often as necessary through the growing season to prevent seed formation and control weeds. Rotate grazing to allow for rest and recovery on a regular schedule. Harrow or disc once or twice each year to scatter manure piles and aerate the soil. Top dress annually to keep fertility high and apply lime every fourth year.

Fall is the ideal time to spread lime and fertilizer on grass.

This will not only give you more forage but better quality forage. Well fed, well managed pastures are high in protein and TDN. That means more milk or meat from the same intake and less expense for supplemental feeding.

Utilization

For greatest return, plan to use all the new grass you produce. You can do this by increasing herd size, by harvesting surplus forage for winter use, or by buying and selling livestock according to periods of peak pasture production.

Start now to treat your pasture as a money crop. It will pay you well!

Notes On Medicare

Individuals age 65 and over who need help in filing their claims for Medicare benefits can secure this assistance free of charge from especially trained personnel by contacting the Covington Social Security district office located at 309 Garrard Street.

The Medicare program consists of two parts: (1) Hospital Benefits and (2) Medical Benefits.

Your Medicare program will help pay for hospital care when your doctor sends you to any hospital taking part in the health insurance program. The patient will not have to file a claim for his hospital expenses. The hospital files the claim and Medicare pays directly to the hospital. The hospital may, however, bill the patient for the $40.00 deductible and for other services not covered under the program.

Under the Medical Benefits, you pay a premium of $3.00 monthly and the Government pays an equal amount. Your medical insurance will help pay your doctors' bills for services received after you have incurred medical expenses amounting to $50.00. Personnel at the nearest Social Security office will assist—free of charge—anyone who needs help in filing his claim.

Winds of Change in Autumn Beauty

Sweeping in with the brilliant Autumn breeze, a new look in young sophistication. Summer's lazy laissez-faire gives way to Autumn's heightened vitality. Alice-in-Wonderland manes take on a grown-up air with the addition of an Infante switch. Fashions defy cold weather with hot autumn-leaf shades of red, orange, yellow and plum, and complexions must hold their own against such onslaughts of color with the addition of blushing cheek tints. Lips echo the gold of harvest time and huge October moons. Coty's new golden Cremesticks add elegance to innocence with "Spanish Gold," a warm, glowing rose; "Fool's Gold," luscious caramel; and "Gone Gold," pure precious gold to be worn alone, over or under other shades.

Selecting and Buying Meat

What is a Market Steak, Spencer Steak, Beauty Steak, Delmonico Steak, Center Cut Steak, Club Steak, Country Club Steak, or Regular Roll Steak? Would you believe that all the names are used to describe the rib eye roast or steaks?

With the rising cost of meat, everyone is interested in being an informed shopper. "Selecting and Buying Meat" will be the topic of the Area Extension meeting to be held September 29, 10:00 to 12:00 noon at the Community Room in the First National Bank in Carrollton, Ky. Mrs. Letta Jasper, Extension Specialist in Marketing, U. of K., will present the information.

The meeting is open to the public and you're invited to bring a guest.

The meeting is sponsored by the Northern Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service, composed of eight counties: Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Pendleton, Grant, Gallatin, Carroll, and Owen.

Chicken Soup Cookout Planned by Boone VFW

The Boone County Memorial V. F. W. Post, No. 6099, and its auxiliary are having their annual chicken soup cookout on Sunday, September 25, at 1:30 p. m., rain or shine, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Butler, 1 1/2 miles beyond Union, on U. S. 42.

The affair is given annually as a kick-off for the annual membership drive. It is a good opportunity for members and friends to get acquainted and has proven to be an enjoyable day of fun and activities, and the soup is delicious.

Families of members of Boone County Memorial VFW and Auxiliary have been invited to attend and bring their friends.

It is estimated that the average man has 12 million brain cells—most of them unemployed.

Kenton Elementary PTA Holds Meeting

The first meeting of the Kenton Elementary PTA was held at the school Thursday, September 15th with Mrs. Ronald Gray presiding.

A very challenging devotion on the "Christian Home" was given by Rev. Colburn Hooten, pastor of Hickory Grove Baptist Church.

Mr. F. D. Caton, principal, announced a present enrollment of 587 pupils in the school. He introduced the faculty and cafeteria staff to the assembly.

Mrs. Gray introduced the executive board for the year and asked all parents to co-operate in their efforts to obtain the necessary funds for installation of educational TV.

A very informative program in the form of a panel discussion was presented by teachers of the school. Principal Caton acted as moderator and serving on the panel were Miss Mary Jane Cooper, first grade teacher, Mrs. Wayne Bailey, third grade teacher, and Mrs. Hubert Baird, fifth grade teacher. Subjects such as homework, grading, educational TV and discipline were discussed. The teachers informed the parents how they can best help with such problems.

Mrs. Bailey's room won the attendance award. Total attendance for the evening was 184.

Those representing Kenton Elementary at the Kenton County Council meeting on Monday, September 19 at the Covington YWCA were Mrs. Ronald Gray, Mrs. Art O'Brien and Mrs. Willard Slade.

W-V Band Boosters Thank Knotholers

We received the following item from Mrs. Edward Lay, treasurer of the Band Boosters, in regard to the Knothole League boys playing for the benefit of the Boosters Club:

"The Knothole boys and their fine managers and coaches, plus the backing of our good businessmen of the Walton-Verona area, helped the Band Boosters have a successful evening recently."

"Not only did they provide an evening of fine entertainment, but contributed a generous donation to the badly depleted Walton-Verona band uniform fund."

"This goes to prove one thing—our band still has friends and good people behind us who rally-round in time of need. The Band Boosters are truly grateful to all who helped in any way."

"Many bands have sponsors. We haven't been quite that lucky yet, but who knows, we may one day have that too."

"We did receive a nice sized donation from Col. Sanders, for which we are most grateful."

"Thank you, Softball League, for the use of your field and lunch stand."

"Below is a list of business men who made donations and of the managers and coaches who worked with these Knothole boys this summer:

"Businessmen: Dixon's Barber Shop, Travis Dunn, Coyle's Store, Walton Food Locker, Walton Ice House, Sam's Place, Walton Bowl, Brakefield Drugs, Walton IGA, Model Food Store, Guy St. Clair, Tom's Potato Chip Co.
"Managers: Bill King, George Raybourne, Myrick Crouch, Jess Edwards, Robert Karsner, Robert Coyle, Eugene Robinson.
"Coaches: Joe Sargent, William Boyers, Neil Ferguson, Charles Grant, William Disney."

A—All income, including interest from bank accounts, must be reported to the VA in the year received.

Q—I bought a home with a GI loan in 1952. My wife is now confined to a wheel chair, and cannot maneuver steps to the basement or to the second floor. Can I sell this home and buy another one-story home with a GI loan?

A—Your wife's disability is a compelling reason for selling your present home. But the VA must be released from all financial liability on the first property. Contact your VA Regional Office for details.

WORM CATTLE NOW

Now is an excellent time to worm cattle. If you have recently purchased feeder cattle or additional brood cows chances are that 90% of them are infested with worms. This was recently brought out by an extensive veterinary study of Midwestern cattle herds. A worming with new Purina Worm-Kill containing Thibenzole should add about .16 lb. extra gain per head per day more than unwormed animals. A 500-lb. steer will need 2 lbs. of Worm-Kill Checkers. Cost will be about a $1.00 for an extra weight gain worth around $3.80 over a 120-day feeding period... plus almost $1.00 improvement in feed conversion. A dollar invested in Purina Worm-Kill Checkers will return almost $5.00 in 120 days! Purina Worm-Kill Checkers can be used to worm pregnant cows, cattle under stress, and cattle that are on full feed. See us today for a program to rid your cattle of profit-robbing worms.

NEW FROM PURINA DAIRY RESEARCH

Now you can grow earlier freshening replacements fast with new Purina Calf Growers. Purina Calf Growers is a specially formulated dry calf ration to help you grow herd replacements fast, breed them early, freshen them between 22 and 24 months... to take advantage of high milk prices. Calf Growers helps you feed calves at low cost from 2 to 6 months, yet gives them the protein and energy they demand. It's fortified with vitamins and minerals growing calves need. Calf Growers is a sweet and tasty coarse ration too... the kind calves really clean up. New Calf Growers "teams up" with Nursing Chow and Calf Startena to give you a new, low-cost and fast-growth program. We will have this product within a week... so plan to put all your calves that are two months or older on new Purina Calf Growers... you will like the price, too.

WHEN FALL PASTURES ARE SHORT AND TOUGH

When summer pastures are short and tough or brown and dry, they lack the nutrients your cows need for top production. Purina Golden Bulky helps give your cows the vitamins, minerals and other important ingredients they need. Golden Bulky is fortified with vitamins A and D to help provide dry and milking cows with the nutrition they need for high production. It's sweet and tasty... high in molasses... a ration even finicky cows will clean up readily. It's light and bulky too—100 pounds fills 6 bushel baskets! You'll like Golden Bulky because it can be fed so many ways. Top feed it over your regular milking ration or add it to your home-grown grains to boost nutrition, add bulk and increase tastability. Whether your herd is large or small, versatile Golden Bulky is designed to help dairy-men save money with their feeding programs.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
International Union Sunday School Lessons
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE
Attention Please!
Lesson For October 2, 1966

Background Scripture: Isaiah 1:6.
Devotional Reading: Psalms 40:1-10.
A farmer was selling a mule to his neighbor. He had made a point of assuring the buyer that the mule was very co-operative and responded nicely to gentle commands.
When the time came for the farmer to take the mule out of the barn to present him to his new owner, the mule balked, refusing to move an inch. Finally, the farmer picked up a shovel and Rev. Althouse struck him a blow on the head. "Hey!" shouted his neighbor, "I thought you said he responds to gentle commands!" "He does," answered the farmer calmly, "but first you have to get his attention."
Getting our attention may well be one of God's greatest problems. Often it is only when life has struck us some staggering blow that we are ready to respond to his gentle commands.
When King Died
Perhaps this is the way it was with the prophet Isaiah. He makes a point of telling us that it was "In the year that King Uzziah died I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up" (Isaiah 6:1). Perhaps it was only in the midst of his despair over the death of his king that God was able to get his attention.
I was a teenager when President Franklin D. Roosevelt died in 1945. For many of my generation this death was hard to grasp and accept, for we had never known another president, having been too young to remember Herbert Hoover. Many of us found it difficult to understand how the nation could go on in the great war without its leader of so many years. In my children's generation history has repeated itself in the sudden, tragic death of John F. Kennedy.
This must have been what the people of Uzziah's kingdom experienced when he died. Many of his subjects could not remember any other king for he had ruled for over half a century. Under his leadership the country had become prosperous and powerful. Now, they were wondering: who would be able to fill his shoes?
These, then, may have been some of the thoughts on Isaiah's mind when he went that day to the temple — the day when God was able to reach him and get his attention.
Who Will Go For Us?
In the temple Isaiah was reminded of something that all of us tend to forget: Important as are the Uzziah's, presidents, generals, kings, and statesmen of this world, it is the eternal God who reigns over it. The passing of a great leader is a tragic loss to any nation, but that nation is not lost if it still has its God. Sometimes it takes the depths of personal or national tragedy in order for God to get our attention.
Why had God waited until the year that Uzziah died to speak with Isaiah? Why is it that we must experience some tragedy in our lives or grapple with some great problem before he comes face to face with us? The answer is that it is only in the midst of something like this that we are often willing to listen to him. God is constantly calling to us, again and again trying to communicate with us, but it is often hard for him to get our attention.
God had finally gotten Isaiah's attention. The resulting visionary experience in the temple was the high moment of Isaiah's life. In it he caught a fleeting glimpse of the glory and holiness of God. In it he experienced liberation from his guilt and sin. God-the-far-away had in this moment become God-the-close-at-hand. But there was to be more to this experience: "Who will go for us?" (Isaiah 6:8). He was being given both a vision and a task.
Someone has said:
A vision without a task is a dream;
A task without a vision is a drudgery;
A vision and a task is the hope of the world.
God is constantly seeking to gain our attention so that he may give us both a vision to lift us up and a task to send us forth.

apologize if I get a little personal about my absence from our fine county paper. I want you to know that I have really been sick, so bad that sometimes it would have been a relief to just be out of it all and be at peace, with no more suffering and troubles over. Then you began to feel much better and the pendulum begins to swing the other way and you are just as anxious to live as you were to die. You begin to feel better and things look rosy again as an old friend drops in and says "Hurry up and get well—we miss your column." Well, so much for that, so now we will see what's new, so we can give you a few items of real news.
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dorsey, who returned from a visit to their son, Major R. M. Dorsey, in Germany, three weeks ago, mailed some packages to their home here, received the first one this week, and have another one coming, mailed at the same time. Most of the articles are souvenirs of their trip—things you can't buy in this country. This writer received a card of 5 coins from different countries over there, also a fancy stein for my coffee.
Very little tobacco has been cut here, but the weather is all that is keeping it back as it is all ready for housing as son as the weather is favorable.
The Tower now has a home for senior citizens. The ad appeared in last week's Advertiser.
We were sorry to lose our good neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Burke, as they have moved to their new home in Latonia.
Ott Inabitt has had several offers for his home here. He is thinking of moving to Wisconsin, where he has relatives.
The writer and wife and daughter, Mrs. Maud Brumback, made a tour of Boone County last week and visited Frank Biddle and family of East Bend Road—more about this later.
The Kentucky Department of Child Welfare was established in 1960.

AN ETERNAL FORCE

The wind is like the power of God. It is invisible — you can neither see nor touch it. And yet it will carry a sailboat skimming across the waves with all the beauty and grace and freedom of a seagull.
But whereas the wind may die and leave you drifting aimlessly and helplessly with the tide, the strength of God remains eternally steadfast.
It is through the Church that man is given understanding of this Power. For by worshipping God he can acquire the spiritual insight which gives fuel to his soul and purpose for his pursuits.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Farmers' income has increased recently—but without harm to consumers or the food industry.

This remarkable accomplishment—few industries' individual incomes rise without passing part of it to consumers—now gives Americans the lowest food cost in its history.

USDA officials recently pointed this out. The average family spends about 18 percent of its after-tax pay on food. This is the lowest average in the world and the lowest in U. S. history. In 1947 this same family spent 26 percent of its take-home pay for food. As recently as 1960, it spent 20 percent.

If present take-home pay levels spent for food had remained the same as in 1947, the nation would add $35 billion to its food bill. This would be about $750 for a family of four.

Today, an hour of factory earnings buys 12.5 pounds of white bread, compared to 11.1 pounds in 1960. It buys 2.4 pounds of round steak, against 1960's 2.1 pounds; 3.2 pounds of sliced bacon against 3.5 pounds in 1960; 3.5 pounds of butter, against 3 pounds; 9.9 quarts of milk, against 8.7 quarts; 5 dozen eggs against 3.9 dozen; 27.8 pounds of potatoes, against 31.4 pounds, and 16.2 cans of tomatoes, against 14.2 cans.

Fall treated plant beds bring dividends the next spring. The job (treating sites for weed control) will be out of the way. And fall treatment is as effective as spring treatment.

Use a fertile, well-drained area entirely free from shade. Plow the bed at least two weeks before treatment, earlier if possible, to eliminate air pockets and bring weed seed to the surface. Work the bed according to the sterilization method you'll use—for burning, knock the top off the dirt turned

Revival at Kenton Baptist

Revival services will be held at the Kenton Baptist Church, Kenton, October 2 through 4, with services each evening at 7:30.

The evangelist will be Rev. C. R. Rader, who will be assisted by the pastor, Rev. Buford Dunavent.

There will be special music each evening, and you are invited to attend and hear good singing and gospel preaching.

Be Sure Your "Warranty" Really Gives Security...

In the marketplace you will find that a warranty really only is as good as the people behind it.

Don't be misled by impressive certificates or high-sounding names and phrases. A NATIONAL WARRANTY or NATIONWIDE WARRANTY may not mean that the warranty is honored throughout the UNITED STATES as you might assume. It MAY be good only with a company named NATIONAL or an organization called NATIONWIDE. There may be but one or two members of the organization or association and the company may have no branches and no other outlets.

There is no magic in a warranty. It provides no more security than a careful reading of its terms discloses—and that may be none.

Ask questions, read fully, think before closing an important deal or making a major purchase.

Soil temperature should be at least 50 degrees F. for any method and be sure soil is dry enough to work.

Record Enrollment at UK

The University of Kentucky's total fall semester enrollment now stands at 20,900, about 2,300 higher than a year ago.

The present over-all figure includes 13,802 students on the Lexington campus; 5,533 in the nine community colleges and the Lexington Technical Institute—620 who are enrolled for credit in the Evening Class Program, and 825 in extension classes.

Peony division, digging tender bulbs and planting hardy ones, are chores for late September or into November. Other fall chores might include checking for desirable hardy chrysanthemum varieties. You might enjoy seeing the Flower Trial Gardens, sponsored by the U. K. Department of Horticulture during the first half of October. It's time to build compost piles or pits with leaves, fertilizing lawns, shrubs and trees; planting shrubs and trees, and preparing roses and other plants for winter.

Peonies can be dug, divided and reset from late September into November. Earlier setting will give more time for new root growth before winter. Divide the roots with the aid of a heavy knife until 3 to 5 eye (bud) divisions result.

If too many eyes are left on a moderately-sized division, the stem growth next spring will be weaker.

Peonies should be set where they will have full sun about three-quarters of the day. If the soil in your area is not high in phosphorus, mix phosphate in it at planting time. Peonies should be planted with the eyes about one inch below the soil surface, never deeper. Water the newly set division well.

Tender bulbs, such as tuberous begonias, calladiums, callas, canas, and dahlias should be dug as soon as possible after frost has killed their tops. Gladiolus tops are more freeze-resistant and may need to be dug before the tops are killed. Usual digging time for these plants is in October, though gladiolus can be left in the ground until November. Late digging may run into soggy soil and problems of drying off and curing the bulbs for storage.

Hardy spring flowering bulbs should be planted from September through October for best results. Narcissus (daffodils, etc.) should be planted as soon as the bulbs become available in September. Tulip planting should be delayed until October to reduce the probability of top growth in the fall. The other less well known bulbs can be planted any time during these two months.

Delay planting into November or even December, if you wish, but bulbs which are held in warm stores until then often give poorer results than earlier planted bulbs. Indirect relation to the length of delay.

Most lilies should be fall-planted. The same precautions about delaying planting should be followed.

Local PTA Meet Is Well Attended

The first PTA meeting of the Walton-Verona School was well attended last Monday night at the local school, when about 200 parents and teachers were on hand.

The president, Mrs. Marion A. Waller, presided. Committee chairmen were named: Mrs. Walt Ryan, Home Room; Hospitality, Mrs. Mike Ryan; Publicity, Mrs. Clayton Jones; Membership, Mrs. Edward Lay; Devotional, J. B. McCubbin; Fall Festival, Mrs. Joseph Sargent.

Several parents and teachers volunteered to help with the Fall Festival, to be held Friday, Oct. 28 at the Walton School gymnasium. This Fall Festival or Halloween Party is the big money-making project of the PTA, so if you can help, call Mrs. Sargent, 485-4954, and offer your services.

Teachers, lunchroom ladies, school board members, and other school personnel present were introduced by Mrs. Waller.

J. B. McCubbin had the devotional and Mr. Shoemaker introduced the program, which was a non-partisan film on the proposed revision of the Kentucky Constitution. This film was presented and comments made by Jim Roberts of Frankfort, and Attorney Asa M. Rouse, Walton.

Following the program, refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

The president appreciated this excellent attendance and urges that a good attendance continue throughout the school year in order to support the teachers, the school, and officers of the organization.

Fire Prevention Week Oct. 9-15

Fire killed 1,000 people a month in this country last year, according to National Fire Protection Association estimates. Nearly a third of these were children.

More than $1.7 billion worth of property—including homes and churches, stores and factories—went up in smoke during 1965.

The tragedy of these statistics, Walton Fire Chief "Chick" Worthington pointed out, is that the greater part of this waste of lives and property is avoidable. If the simple rules of fire safety were observed at home and on the job, the record could be far different.

Fire Prevention Week, which this year falls in the period October 9-15, re-emphasizes that fighting fires is everyone's job, during this weekend throughout the year.

Local observance of Fire Prevention Week is sponsored by the Walton Volunteer Fire Department, Chaif Worthington said.

Proclaimed by the President of the United States and the Governor General of Canada, the week is internationally sponsored by the National Fire Protection Ass'n.

Kentucky leads the nation in the number of highway contracts financed without Federal funds, the Dept. of Highways reports.

CHECK FOR DEAF CHILDREN

The Council for Deaf Children of Northern Kentucky was presented a check recently by the Kenco Jaycettes. This check was made possible through the proceeds of a Stanley Home Products party and the Kenton County Fair booth, which were both sponsored by the Kenco Jaycettes.

Mr. Brown aspires to the Senate seat now held by Republican John Sherman Cooper, while Mr. Moloney is running for Congress from the new Fourth District.

The former governor spoke to some 200 party stalwarts at a fund-raising dinner held in the cafeteria of Boone County High School.

Mr. Combs predicted that a lot of "intelligent, liberal Republicans" would vote for Brown and Moloney in November.

Mr. Moloney was present and in his talk cited the record of the Democratic party over the years.

Mrs. Dixie Lee gave a spirited speech in favor of Mr. Moloney, and State Senator Tom Harris, of Carrollton, spoke briefly and predicted victory for Mr. Brown and Mr. Moloney.

R. V. Lents of Florence, and George W. (Ab) Ryan of Walton, shared honors in the introduction of party dignitaries.

If the Democrats work as well as they feed, it should be "in the bag."

WHITES TOWER

Mrs. Ralph Howard, Reporter

The busy season is here—everyone is hauling something in, the results of the harvest. Although we have had a dry summer, it seems there is a lot to be thankful for from the gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Fox, managers of Holiday Cleaners at the Cherokee Center, left last week, being transferred to the Iowa store. We will have a new manager. We hated to see them leave but wish them success at their new place.

Mrs. Al Knasel of Sipple Drive, spent one day recently with Mrs. Ralph Howard at the Tower. Our sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Ona Cavanaugh of Staffordsburg, who passed away recently at Wilder Rest Home, where she had made her home for quite some time, after falling and breaking her hip. Not being able to manipulate crutches, she was more or less bedfast.

By Robert Matthews, Attorney General

Advertisement Coupon Should Disclose "Limited Quantity"

Unfair trade practices are not confined to "fly-by-night" operators. They creep into business in high places and low.

One such practice was brought to the attention of this office in a letter from an irate customer who charged that a certain chain drug firm runs advertisements containing coupons for free merchandise or merchandise at tremendous bargains and then when she attempts to redeem the coupon, "have none left."

When the advertisement doesn't disclose the quantity is limited, if such is the situation, it is deceptive and has been denounced as an unfair trade practice.

The customer in this case quite properly, in addition to reporting the matter to the Consumer Protection Division of the Attorney General's Office, refused to patronize the advertiser further.

Such indignation can forge a powerful consumer weapon.

The distinctive colors worn by jockeys in thoroughbred horse racing are not just haphazard. You can't tell one horse from another on the far side of the track, but you can identify them by the jockey's colors.

National 4-H Club Week was observed by about 1500 members in Boone County, September 25 to October 2. The head-heart, hands-health youth are among 2½ million members of 94,800 clubs in rural, small town, urban and suburban areas throughout the 50 States and Puerto Rico.

Among aims of this year's 4-H Week observance were to encourage more young people, 9 to 19 years of age, to join or form 4-H Clubs; acquaint more parents with 4-H and enlist their cooperation; urge a larger number of capable, public-spirited men and women to volunteer as 4-H leaders; recognize the important part played by friends of 4-H locally and nationally, and express appreciation to them.

Aiding club members with 4-H Week events here and elsewhere were 367,000 local leaders who guide 4-H work in their communities throughout the country. They were also assisted by 138,000 older 4-H'ers, called junior leaders.

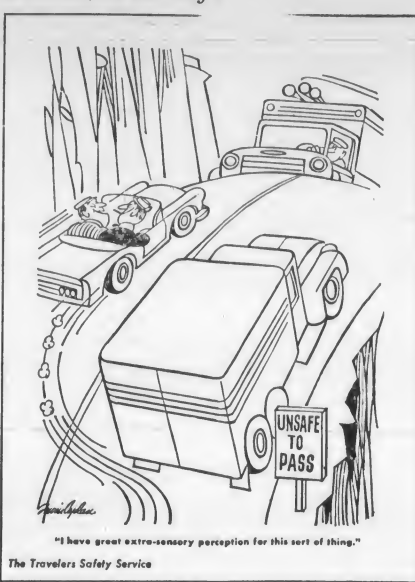

Four-H Clubs are, among other things, not only training grounds for the farm people of tomorrow, but have many members right here in Suburbia. They instill a healthy competitive spirit in boys and girls who make up their membership.

They teach wholesome regard for nature and her processes. They provide knowledge that is essential to sound and profitable farming and to conservation of our magnificent agricultural resources. And they promote love and understanding of the land and all elements that are a part of the land.

They build character, honesty, honor, good sportsmanship, individual and group achievement, kindness, tolerance—these are the qualities and goals that the 4-H movement emphasizes and helps to create and sustain. Nothing could be more worthwhile or more deserving of our support and our respect.

Donnell. Requiem High Mass was held at 9:30 a. m., Wednesday at St. Cecilia Church, Independence, with burial in Mother of God Cemetery. The Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home, Walton, had charge of arrangements.

Alfalfa fields need regular fertilization schedules for top yields. The main reason is that alfalfa takes heavily from the soil. A good crop, for each ton of alfalfa produced, will take about 100 pounds of agricultural limestone, 12 lbs. of phosphate, 45 pounds of potash and two pounds of borax. Minerals removed must be replaced by natural release in the soil and by top-dress application of fertilizer.

Soil of established stands should be tested every two years, as soil tests are the best way to determine nutrient and mineral needs.

If the tests call for phosphate and potash, or only one of these, they should be applied every year. Borax is recommended for all established fields in Kentucky.

Fertilizer can be applied any time during the year, but fall and winter applications are considered good times because of convenience and ease of application.

Keep any type of rubber bands out of tobacco going to market. When rubber bands are used for tying hands or leaves, they sometimes get into the manufacturing process. The bands cause a distinctive, disagreeable off-flavor in manufactured tobacco products.

Manufacturers for a number of years have requested that all rubber bands be removed because of the manufacturing difficulties. Rubber bands in purchased tobacco means many buyers will class it as "unsound tobacco." Graders also can designate the tobacco as

If your land needs agricultural limestone to change soil acidity levels, apply it this fall. Then it will be reacting with the soil during winter months and be of more benefit to next year's crop. In fall ground is drier and firmer and will support lime-spreading equipment easier than in the spring. Producers and haulers also find it more convenient to deliver limestone during fall months.

Tobacco fields with a pH level (soil acidity) of 6.0 or below need lime soon after the crop is harvested.

Use fine-ground limestone. A good grind is where at least 45% of the ground limestone will pass through a 50-mesh screen. If coarser material is used, amount applied to fields should be increased 25 percent.

Nation's 300,000th M.D. To Be A 'Family Doctor'

NORMAN, Okla.—The nation's 300,000th physician was graduated from medical school in June at the University of Oklahoma School of Medicine.

Jerry Dean Leu, 29, of Alva, Okla., plans to become a smalltown "family doctor." First, however, he will go on for four more years of internship and residency training in internal medicine.

Dr. Leu's graduation marks a medical milestone—the first time 300,000 physicians have been available to serve Americans. The number of M.D.'s in the U.S. now is increasing faster than the general population. The ratio is better than one physician for every 680 people, compared to one for every 737 in 1960. By 1975, the AMA estimates, the ratio will be down to one physician for every 638 persons.

Even more physicians are needed to meet an insatiable demand for medical services, the American Medical Association says. The increase in demand for medical services has come about through a growing health consciousness on the part of the public, scientific advances in medicine, new government health programs and the growth in population, the AMA pointed out.

Becoming a doctor wasn't easy for Jerry Leu.

"When I was in high school, I wanted to go to medical school, but I had doubts about my ability and whether I could obtain the necessary funds," he said.

Dr. Leu said his wife's work and loans through the AMA's Education and Research Foundation and the Oklahoma State Medical Association made it possible to obtain his degree.

He was accepted for medical school in 1962 after graduation from Northwestern State College, Alva, and Air Force service as a medical research technician.

"I want to establish a family-type practice in a smaller town of 15,000 to 30,000 population," Dr. Leu said. "Why a family practice? It's hard to explain. I want to know my patients—know them as individuals and as families."

He plans to take his internship at the University Hospital, University of Oklahoma Medical Center.

Delinquency Study Completed In State

Attorney General Robert Matthews has announced the completion of a statewide juvenile delinquency study and set forth an unusual plan to deal with the delinquency problem.

The study, conducted in cooperation with the Kentucky Department of Child Welfare and the state's county judges, revealed that Kentucky young people between the ages of 9 and 17, committed more than 10,000 crimes which were officially disposed of by juvenile courts last year. This amounts to a rate of 18 offenses per 1,000 young people—compared with a national rate of 11 per 1,000.

Matthews said he hopes that his efforts to put together what he called "the first accurate profile of juvenile delinquency in Kentucky" will mark the beginning of an up-to-date system of juvenile records for the state.

The Attorney General said that the response from the county judges in making the study was excellent and that several high-ranking Washington officials have encouraged his work.

To combat Kentucky's juvenile delinquency problem, Matthews said he is calling a statewide youth conference. He believes that by bringing together young people from all over the state for an interchange of ideas, the young people could come up with projects to take back to their local communities.

Matthews said that the search for young delegates was under way. He said it will be a three-day conference and hopes that it can be held at one of the centrally located state universities.
